Conferring With Primary Writers:

Conferring with Primary Writers Jessica McLean, 2013 The research question addressed in this project was how can I meaningfully confer with first grade writers It documents one teacher s experiences teaching first grade students to talk about their writing in brief conversations during daily Writing Workshop This capstone details the purpose and structure of a writing conference and ways to support student responses during writing conversations The author describes the successes and challenges of conferring with students while they write and concludes that 1 time dedicated to the teaching of effective writing is not only helpful but necessary in primary classrooms 2 conferring with children about their work increases their awareness of their own learning strengths and challenges 3 consistent structure in a writing conference is important but must be flexible to adapt to student needs and interests 4 teachers would benefit significantly from increased professional development and collaboration focused on effective writing instruction

Conferring with Young Writers Kristin Ackerman, Jennifer McDonough, 2023-10-10 If you ve ever sat down to confer with a child and felt at a loss for what to say or how to help move him or her forward as a writer this book is for you If you are a strong teacher of writing but are not seeing results from your students this book is for you Authors Kristin Ackerman and Jennifer McDonough have been teaching writing for several years and know that conferring can be a murky and messy process perhaps the hardest component of all Written from the lessons they ve learned through hard won classroom experience their mistakes and challenges Conferring with Young Writers is based on what Kristin and Jen call the three Fs frequency focus and follow up They ve created a classroom management system that offers routine and structure for giving the most effective feedback in a writing conference This book will help writing teachers and students learn to break down and utilize the qualities that enable good writing elaboration voice structure conventions and focus The authors also provide the knowledge and skills it takes to confer well which will help you improve as a writing teacher and give your students the confidence to think of themselves as writers

The Conferring Handbook Lucy Calkins, Amanda Hartman, Zoë White, 2003 Part of a series of primary writing units within a yearlong curriculum Conferring with primary writers Lucy McCormick Calkins, Lucy Calkins, Amanda Hartman, Zoë White, FirstHand (Firm), 2004-10-26 This CD models effective conferring practices and creates a forum to reflect on this crucial strategy in the teaching of primary writers Catching Readers Before They Fall Pat Johnson, Katie Keier, 2023-10-10 Every teacher of reading plays a vital role in helping to catch those readers for whom learning to read does not come easily Through examples from both adults and children the authors explain and describe the complex integrated network of strategies that go on in the minds of proficient readers strategies that struggling readers have to learn in order to construct their own reading processes This book is essential reading for all who work with struggling readers in any context and contains a wealth of resources including a thorough explanation of all the sources of information readers use to solve words examples and scenarios of teacher student interactions prompts to use with struggling readers lessons on modeling and assessment guidelines One to One Lucy Calkins, Amanda Hartman, Zoë White, 2005 Lucy Calkins knows one of the most powerful ways to support good writers clear purposeful writing conferences Authors as Mentors Lucy Calkins, Amanda Hartman, 2003 Part of a year long curriculum of units about primary writing Crafting Writers, K-6 Elizabeth Hale, 2008 How do we teach elementary students to independently use the different elements of craft that are discussed and taught in lessons We begin by honoring the reality that terms like voice sentence fluency and writing with detail are descriptions of where we want our students to be not next steps on how to reach those goals In Crafting Writers K 6 Elizabeth Hale shows us how to identify specific elements of craft when assessing student work and planning instruction and use them to teach students the specific craft techniques that will move them forward as writers Liz offers practical information that teachers can use immediately in their classrooms She also presents a concrete process for noticing craft in writing so teachers can develop and plan craft lessons based on their students writing Learning the techniques that make up good writing also allows teachers to see craft in many different levels of writing a skill that is particularly powerful when conferring with below grade level writers Additional chapters look closely at assessment and classroom management practices like group conferring Most of us know good writing when we read it but writing teachers need to know what makes it work Filled with easy to use charts and practical lessons Crafting Writers K 6 provides clear insight into identifying and teaching the small elements that make good writing successful Nonfiction Writing Lucy Calkins, Laurie Pessah, 2003 Part of a collection of units within a year long primary writing curriculum Evaluating Children's Writing Suzanne Bratcher, Linda Ryan, 2003-09-12 Introduces statement from preface about application activities for a wide range of writing evaluation strategies elementary classroom teachers can use to determine a grade Txbk for undergrad graduate elementary language arts writing methods courses

