The Poetry Handbook John Lennard, 2006-01-05 The Poetry Handbook is a lucid and entertaining guide to the poet s craft and an invaluable introduction to practical criticism for students Chapters on each element of poetry from metre to gender offer a wide ranging general account and end by looking at two or three poems from a small group including works by Donne Elizabeth Bishop Geoffrey

Hill and Nobel Laureate Derek Walcott to build up sustained analytical readings Thorough and compact with notes and quotations supplemented by detailed reference to the Norton Anthology of Poetry and a companion website with texts links and further discussion The Poetry Handbook is indispensable for all school and undergraduate students of English A final chapter addresses examinations of all kinds and sample essays by undergraduates are posted on the website Critical and scholarly terms are italicised and clearly explained both in the text and in a complete glossary the volume also includes suggestions for further reading The first edition widely praised by teachers and students showed how the pleasures of poetry are heightened by rigorous understanding and made that understanding readily available This second edition revised expanded updated and supported by a new companion website confirm The Poetry Handbook as the best guide to poetry available in English

Intertextuality Graham Allen, 2011 Graham Allen's Intertextuality follows all the major moves in the term's history and clearly explains how intertextuality is employed in a variety of theories from structuralism to deconstruction marxism to psychoanalysis

Postcolonial Criticism Bart Moore-Gilbert, Gareth Stanton, Willy Maley, 2014-05-12 Post colonial theory is a relatively new area in critical contemporary studies having its foundations more Postcolonial Criticism brings together some of the most important critical writings in the field and aims to present a clear overview of and introduction to one of the most exciting and rapidly developing areas of contemporary literary criticism It charts the development of the field both historically and conceptually from its beginnings in the early post war period to the present day The first phase of postcolonial criticism is recorded here in the pioneering work of thinkers like Aimé Césaire Frantz Fanon Edward Said and Gayatri Spivak More recently a new generation of academics have provided fresh assessments of the interaction of class race and gender in cultural production and this generation is represented in the work of Aijaz Ahmad bell hooks Homi Bhabha Abdul JanMohamed and David Lloyd Topics covered include negritude national culture orientalism subalternity ambivalence hybridity white settler societies gender and colonialism culturalism commonwealth literature and minority discourse The collection includes an extensive general introduction which clearly sets out the key stages figures and debates in the field The editors point to the variety even conflict within the field but also stress connections and parallels between the various figures and debates which they identify as central to an understanding of it The introduction is followed by a series of ten essays which have been carefully chosen to reflect both the diversity and continuity of postcolonial criticism Each essay is supported by a short introduction which places it in context with the rest of the author's work and identifies how its salient arguments contribute to the field as a whole This is a field which covers many disciplines including literary theory cultural studies philosophy geography economics history and politics It is designed to fit into the current modular arrangement of courses and is therefore suitable for undergraduate and postgraduate courses which address postcolonial issues and the new literatures in English

