Greetings from Alabama: A Pictorial History in Vintage Postcards Wade Hall, 2016-09-01 Although he was a native of Bullock County Alabama Wade Hall teacher writer poet critic interviewer folklorist and documentarian spent most of his fifty year career in Kentucky But he was never emotionally far from his home as evidenced by his passion for collecting vintage Alabama postcards In his lifetime he amassed 10 000 which he then graciously gave to the University of Alabama Libraries and Troy University in a large joint bequest that also included rare books quilts folk art letters and more These postcards date from the late 1800s to the mid 20th century and offer a fascinating and diverse picture of the state The meaning of postcards that could be purchased as a travel souvenir is largely forgotten today when cameras are commonplace But the value of Hall s stunning collection cannot be missed The some 400 cards featured in Greetings from Alabama are revealing of scenes familiar and rare From Birmingham s Vulcan to Mobile s Bellamy Gardens from Enterprise s boll weevil monument to Huntsville s rockets from Helen Keller s home to William Rufus King s resting place the scenes offer captivating glimpses of Alabama history

And All the Layered Light Charles Semones, 2007-01-01 Using the settings and imagery of his native rural Kentucky Charles Semones creates in this new collection of his poems a world of longing and desire of passion and pursuit of rapture and depression In his reclusive gospel drenched haunted world of draped mirrors and desperate dog days of summer the poetlover moves along his lonely route seeking and hoping for at least a brief respite from the Gothic horrors internal and external that curse his journey Semones s own autobiographical travels and travails which he has translated into a universal poetry of the soul will resonate deeply with anyone who thinks deeply about the human condition You may identify his condition with your own dark night of the soul praying like him for light and bliss at the end of the way Reactions to the poetry in this new collection will be extreme Regardless of what you may think about Semones s world and his experiences in it I am certain that you will be affected by his inspired and expertly crafted poetry This is Southern Gothic writing at its finest It is good poetry that transcends time and place Red Drum Fishery, Gulf of Mexico, Fisheries Management Plan (FMP) ,1986 An Interview with Abraham Lincoln Wade Hall,2010-06-01 Author Wade Hall has taken Abraham Lincoln s actual words from speeches articles and letters and assembled them in the form of answers to questions posed in an imagined interview with a fictional young journalist recently returned from the war front The result is a fresh look at the mind and philosophy of our sixteenth president and the issues he was grappling with as the war came to a close just a few days before he was assassinated Conversations with Kentucky Writers Linda Elisabeth LaPinta,2021-11-21 Kentucky and Kentuckians are full of stories which may be why so many present day writers have Kentucky roots Whether they left and returned like Wendell Berry and Bobbie Ann Mason or adopted Kentucky as home like James Still and Jim Wayne Miller or grew up and left for good like Michael Dorris and Barbara Kingsolver they have one connection Kentucky has influenced their writing and their lives L Elisabeth Beattie explores this influence in twenty intimate interviews Conversations with Kentucky Writers was more than three years in the making as Beattie traveled across the state and beyond to capture oral histories on tape Her exhaustive knowledge of these authors helped her draw out personal revelations about their work their lives and the nature of writing When Still concludes his interview with I believe I ve told you more than anybody he could be speaking for any of Beattie s subjects Aspiring writers will learn that Mason submitted twenty stories to the New Yorker before one was accepted and that Still wrote articles for Sunday school magazines There s plenty of advice Dorris tells budding authors to get real jobs keep journals and read everything even cereal boxes and Marsha Norman reminds playwrights that it is not the business of the theater to provide writers with a living Kingsolver advises Read good stuff and write bad stuff until eventually what you re writing begins to approximate what you re reading Beattie s collection includes striking self portraits of such writers as Sue Grafton Leon Driskell James Baker Hall Fenton Johnson George Ella Lyon Taylor McCafferty Ed McClanahan Sena Naslund Chris Offutt Lee Pennington and Betty Layman Receveur What most distinguishes these moving conversations from other author interviews is their focus on creativity on the teaching of writing and on the authors strong sense of place As Wade Hall writes in his foreword all twenty writers recognize that their works have been significantly influenced by their Kentucky experience This collection offers insights into Kentucky s rich and flowering literary heritage Captaining the Corps d'Afrique John Newton Chamberlin,2016-07-14 I have stood by their side in the grim conflict wrote Union Captain John Chamberlin of the Corps d Afrique Woe to the nation that long withholds their rights from them Chamberlin spent nearly five years in the South during and after the Civil War A well read observant and articulate writer he recorded his unique perspective as a commander of black soldiers and engineers More than everyday accounts of camp life and battles Chamberlin s letters and diaries here presented in historical context give an insider s view of the Union army s relationship with black troops and of the political and social implications of wartime events Late in the war his correspondence focused on a schoolmate Anna Bullock and their burgeoning relationship

Reflections of the Civil War in Southern Humor Wade Hall,2015-02-17 As one of the organic forms of literature humor has always responded to and reflected the needs of the people at a given time and the Civil War and its aftermath were days of the South s greatest need Historians have suggested many reasons for the South s fearless stand against overwhelming numbers and resources to use General Lee s words In this short study author and historian Wade Hall adds one reason to the list the humor of the Southerner as soldier and civilian during the war and the bleak days that followed it The South arose from the ashes of humiliation and defeat smiling though sometimes through tears The Southerner s sense of humor helped him to fight a war he believed honorable and to accept the bitter defeat which ended it Without the escape valve of humor many a rebel would have succumbed to despair The Southerner could smile wistfully as he looked back on a proud past and hopefully as he looked forward to an uncertain future He smiled because he read humorists like Bill Arp who once wrote somewhat serio comically that the South was conquered but not convinced In this study Hall has attempted to represent all the types of humor written in the South between the beginning of the Civil War and the beginning of World War I specifically 1861 and 1914 including war memoirs novels plays short stories poetry and songs After a survey of humor written during the war Hall discusses the soldier the Negro the poor white and the folks at home in wartime as they are reflected in the postwar humor Alabama, Her History, Resources, War Record, and Public Men Willis Brewer, 1872 From 1540 to 1872 The Outrageous Times of Larry Bruce Mitchell Wade Hall, 2003 In this play based on a real life a middle aged gay man mourns the sudden departure of his longtime companion and the death of his beloved mother when a mysterious but familiar stranger arrives to prod and goad him into revealing perhaps more of himself and his own faults than he realizes As his mood gradually changes from anger and despair to hope and renewal he recounts his unusual boyhood growing up in the hills of northeast Alabama where his family attends a Holiness church that practices serpent handling as a testimony of faith that sometimes ends in death