Reclaiming Reading Richard J. Meyer, Kathryn F. Whitmore, 2012-03-22 This book examines how the teaching of reading can be reclaimed from government mandates scripted commercial programs and high stakes tests via intensive reconsideration of learning teaching curriculum language and sociocultural contexts The Nuts and Bolts of Teaching

Writing Lucy Calkins, 2003 Part of a series of units for primary writing a yearlong curriculum Renew! Shawna Coppola, 2023-10-10 When was the last time you shook up your writing instruction In Renew Become a Better and More Authentic Writing Teacher author Shawna Coppola builds on the premise that our students are ever changing and so is our collective knowledge base Instructional strategies that have worked in the past may need to evolve accordingly Coppola guides K 8 writing teachers with a three part framework for Rethinking Revising and Renewing their approaches and finding new energy along the way Using the framework Renew examines the most pervasive educational practices in writing instruction and poses questions that guide teachers to revise those practices to ensure they are effective for all students Coppola believes the work is challenging yet critical referencing R Buckminster Fuller s Knowledge Doubling Curve According to Fuller s paradigm the amount of time it takes for us to increase our collective knowledge base by 100 percent will continue to shrink the older we get If this is true or even close to being true show can we as educators ever feel satisfied with teaching our students the same concepts using the same methodologies and practices that we have in the past The book offers a road map for renewing key aspects of our practice including How we teach the writing process Over time and frequent usage some of our favorite teaching strategies can become rigid Coppola gives a candid account of how her enthusiasm for the writing process as an undergraduate led her to teach writing for years as a set of pre determined steps Now she teaches that there are many variations of the writing process and many twists and turns along the path One foundational strategy used is opening up her own process as a writer and her writer s notebooks to students and encouraging them to think and talk about their process with classmates What we mean by Writing Coppola argues that drawing isn t an accompaniment to writing it is writing It s another form of composition through which students can tell stories convey ideas and engage readers The book is full of visual compositions by students as well as Shawna s wonderfully simple and evocative sketches from her writer s notebook The tools we use to teach writing The most ubiquitous tools used to teach writing from anchor charts to graphic organizers to sentence starters etc tend to be teacher centric rather than student centric Renew invites students into the process of constructing tools that are meaningful and helpful to them The book includes a range of examples of tools built collaboratively with students How we assess and evaluate student writing Coppola draws a distinction between assessments which should be an interactive conversation with students and evaluation which is about judging and categorizing what students know and can do Renew offers a range of examples and resources that illustrate effective feedback for student writers including online videos of teacher student and peer to peer conferences Renew also offers ideas for how teachers can nurture their own writing lives and thus reinvigorate their instructional practice Through rethinking revising and renewing their practice teachers can not only strengthen students skills as writers but also nurture students to become critical thinkers problem solvers and risk takers in the classroom and in our rapidly changing world

When Writers Drive the Workshop Brian Kissel,2023-10-10 With increasing school mandates and pressure to perform well on standardized tests writing instruction has shifted to more accountability taking the focus away from the writer In his engaging book When Writers Drive the Workshop Honoring Young Voices and Bold Choices author Brian Kissel asks teachers to go back to the roots of the writing workshop and let the students lead the conference What happens when students not tests determine what they learned through reflection and self evaluation In When Writers Drive the Workshop you ll find practical ideas guiding beliefs FAQs and Digital Diversions to help visualize digital possibilities in the classroom Written in an engaging teacher to teacher style this book focuses on four key components of writing workshop Student led conferring sessions where the teachers are the listeners The Author s Chair where students set the agenda and gather feedback Structured reflection time for students to set goals and expectations for themselves Mini lessons that allow for detours based on students needs not teacher or curricula goals All students have the powerful shared need to be heard when they choose their writing topics they can see their lives unfold on the page Teachers are educated by the bold choices of these young voices
