Concept for a National Freight Data Program

A conceptual plan for a national freight data program is presented in Appendix A under the section entitled “Product Definition.” The plan is based on an initial concept proposed by the committee’s consultant, Rick Donnelly, and further developed by Dr. Donnelly after extensive discussions with the committee at its second and third meetings. This chapter provides the committee’s commentary on Dr. Donnelly’s proposed plan.

The framework for a national freight data program illustrated in Figure 3-1¹ and described in Appendix A proposes establishing an advisory committee to oversee the design and implementation of a multifaceted data collection program. An integrated program of freight surveys and a freight informatics initiative that gathers data from electronic data streams, such as those associated with intelligent transportation systems (ITS) and electronic data interchange (EDI), would provide the data needed to populate a national freight database. These data would be supplemented by
