Includes the Second World War In The Pacific Illustration Pack 152 maps plans and photos Commander Frederick Bell recounts his wartime experiences on the USS G Grayson during the Pacific War CONDITION RED was an expression that we used to indicate the imminence of any type of engagement Aboard the G it was a colloquialism that served to express the conviction that the next few hours or days or weeks were going to be packed with action We first heard it soon after we arrived in the Solomons where the term was used on Guadalcanal and Tulagi to indicate the approach of the enemy and when our voice radio blared out the words we went to General Quarters and prepared to greet the Tokyo Express or the Zeros and Mitsubishi's when they came within view Little has been written of the part that our destroyers are playing in the Pacific War where they are called upon to fulfil such a variety of missions that they have become multipurpose ships engaging in any form of combat Because we lacked suitable escort ships we used destroyers to protect convoys as well as to guard our combatant Task Forces We used them to bombard enemy shore positions and to carry bombs and aviation gasoline and stores to Guadalcanal during the lean weeks early in our campaign in those far distant seas By nature as well as by name the purpose of the destroyer is wholly offensive Bantamweights in comparison with the great battlewagons they pack a punch out of all proportion to their size They are triple threat weapons built to strike at any enemy on or over or under the sea In the words of Rear Admiral Tisdale They are the fightingest thing afloat Condition Red Frederick Jackson Bell, 1943

Escape from Java John J. Domagalski, 2022-03-24 The harrowing triumphant true story of an antiquated light cruiser and its crew suddenly under fire in the Pacific as WWII erupted An engrossing tale Naval Historical Foundation The old light cruiser Marblehead was living out her final years of naval service as a member of the United States Asiatic Fleet in 1941 The small group of mostly antiquated ships based in the Philippines sailed the waters of East Asia to show the American flag in places like China Hong Kong Japan and Singapore Then the sudden eruption of World War II in the Pacific put the warship on the front lines of the conflict as Imperial Japan unleashed a series of devastating attacks across the region On the morning of February 4 1942 the warship was surprised by Japanese planes northeast of Java Two large bombs slammed into Marblehead causing fires and casualties and knocking out her steering gear A third bomb exploded close by underwater The near miss ripped a large gash into her hull allowing a torrent of water to rush inside the ship Escape from Java takes us throughout the ship as the story unfolds next to gunners toiling to keep their guns firing with medical staff tending to the wounded and alongside damage control sailors working in flooded compartments The Japanese confidently radioed that they had sunk the ship but through courage sacrifice and superhuman effort Marblehead would set out on a harrowing 13 000 mile journey back to the US An engrossing tale of an obsolescent ship's survival amid great odds set against the brutal early fighting of the Pacific War This book will appeal to a wide audience not only as high wartime adventure but simply as a story of gritty perseverance when the odds are heavily against Naval Historical Foundation
