Conciliation And Confession:

Conciliation and Confession Howard Louthan, Randall C. Zachman, 2004 Religious conciliators have always faced resistance and critique as they mediate between groups devoted to ideological agendas that leave little room for maneuver and negotiation From the conciliar to the confessional age the normal challenges that peacemakers perennially face were magnified The church was divided and there did not appear to be any obvious solution to the crisis that had begun in the late fourteenth century with the Great Western Schism 1378 1415 restoration of ecclesial unity first in the conciliar era then in the early years of the Protestant reformation and finally during the confessional age when the theological and cultural characteristics of competing religious groups began to emerge more clearly Contributors to this volume argue that the significance of conciliation efforts has been neglected in part because it has been absorbed into discussions of toleration and in part because of the tendency to project contemporary confessional perspectives on the past More moderate voices of those working to bridge confessional divides were frequently drowned out by the strident cries of their orthodox critics religious conflict was often a conscious intellectual commitment to theological rapprochement Throughout special attention is paid to the religiously diverse communities of central and eastern Europe an area that has often been overlooked by scholars who have focused more exclusively on Protestant Catholic relations in the western half of the continent

Criticism and Confession Nicholas Hardy, 2017 The period between the late Renaissance and the early Enlightenment has long been regarded as the zenith of the republic of letters a pan European community of like minded scholars and intellectuals who fostered critical approaches to the study of the Bible and other ancient texts while renouncing the brutal religious political disputes that were tearing their continent apart at the same time Criticism and Confession offers an unprecedentedly comprehensive challenge to this account Throughout this period all forms of biblical scholarship were intended to contribute to theological debates rather than defusing or transcending them and meaningful collaboration between scholars of different confessions was an exception rather than the norm Neutrality was a fiction that obscured the ways in which scholarship served the interests of ecclesiastical and political institutions Scholarly practices varied from one confessional context to another and the progress of criticism was never straightforward The study demonstrates this by placing scholarly works in dialogue with works of dogmatic theology and comparing examples from multiple confessional and national contexts It offers major revisionist treatments of canonical figures in the history of scholarship such as Joseph Scaliger Isaac Casaubon John Selden Hugo Grotius and Louis Cappel based on unstudied archival as well as printed sources and it places those figures alongside their more marginal overlooked counterparts It also contextualizes scholarly correspondence and other forms of intellectual exchange by considering them alongside the records of political and ecclesiastical bodies Throughout the study combines the methods of the history of scholarship with techniques drawn from other fields including literary political and religious history As well as presenting a new history of seventeenth century biblical criticism it also critiques modern scholarly assumptions about the relationships between erudition humanistic culture political activism and religious identity

A Companion to the Huguenots Raymond A. Mentzer, Bertrand Van Ruymbeke, 2016-02-02 The Huguenots are among the best known of early modern European religious minorities Their suffering in 16th and 17th century France is a familiar story The flight of many Huguenots from the kingdom after 1685 conferred upon them a preeminent place in the accounts of forced religious migrations Their history has become synonymous with repression and intolerance At the same time Huguenot accomplishments in France and the lands to which they fled have long been celebrated They are distinguished by their theological formulations political thought and artistic achievements This volume offers an encompassing portrait of the Huguenot past investigates the principal lines of historical development and suggests the interpretative frameworks that scholars have advanced for appreciating the Huguenot experience

Catholic and Protestant Translations of the Imitatio Christi, 1425-1650 Maximilian von Habsburg, 2016-04-08 The Imitatio Christi is considered one of the classic texts of Western spirituality There were 800 manuscript copies and more than 740 different printed editions of the Imitatio between its composition in the fifteenth century and 1650 During the Reformation period the book retained its popularity with both Protestants and Catholics with the exception of the Bible it was the most frequently printed book of the sixteenth century In this pioneering study the remarkable longevity of the Imitatio across geographical chronological linguistic and confessional boundaries is explored Rather than attributing this enduring popularity to any particular quality of universality this study suggests that its key virtue was its appropriation by different interest groups That such an apparently Catholic and monastic work could be adopted and adapted by both Protestant reformers and Catholic activists including the Jesuits poses intriguing questions about our understanding of Reformation and Counter Reformation theology and confessional politics This study focuses on the editions of the Imitatio printed in English French German and Latin between the 1470s and 1650 It offers an ambitious and comprehensive survey of the process of translation and its impact and contribution to religious culture In so doing it offers a fresh analysis of spirituality and devotion within their proper late medieval and early modern contexts It also demonstrates that spirituality was not a peripheral dimension of religion but remains at the very heart of both Catholic and Protestant self perception and identity

The Irenic Calvinism of Daniel Kalaj (d. 1681) Dariusz M. Brycko, 2012-09-12 Daniel Kalaj d 1681 was a Polish Reformer of Hungarian background born in Little Poland Malopolska and trained in Franeker Friesland under some of the most brilliant Reformed theologians of seventeenth century Europe such as Cocceius and Cloppenburg Kalaj s ministry in the Reformed Church of Little Poland was abruptly interrupted when Catholic authorities wrongly accused him of spreading then outlawed Arianism calling him a Calvinian Kalaj became the first Polish Protestant minister to receive a sentence of capital punishment as a result of the new anti toleration law issued in 1658 against Arians under the false pretext of military treason during the Second Northern War 1655 1660 He escaped the axe by fleeing to Lithuania and later to Gda sk where he wrote his best known work A Friendly Dialogue between an Evangelical Minister and a Roman Catholic Priest The Friendly Dialogue is both Kalaj s own personal defense and a compendium to Polish Reformed doctrine and has a strongly irenic disposition In contrast with many Reformed thinkers of his day Kalaj is capable of communicating Reformed doctrine in a friendly and peaceful manner He places special emphasis on the unity of the catholic church as expressed in his statement that the three churches Roman and Lutheran and Reformed are all part of one true church before God while at the same time attempting to retain his Reformed orthodoxy

