Conditions For Economic Recovery:

Monetary Conditions for Economic Recovery C. van Ewijk, J.J. Klant, 2012-12-06 An international symposium on Monetary Conditions for Economic Recovery was organised in Amsterdam from 14-16 November 1984 by the Department of Macroeconomics Faculty of Economics of the University of Amsterdam to honour its distinguished member Professor G.A. Kessler who had recently retired from his Chair of Monetary Economics. Experts on monetary theory and monetary policy from various parts of the world took part in the discussions on both the theoretical and practical aspects of the theme. The papers have been collected in this volume. Our debts in organizing the symposium and preparing this volume for publication are many. The symposium was financed through the support of a number of sponsors whose names have been listed on the next page. The Netherlands Bank accommodated the conference sessions. The organizing Committee owes much to the successful efforts of its members Jean Morreau, Casper van Ewijk and Annette Deckers. We are grateful to the President of the Netherlands Bank for his introductory speech on the work of Professor Kessler which is included in this volume. Wouter Zant assisted in editing the volume for publication.

Small and Medium Size Enterprises, Credit Supply Shocks, and Economic Recovery in Europe Nir Klein, 2014-06-10

The limited access to bank credit in recent years has increased the pressure on small and medium size enterprises (SMEs) forcing them to scale down investment plans and production. This paper which explores the macroeconomic implications of this channel finds evidence that countries with high prevalence of SMEs tended to recover more slowly from the global financial crisis than their peers implying that the interaction of the economic structure and access to bank financing plays a critical role in episodes of economic recovery. This conclusion is reinforced by a VAR estimation which demonstrates that a negative credit supply shock applied to SMEs has an adverse effect on economic activity and this impact is amplified in countries that have a high share of SMEs.
