Lancaster, 2005-08-08 Concrete Vaulted Construction in Imperial Rome examines methods and techniques that enabled builders to construct some of the most imposing monuments of ancient Rome Focusing on structurally innovative vaulting and the factors that influenced its advancement Lynne Lancaster also explores a range of related practices including lightweight pumice as aggregate amphoras in vaults vaulting ribs metal tie bars and various techniques of buttressing She provides the geological background of the local building stones and applies mineralogical analysis to determine material provenance which in turn suggests trading patterns and land use Lancaster also examines construction techniques in relation to the social economic and political contexts of Rome in an effort to draw connections between changes in the building industry and the events that shaped Roman society from the early empire to late antiquity This book was awarded the James R Wiseman Book Award from the Archaeological Institute of America in 2007

Concrete Vaulted Construction in Imperial Rome Lynne C. Lancaster, 2005 Architectural Restoration and Heritage in Imperial Rome Christopher Siwicki, 2020 Challenging the idea that heritage is a purely modern phenomenon this volume addresses how historic buildings were treated in Imperial Rome examining the way in which the ancients restored the monuments they inherited from earlier generations and developing our understanding of the Roman concept of built heritage

The Origins of Concrete Construction in Roman Architecture Marcello Mogetta, 2021-06-24 In this study Marcello Mogetta examines the origins and early dissemination of concrete technology in Roman Republican architecture Framing the genesis of innovative building processes and techniques within the context of Rome's early expansion he traces technological change in monumental construction in long established urban centers and new Roman colonial cities founded in the 2nd century BCE in central Italy Mogetta weaves together excavation data from both public monuments and private domestic architecture that have been previously studied in isolation Highlighting the organization of the building industry he also explores the political motivations and cultural aspirations of patrons of monumental architecture reconstructing how they negotiated economic and logistical constraints by drawing from both local traditions and long distance networks By incorporating the available evidence into the development of concrete technology Mogetta also demonstrates the contributions of anonymous builders and contractors shining a light on their ability to exploit locally available resources

Innovative Vaulting in the Architecture of the Roman Empire Lynne C. Lancaster, 2015-11-12 This book on Roman construction explains why and how Roman builders employed a set of unusual vaulting techniques and explores why each is confined to a particular area of the Empire It is written to be accessible to advanced students as well as experts in the field      How Transformative Innovations Shaped the Rise of Nations Gerard Tellis, Stav Rosenzweig, 2018-05-30 Over the last 2 000 years critical innovations have transformed small regions into global powers But these powers have faded when they did not embrace the next big innovation Gerard J Tellis and Stav Rosenzweig argue that openness to new ideas and people empowerment of individuals and competition are key drivers in the development and adoption of transformative innovations These innovations in turn fuel economic growth national dominance and global leadership In How Transformative Innovations Shaped the Rise of Nations Tellis and Rosenzweig examine the transformative qualities of concrete in Rome swift equine warfare in Mongolia critical navigational innovations in the golden ages of Chinese Venetian Portuguese and Dutch empires the patent system and steam engine in Britain and mass production in the United States of America      The Column of Marcus Aurelius Martin Beckmann, 2011 One of the most important monuments of Imperial Rome and at the same time one of the most poorly understood the Column of Marcus Aurelius has long stood in the shadow of the Column of Trajan In The Column of Marcus Aurelius Martin Beckmann makes      Rome, Pollution and Propriety Mark Bradley, 2012-07-26 Rome Pollution and Propriety brings together scholars from a range of disciplines in order to examine the historical continuity of dirt disease and hygiene in one environment and to explore the development and transformation of these ideas alongside major chapters in the city's history such as early Roman urban development Roman pagan religion the medieval Church the Renaissance the unification of Italy and the advent of Fascism This volume sets out to identify the defining characteristics functions and discourses of pollution in Rome in such realms as disease and medicine death and burial sexuality and virginity prostitution purity and absolution personal hygiene and morality criminality bodies and cleansing waste disposal decay ruins and urban renovation as well as studying the means by which that pollution was policed and controlled      Brill's Companion to the Reception of Vitruvius , 2024-03-18 As a master of his discipline the ancient Roman architect Vitruvius has been read widely for centuries This collection of essays by an international team of experts investigates his influence and reception in ideas artistic forms and building practices from antiquity to modern day The stories of influence told in these pages suggest that it is the unbridgeable gulf between the Vitruvian text and surviving monuments that makes reading the Ten Books so endlessly compelling The contributors to this volume offer their own original readings which are organized into the five sections transmission translation reception practice and Vitruvian topics      Materiality in Roman Art and Architecture Annette Haug, Adrian Hielscher, M. Taylor Lauritsen, 2021-12-31 The focus of this volume is on the aesthetics semantics and function of materials in Roman antiquity between the 2nd century B C and the 2nd century A D It includes contributions on both architectural spaces and their material design and objects types of artefacts that differ greatly in the way they were used perceived and loaded with cultural significance With respect to architecture the analysis of material aesthetics leads to a new understanding of the performance imitation and transformation of surfaces including the social meaning of such strategies In the case of objects surface treatments are equally important However object form a specific design category which can enter into tension with materiality comes into particular focus Only when materials are shaped do their various qualities emerge and these qualities are to a greater or lesser extent transferred to objects With a focus primarily on Roman Italy the papers in this volume underscore the importance of material design and highlight the awareness of this matter in the ancient world