The Cinema of Steven Spielberg Nigel Morris, 2007 Detailed textual analysis of films from Spielberg's entire career reveal that alongside conventional commercial appeal his movies function as a self reflexive they invite divergent readings and self conscious spectatorship which contradict assumptions about their ideological tendencies José, Can You See? Alberto Sandoval-Sánchez,1999 Alberto Sandoval Sanchez is among the most interesting and original minds at work in performance studies and American studies Jos Can You See is a landmark achievement an important contribution to 20th century American cultural history Quite simply there is no other critic of Latino popular culture who speaks with so much wisdom and wit so much eloquence and expertise David Roman University of Southern California Discourse and Ideology in Nabokov's Prose David H. J. Larmour,2003-08-29 These essays offer readings of several of Nabokov s novels as well as discussions of his exchange of views about literature with Edmund Wilson and his place in the 1960s and contemporary popular culture Sacred Surrealism, Dissidence and International Avant-Garde Prose Vivienne Brough-Evans,2016-05-05 Vivienne Brough Evans proposes a compelling new way of reevaluating aspects of international surrealism by means of the category of divin fou and consequently deploys theories of sacred ecstasy as developed by the Collège de Sociologie 1937-39 as a critical tool in shedding new light on the literary oeuvre of non French writers who worked both within and against a surrealist framework The minor surrealist genre of prose literature is considered herein rather than surrealism s mainstay poetry with the intention of fracturing preconceptions regarding the medium of surrealist expression The aim is to explore whether International surrealism can begin to be more fully explained by an occluded strain of dissident surrealist thought that searches outside the self through the affects of ekstasis Bretonian surrealism is widely discussed in the field of surrealist studies and there is a need to consider what is left out of surrealist practice when analysed through this Bretonian lens The Collège de Sociologie and Georges Bataille s theories provide a model of such elements of dissident surrealism which is used to analyse surrealist or surrealist influenced prose by Alejo Carpentier Leonora Carrington and Gellu Naum respectively representing postcolonial feminist and Balkan locutions The Collège and Bataille s dissident surrealism diverges significantly from the concerns and approach towards the subject explored by surrealism Using the concept of ekstasis to organise Bataille s theoretical ideas of excess and inner experience and the Collège s thoughts on the sacred it is possible to propose a new way of reading types of International surrealist literature many of which do not come to the forefront of the surrealist literary oeuvre Ideologies of Identity in Adolescent Fiction Robyn McCallum,2012-10-02 Ideologies of Identity in Adolescent Fiction examines the representation of selfhood in adolescent and children s fiction using a Bakhtinian approach to subjectivity language and narrative The ideological frames within which identities are formed are inextricably bound up with ideas about subjectivity ideas which pervade and underpin adolescent fictions Although the humanist subject has been systematically interrogated by recent philosophy and criticism the question which lies at the heart of fiction for young people is not whether a coherent self exists but what kind of self it is and what are the conditions of its coming into being Ideologies of Identity in Adolescent Fiction has a double focus first the images of selfhood that the fictions offer their readers especially the interactions between selfhood social and cultural forces ideologies and other selves and second the strategies used to structure narrative and to represent subjectivity and intersubjectivity L. Writer, L. Reader Stephen Chubb, 1997 Literature, Culture and Society Andrew Milner, 2017-09-19 As cultural studies has grown from its origins on the margins of literary studies it has tended to discard both literature and sociology in favour of the semiotics of popular culture Literature Culture and Society makes a determined attempt to re-establish the connections between literary studies cultural studies and sociology Arguing against both literary humanism and sociological relativism it provides a critical overview of theoretical approaches to textual analysis from hermeneutics to postmodernism and presents a substantive account of the capitalist literary mode of production This second edition has been fully revised and rewritten with new sections including the impact of psychoanalysis and post-structuralism and the recent work of academics such as Franco Moretti New case studies have been added in order to examine the intertextual connections between Genesis Milton's Paradise Lost Frankenstein in Mary Shelley's original and also in several film versions Karel Capek's R.U.R. Fritz Lang's Metropolis Ridley Scott's Blade Runner The X-Files and Buffy the Vampire Slayer Celluloid Comrades Song Hwee Lim, 2006-08-31 Without question Song Hwee Lim has presented us with an exemplar of quality scholarship in the study of contemporary Chinese cinemas By combining an impressive command of Chinese and Western literary as well as film source materials with a sophisticated mode of analysis and an unassuming argumentative style he has authored an exhilarating book one that not only treats cinematic representations of male homosexuality with great sensitivity but also demonstrates what it means to read with critical intelligence and vision Rey Chow Andrew W. Mellon Professor of the Humanities Brown University Celluloid Comrades is a timely demonstration of the importance of queer studies in the field of transnational Chinese cinemas Lim dissects gay sexuality in selective Chinese language films and vigorously contests commonly accepted critical paradigms and theoretical models Readers will find a provocative powerful voice in this new book Sheldon H. Lu Professor of Comparative Literature University of California at Davis Celluloid Comrades offers a cogent analytical introduction to the representation of male homosexuality in Chinese cinemas within the last decade It posits that representations of male homosexuality in Chinese film have been polyphonic and multifarious posing a challenge to monolithic and essentialized constructions of both Chineseness and homosexuality Given the artistic achievement and popularity of the films discussed here the position of celluloid comrades can no longer be ignored within both transnational Chinese and global queer cinemas The book also challenges readers to reconceptualize these works in relation to global issues such as homosexuality and gay and lesbian politics and their interaction with local conditions agents and audiences Tracing the engendering conditions within the film industries of China Taiwan and Hong Kong Song Hwee Lim argues that the emergence of Chinese cinemas in the international scene since the 1980s created a public sphere in which representations of marginal sexualities could flourish in its interstices Examining the politics of representation in the age of multiculturalism through debates about the films Lim calls for a rethinking of the limits and hegemony of gay liberationist discourse prevalent in current scholarship and film criticism He provides in depth analyses of key films and auteurs reading them within contexts as varied as premodern transgender practice in Chinese theater to postmodern diasporic forms of sexualities Informed by cultural and postcolonial studies and critical theory this acutely observed and theoretically sophisticated work will be of interest to a wide range of scholars and students as well as general readers looking for a deeper understanding of contemporary Chinese cultural politics cinematic representations and queer culture
