UNIFICATION OF ART THEORIES (UAT) - A LONG MANIFESTO - FLORENTIN SMARANDACHE , Outer Art is a movement set up as a protest against or to ridicule the random modern art which states that everything is art It was initiated by Florentin Smarandache in 1990s who ironically called for an upside down artwork to do art in a way it is not supposed to be done i e to make art as ugly as silly as wrong as possible and generally as impossible as possible

Unification of Art Theories (UAT) Florentin Smarandache, 2007-01-01

Unification of Art Theories UAT proposed by the author considers that every artist should employ in producing an artwork ideas theories styles techniques and procedures of making art borrowed from various artists teachers schools of art movements throughout history but combined with new ones invented or adopted from any knowledge field science in special literature etc by the artist himself The artist can use a multi structure and multi space The distinction between Eclecticism and Unification of Art Theories UAT is that Eclecticism supposed to select among the previous schools and teachers and procedures while UAT requires not only selecting but also to invent or adopt from other non artistic fields new procedures In this way UAT pushes forward the art development Also UAT has now a larger artistic database to choose from than the 16 th century Eclecticism since new movements art schools styles ideas procedures of making art have been accumulated in the main time Like a guide UAT database should periodically be updated changed enlarged with new invented or adopted from any field ideas styles art schools movements experimentation techniques artists It is an open increasing essay to include everything that has been done throughout history This album presents a short panorama of commented art theories together with experimental digital images using adopted techniques from various fields in order to inspire the actual artists to choose from and also to invent or adopt new procedures in producing their artworks

Sustainable by Design Stuart Walker, 2012-05-04 To advance the subject of design one has to engage in the activity of designing Sustainable by Design offers a compelling and innovative design centred approach that explores both the meaning and practice of sustainable design Walker explores the design process in the context of sustainability and challenges conventional ways of defining designing and producing functional objects He discusses the personal design process tacit knowledge ephemeral design experimental design and the relationship between intellectual design criteria physical expression and aesthetic experience This book will introduce vital concepts to students and will inspire designers by providing a well articulated basis for understanding the complexity and potential of sustainable design and extolling the contribution of design to the creation of a more meaningful material culture

Malevich and the artists of De Stijl and Surrealism In an extensive new Reintroduction Henderson surveys the impact of interest in higher dimensions of space in art and culture from the 1950s to 2000 Although largely eclipsed by relativity theory beginning in the 1920s the spatial fourth dimension experienced a resurgence during the later 1950s and 1960s In a remarkable turn of events it has returned as an important theme in contemporary culture in the wake of the emergence in the 1980s of both string theory in physics with its ten or eleven dimensional universes and computer graphics Henderson demonstrates the importance of this new conception of space for figures ranging from Buckminster Fuller Robert Smithson and the Park Place Gallery group in the 1960s to Tony Robbin and digital architect Marcos Novak      Artistic Capital David Galenson,2006-05-02 David Galenson s work on the history of art is a unique fusion of econometrics and cultural analysis that is unprecedented in the literature on creativity in any discipline whether economics psychology literary studies or art history

Icons in Time, Persons in Eternity C.A. Tsakiridou, 2016-05-13 Icons in Time Persons in Eternity presents a critical interdisciplinary examination of contemporary theological and philosophical studies of the Christian image and redefines this within the Orthodox tradition by exploring the ontological and aesthetic implications of Orthodox ascetic and mystical theology It finds Modernist interest in the aesthetic peculiarity of icons significant and essential for re evaluating their relationship to non representational art Drawing on classical Greek art criticism Byzantine ekphrasis and hymnography and the theologies of St Maximus the Confessor St Symeon the New Theologian and St Gregory Palamas the author argues that the ancient Greek concept of energeia best conveys the expression of theophany and theosis in art The qualities that define energeia inherent liveliness expressive autonomy and self subsisting form are identified in exemplary Greek and Russian icons and considered in the context of the hesychastic theology that lies at the heart of Orthodox Christianity An Orthodox aesthetics is thus outlined that recognizes the transcendent being of art and is open to dialogue with diverse pictorial and iconographic traditions An examination of Chinese Zen art theory and a comparison of icons with paintings by Wassily Kandinsky Pablo Picasso Mark Rothko and Marc Chagall and by Japanese artists influenced by Zen Buddhism reveal intriguing points of convergence and difference The reader will find in these pages reasons to reconcile Modernism with the Christian image and Orthodox tradition with creative form in art

The Art Experience Alex Rajczi, 2024-04-24 The Art Experience An Introduction to Philosophy and the Arts takes readers on an engaging and accessible journey that explores a series of fundamental questions about the nature of art and aesthetic value The book s 12 chapters explore three questions What makes something a work of art How should we experience art to get the most out of it Once we understand art how should we evaluate whether it is good or bad Philosophical theory is illustrated with concrete examples the paintings of Frida Kahlo the music of Johann Sebastian Bach the masks of the Nso people and many others Classic questions are balanced with cutting edge challenges such as Linda Nochlin's work on the exclusion of women from the artistic canon. The Art Experience presupposes no prior knowledge of philosophy or art and it will be of interest to any reader seeking an accessible and engaging introduction to this field. Along the way readers learn how philosophical theories can affect our real world experiences with painting, music, theater, and many other art forms.

Key Features: Accessible for any college student, assumes no knowledge of philosophy, art theory, or any artistic medium. Organizes topics conceptually rather than historically, allowing students to more easily grasp the core issues themselves rather than tracing their historical evolution. Offers readers a large number of contemporary examples and a consistent focus on the way theory can affect people's real world experiences with art. Explores questions about bias, for example, whether the artistic canon has excluded some groups unfairly and whether definitions of art are Western biased.

Critical Terms for Art History, Second Edition Robert S. Nelson, Richard Shiff, 2010-03-15. Art has always been contested terrain, whether the object in question is a medieval tapestry or Duchamp's Fountain. But questions about the categories of art and art history acquired increased urgency during the 1970s when new developments in critical theory and other intellectual projects dramatically transformed the discipline. The first edition of Critical Terms for Art History both mapped and contributed to those transformations, offering a spirited reassessment of the field's methods and terminology. Art history as a field has kept pace with debates over globalization and other social and political issues in recent years, making a second edition of this book not just timely but crucial. Like its predecessor, this new edition consists of essays that cover a wide variety of loaded terms in the history of art, from sign to meaning, ritual to commodity. Each essay explains and comments on a single term, discussing the issues the term raises and putting the term into practice as an interpretive framework for a specific work of art. For example, Richard Shiff discusses Originality in Vija Celmins's To Fix the Image in Memory, a work made of eleven pairs of stones, each consisting of one original stone and one painted bronze replica. In addition to the twenty-two original essays, this edition includes nine new ones: performance, style, memory, monument, body, beauty, ugliness, identity, visual culture, visual studies, and social history of art, as well as new introductory material. All help expand the book's scope while retaining its central goal of stimulating discussion of theoretical issues in art history and making that discussion accessible to both beginning students and senior scholars.
