Conceptual Foundations Of Descriptive Cataloging:

The Conceptual Foundations of Descriptive Cataloging Elaine Svenonius, 1987 The Future of the Descriptive Cataloging Rules American Library Association, 1998 Annotation What is the future of the Anglo American Cataloging Rules It depends on who you ask We asked the experts Schottlaender has pulled together the key authorities on cataloging with AACR2R to examine critical issues This useful book will help catalogers prepare themselves for what lies ahead for AACR2R

Access Services: Gillian M. McCombs, 2021-04-29 This book takes a close look at the recent changing emphasis from collections to access and from document description to document delivery As the automation of library processes has moved from technical services to reference services the roles of the professionals working in those capacities have changed dramatically Library administrators who are looking to redeploy resources will gain helpful insights from the experiences of librarians who have already redirected their organizations This helpful volume will be of tremendous assistance in redefining the traditional roles of reference and technical librarians Access Services offers new insights into the movement from bibliographic access to information access that is reshaping reference services today Informative discussions on topics such as cross training experiments revised organizational structures the new role of the bibliographic utilities library school education for the redefined professional and changes in cataloging codes reveal what impact this trend has for librarians services and patrons

The FRBR Family of Conceptual Models Richard P. Smiraglia, Pat Riva, Maja Žumer, 2014-10-29 Since 1998 when FRBR Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records was first published by IFLA the effort to develop and apply FRBR has been extended in many innovative and experimental directions Papers in this volume explain and expand upon the extended family of FRBR models including Functional Requirements for Authority Data FRAD Functional Requirements for Subject Authority Data FRSAD and the object oriented version of FRBR known as FRBROO Readers will learn about dialogues between the FRBR Family and other modeling technologies specific implementations and extensions of FRBR in retrieval systems catalog codes employing FRBR a wide variety of research that uses the FRBR model and approaches to using FRBR for the Semantic Web Librarians of all stripes as well as library and information science students and researchers can use this volume to bring their knowledge of the FRBR model and its implementation up to date This book was published as a special issue of Cataloging Classification Quarterly

The Intellectual Foundation of Information Organization Elaine Svenonius, 2000 Integrating the disparate disciplines of descriptive cataloging subject cataloging indexing and classification the book adopts a conceptual framework that views the process of organizing information as the use of a special language of description called a bibliographic language

FRBR, Before and After
Karen Coyle, 2015-11-14 Coyle's expert ability to draw from the deep historical background of cataloging theory to illuminate the potentials of library data on the Web helped win her the 2011 ALCTS Outstanding Publication Award Here she persuasively argues that to more effectively connect library users with books movies music computer games and other resources library data needs to move beyond FRBR towards a more integrative approach to bibliographic models But doing so requires fundamental changes in the approach to library data Combining a sweeping perspective with a critical eye she assesses how we define a work in the bibliographic world Showing how bibliographic models reflect technology and our assumed goals of libraries she points the way ahead for catalogers and metadata specialists providing clear explanations and analysis on such topics as library data models and their connection to technology from early printing to relational databases and the Semantic Web ideas and influence of leading thinkers such as Lubetsky Wilson and Tillet along with lesser known theorists like Tanaguchi IFLA meetings that led to the FRBR study group including its original charge and final report FRBR as a conceptual model and how that differs from data models the FRBR document's flawed entity relationship model and how it overlooks user needs efforts to define a work as a meaningful creative unit separate from the physical package detailed analysis of the FRBR entities and implementations of FRBR both inside and outside the library community Coyle's articulate treatment of the issues at hand helps bridge the divide between traditional cataloging practice and the algorithmic metadata approach making this book an important resource for both LIS students and practitioners
