Conditions Of Identity A Study In Identity And Survival:

Conditions of Identity Andrew Brennan, 1988 This book sets out a new theory of the unity of objects The author introduces the reader to the central problems faced by philosophical accounts of identity problems which can to a large extent be solved using the theory developed in the book In his consideration of the vexed issue of personal identity the author argues that in our everyday thinking about persons we merge radically different kinds of notions He suggests that our assessment of sameness of person is not founded on any determinate concept of person Many central topics in epistemology and metaphysics are addressed in the course of the book and the author provides an original examination of each the nature of physical objects the metaphysics of possible worlds the meaning of continuity in space and time and the nature of philosophical theorizing itself The book is written in non technical language and so will be of interest to the non specialist philosopher The Vital Roots of European Enlightenment Samar Attar, 2007-10-23 The Vital Roots of European

Enlightenment is a collection of essays which deal with the influence of Ibn Tufayl a 12th century Arab philosopher from Spain on major European thinkers His philosophical novel Hayy Ibn Yaqzan could be considered one of the most important books that heralded the Scientific Revolution Its thoughts are found in different variations and to different degrees in the books of Thomas Hobbes John Locke Isaac Newton and Kant But if Ibn Tufayl's fundamental values such as equality freedom and toleration which the thinkers of the European Enlightenment had adopted as theirs paved the way to the French Revolution they certainly marked the end of the age of reason in southern Spain and the rest of the Islamic world Ibn Tufayl's philosophy was appropriated subverted or reinvented for many centuries But the memory of the man who wrote such an influential book was buried in the dust of history The Vital Roots of European Enlightenment reexamines Ibn Tufayl's momentous book and its continued influence over contemporary philosophy This intriguing book will appeal to those interested in comparative literature and religion The Philosophical Review , 1992 Oxford Studies in Metaphysics Dean
