Concepts: Contemporary and Historical Perspectives Gerhard Preyer, 2015-09-09 Concept in a historic and systematic perspective In his paper What Happened to the Sense of a Concept Word Carlo Penco deals with the boundary between semantics and pragmatics and discusses some misunderstandings in the shift from the sense reference distinction in Frege to the intension extension distinction in semantics Building on Fodor Margolis and Laurence Jacob Beck defends in Sense Mentalese and Ontology the latter Fregean view on concepts by arguing that the mind independence of Fregean senses renders them ontologically suspect in a way that mentalese symbols are not Maria C Amoretti explores the model of Davidson s triangulation and its specific role in concept acquisition In A Critique of David Chalmers and Frank Jackson s Account of Concepts Ingo Brigandt suggests a more pragmatic approach to natural kind term meaning arguing that the epistemic goal pursued by a term s use is an additional semantic property Agustin Vicente Fernando Martinez Manrique discuss whether this variability in the languages generates a corresponding variability in the conceptual structure of the speakers of those languages in The Influence of Language on Conceptualization Three Views The connection between Views of Concepts and of Philosophy of Mind From Representationalism to Contextualism is explored by Sofia Miguens in respect of Edmund Husserl to Jocelyn Benoist Richard Manning argues some Changes in View Concepts in Experience with the main thesis that the content of perceptual experience must be conceived as concept involving In Concepts and Fat Plants Marcello Frixione suggests that typicality effects are more plausibly the consequence of some ecological constraints acting on the mind What does cognitive neuroscience contribute to our philosophical understanding of concepts That is the main question for Joseph B McCaffrey in Concepts in the Brain Neuroscience Embodiment and Categorization The volume is completed by articles on the historical perspective on concept starting with Conceptual Distinctions and the Concept of Substance in Descartes by Alan Nelson The Concept of Body in Hume s Treatise is examined by Miren Boehm Lewis Powell argues the Conceiving without Concepts Reid vs The Way of Ideas And Thomas Vinci asks Why the Concept of Spaces is not a Concept for Kant while Sonja Schierbaum reconstructs Ockham on Concepts of Beings Content and abstracts www.protosociology.de

Analysing Social Policy Concepts and Language Daniel Béland, Klaus Petersen, 2014 Social policy scholars and practitioners have long employed concepts such as welfare state and social security but where do these concepts come from and how has their meaning changed over time What characterizes social policy language in different places and how do some social concepts travel between them Addressing such questions in a systematic manner the contributors to this collection analyze the concepts and language used to describe contemporary social policy Combining detailed chapters on particular countries with broader comparative chapters the book offers a variety of perspectives on just what we mean when we use these terms How Concepts Solve Management Problems Mike Metcalfe, 2014-04-25 This book offers a process for conceiving solutions to complex wicked messy swampy or socio technical problems When charged with complex problem solving a useful set of concepts needs to emerge be agreed and acted upon Using relevant examples a Travelling Concepts in the Humanities Mieke Bal,2002-11-02 Attempting to bridge the gap between specialised scholarship in the humanistic disciplines and an interdisciplinary project of cultural analysis Mieke Bal has written an intellectual travel guide that charts the course beyond cultural studies As with any guide it can be used in a number of ways and the reader can follow or willfully ignore any of the paths it maps or signposts Bal s focus for this book is the idea that interdisciplinarity in the humanities necessary exciting serious must seek its heuristic and methodological basis in concepts rather than its methods Concepts are not grids to put over an object The counterpart of any given concept is the cultural text or work or thing that constitutes the object of analysis No concept is meaningful for cultural analysis unless it helps us to understand the object better on its own terms Bal offers the reader a sustained theoretical reflection on how to do cultural analysis through a tentative practice of doing just that This offers a concrete practice to theoretical constructs and allows the proposed method more accessibility Please note illustrations have been removed from the ebook at the request of the rightsholder The Nature of Accounting Regulation Ian Dennis,2013-10-15 Accounting standards are an essential element in the regulation of current financial reporting Standard setters promulgate such standards and companies and professional accountants follow them in preparing financial reports Although much has been written about the history of standard setting the conceptual underpinnings of accounting standards the process of setting them and whether such standards should be rules based or principles based there has been little written about the kind of thing they are This book examines the nature of accounting standards and the very idea of a rule of implementation guidance and of the objectives that are included in them It enables the reader to grasp the reasons for promulgating standards the role of the conceptual framework in setting standards in an institutional context and the kind of rules that are useful in regulating financial reporting The insights provided by this examination are used to throw light on the distinction between principles based and rules based standards and on the nature of good accounting standards Conceptual and Ethical Challenges of Evolutionary Medicine Ozan Altinok,2023-11-11 This book analyses the concept of disease as defined in the context of evolutionary medicine Upon introducing the reader to evolutionary medicine in its current form and describing its approach to disease instances the book leverages thoughts and instruments of knowledge of epistemology social sciences and ethics to answer the question How can we build a timely and appropriate concept of disease At first it looks at the social concerns of medicalization for example focusing on the suffering of people who have not been diagnosed or whose suffering is not caused by certain elements that falls under the definitions of disease In turn it merges different both conceptual and empirical considerations in one comprehensive analysis with the aim of fostering a multidisciplinary understanding of the phenomenon of disease This book also highlights certain kinds of epistemic injustices that are taking place in the healthcare system as this is currently conceived in post industrial societies thus offering a timely contribution to the current debate around social justice in
