Research Handbook on Intellectual Property and Geographical Indications Dev S. Gangjee, 2016-02-26 In an increasingly globalised world place and provenance matter like never before The law relating to Geographical Indications GIs regulates designations which signal this provenance While Champagne Prosciutto di Parma Caf de Colombia and Darjeeling are familiar designations the relevant legal regimes have existed at the margins for over a century In recent years a critical mass of scholarship has emerged and this book celebrates its coming of age Its objective is to facilitate an interdisciplinary conversation by providing sure footed guidance across contested terrain as well as enabling future avenues of enquiry to emerge The distinctive feature of this volume is that it reflects a multi disciplinary conversation between legal scholars policy makers legal practitioners historians geographers sociologists economists and anthropologists Experienced contributors from across these domains have thematically explored 1 the history and conceptual underpinnings of the GI as a legal category 2 the effectiveness of international protection regimes 3 the practical operation of domestic protection systems and 4 long unresolved as well as emerging critical issues Specific topics include a detailed interrogation of the history and functions of terroir the present state as well as future potential of international GI protection including the Lisbon Agreement 2015 conflicts between trade marks and GIs the potential for GIs to contribute to rural or territorial development as well as sustain traditional or Indigenous knowledge and the vexed question of generic use This book is therefore intended for all those with an interest in GIs across a range of disciplinary backgrounds Students scholars policy makers and practitioners will find this Handbook to be an invaluable resource Compulsory Licensing Reto M. Hilty, Kung-Chung Liu, 2014-11-19 Under the auspices of the Max Planck Institute for Intellectual Property and Competition Law now the Max Planck Institute for Innovation and Competition And Institutum Iurisprudentiae Academia Sinica a group of twenty scholars from around the world gathered to study the experiences made with regards to compulsory licensing The results are demonstrated in this book Different articles analyze how the international conventions on intellectual property may be interpreted and explore the related doctrinal groundwork surrounding compulsory patent licensing and beyond It is shown how the compulsory licensing regime could be transformed into a truly workable mechanism facilitating the speedy use and dissemination of innovation and other subject matters of protection

Indigenous Cultural Heritage and Intellectual Property Rights Jessica Christine Lai, 2014-01-08 Now more than ever indigenous peoples interests in their cultural heritage are in the spotlight Yet there is very little literature that comprehensively discusses how existing laws can and cannot be used to address indigenous peoples interests This book assesses how intangible aspects of indigenous cultural heritage and the tangible objects that hold them can be protected within the realm of a broad range of existing legal orders including intellectual property and related rights consumer protection law common law and equitable doctrines and human rights It does so by focusing on the New Zealand M ori The book also looks to the future analysing the long awaited Wai 262 report released in New Zealand by the Waitangi Tribunal in response to allegations that the government had failed in its duty to ensure that the M ori retain chieftainship over their tangible and intangible treasures as required by the Treaty of Waitangi signed between the M ori and the British Crown in 1840

Protection of Broadcasters' Rights Megumi Ogawa, 2006-01-01 This book deals with a highly topical area the protection of broadcasters rights It is an area in which the World Intellectual Property Organisation WIPO has been working to draft a new treaty and has now reached the final stage for conclusion of the treaty The author analyses the formation and subsequent development of the legislation for protecting broadcasters rights and discusses the current legal issues arising out of current proposals at the international and domestic levels to upgrade that protection The focus of the work is the international protection of broadcasters rights as well as in the two jurisdictions which are representative of the two different approaches to protection Australia and Japan This volume provides a detailed account of the relevant international treaties and conventions as well as domestic legislation and provides insightful arguments that present the optimal approach of the future protection of broadcasters rights This book is an invaluable contribution to our understanding of the issues relating to the protection of broadcasters rights The book provides a comprehensive analysis of the protection of broadcasters rights based on the differing approaches adopted by the common law and civil law systems From the foreword by The Honourable Sir Anthony Mason AC KBE CBE