Unsettling Worship Sarah Travis,2023-08-31 Settler churches across North America have committed to the work of conciliation and reconciliation with Indigenous Peoples Worship is a space in which these commitments are expressed and nurtured As we are embraced by God s reconciling love in worship we are equipped to carry that reconciling love into our relationships beyond the worship space Worship equips us for the work of conciliation but the liturgy itself needs to be decolonized if it is to truly honor Christian commitments to God and neighbor This book explores the reformed liturgy in its pattern of Gathering Word Table and Sending searching it both for colonial vestiges and spaces of new possibility Unsettling Worship invites the reader into a conversation about reformed worship in a setting of ongoing colonization Worship should both unsettle us and equip us for the essential work of making things right with Indigenous neighbors

Lutheran Patristic Catholicity Quentin D. Stewart, 2015 This book examines how Lutheranism continued to define itself as the evangelical catholic faith during almost two centuries of struggle over ownership of the fathers Central to the discussion is Martin Chemnitz who grappled with charges of theological novelty appealed to a qualified consensus of the fathers and responded to Trent's claim to the ancient ecumenical consensus Subsequent responses of Lutheran Orthodoxy to the Roman Catholic defense of Tridentine dogma and its particular appeal to the ancient consensus and later to the patristic ecumenism of Georg Calixt are also explored Series Works of Historical and Systematic Theology Arbeiten zur Historischen und Systematischen Theologie Vol 20 Subject Religious Studies History

African Philosophy and the Quest for Autonomy Leonhard Praeg, 2022-06-08 As academic subject African philosophy is predominantly concerned with epistemology It aims at representing a lost body of authentic African thought This apparently austere historical concern is framed by a grand narrative of liberation that cannot but politicise the quest for epistemological autonomy By politicise I mean that the desire to recover an authentic African epistemology in order to establish African philosophy as autonomous subject ironically reiterates Western enlightenment notions of the autonomous subject Here in the pursuit of an autonomous subject the terms of historical oppression are necessarily duplicated in the terms of liberation In this study I use the term disfigurement to refer to the double bind peculiar to post coloniality in which the African subject finds itself when it has to establish and affirm a sense of apartheid in order to confirm the assumption of difference by inventing its own autonomy in a way that ironically conflicts with an African conception of the autonomous subject The transcendental concern with epistemological authenticity and autonomy indicative of an oppressive desire for Western style autonomy necessary as it may be in a post colonial context is placed in an ethical framework that seeks to remain faithful to the African dictum of identity and autonomy I am because we are Whereas the first three chapters are concerned with the transcendental question what is African philosophy the fourth and last chapter situates the ethical framework within which this question arises in the context of the recently completed South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission

The Peace of Augsburg and the Meckhart Confession Adam Glen Hough, 2019-03-06 Taking the religiously diverse city of Augsburg as its focus this book explores the underappreciated role of local clergy in mediating and interpreting the Peace of Augsburg in the decades following its 1555 enactment focusing on the efforts of the preacher Johann Meckhart and his heirs in blunting the cultural impact of confessional religion It argues that the real drama of confessionalization was not simply that which played out between princes and theologians or even for that matter between religions rather it lay in the daily struggle of clerics in the proverbial trenches of their ministry who were increasingly pressured to choose for themselves and for their congregations between doctrinal purity and civil peace      The confessional Luigi Francesco L. Desanctis,1887      Conciliation Act of 1941 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Education and Labor,1941      The Confessional Luigi de Sanctis,1889      A Dictionary of the English Language Noah Webster,1892      Spirituality and Reform Calvin Lane,2018-08-15 In colorful detail Calvin Lane explores the dynamic intersection between reform movements and everyday Christian practice from ca 1000 to ca 1800 Lowering the artificial boundaries between the Middle Ages the Reformation and the Enlightenment Lane brings to life a series of reform programs each of which developed new sensibilities about what it meant to live the Christian life Along this tour Lane discusses music art pilgrimage relics architecture heresy martyrdom patterns of personal prayer changes in marriage and family life connections between church bodies and governing authorities and certainly worship The thread that he finds running from the Benedictine revival in the eleventh century to the pietistic movements of the eighteenth is a passionate desire to return to a primitive era of Christianity a time of imagined apostolic authenticity even purity In accessible language he introduces readers to Cistercians and Calvinists Franciscans and Jesuits Lutherans and Jansenists Moravians and Methodists to name but a few of the many reform movements studied in this book Although Lane highlights their diversity he argues that each movement rooted its characteristic practice their spirituality in an imaginative recovery of the apostolic life      Advice for Those who Exercise the Ministry of Reconciliation Through Confession and Absolution Jean Gaume,Edward Bouverie Pusey,1878
