A Persevering Witness Elizabeth Davey,2016-05-16 Margaret Avison one of Canada's premier poets is a highly sophisticated and self conscious writer both charming and intimidating at the same time She calls to mind her more famous predecessors the religious poets George Herbert Gerard Manley Hopkins and T S Eliot as she vigorously engages both heart and intellect She has forged a way to write against the grain some of the most humane sweet and profound poetry of our time write the judges of the 2003 Griffin Poetry Prize Becoming a Christian in her mid forties her life and her vocation were transformed and her lyrics record that shift In Muse of Danger she writes to Christian college students But in His strange and marvelous mercy God nonetheless lets the believer take a necessary place as a living witness in behavior with family and classmate and stranger in conversation or in a poem How she blends her twin passions of poetry and Christian faith becomes a story of a kind of perseverance Readers who respond with understanding and empathy recognize both the distinctive mystery of poetic witness and the mystery inherent in Christ's saving work to which it points Her enduring witness becomes an implicit call for us to persevere in what Avison identifies as the mix of resurrection life and marred everyday living can experience Avison's dazzling diction a saucepantilt of water birds clotted in big trees her metaphoric and tonal complexities and her quiet examination of the world in which she lived The Essential Margaret Avison also traces her movement from skeptical intellectual to committed Christian Though some scholars have dismissed her later religious poetry as simplistic and inferior to her earlier work the truth is more complex and the line between what is religious and what is not in Avison's poetry is difficult to draw Robyn Sarah describes how Avison's work became more and more a poetry of inquiry an inner pondering of her daily givens in which her experience of the worldly and the transcendent are inextricably tied Margaret Avison honoured by the Griffin Prize and twice by the Governor General's Award was named an Officer of the Order of Canada in 1985 and died at the age of 89 in 2007 This singular poets legacy is well represented in Robyn Sarah s thoughtfully chosen selection Always Now: From elsewhere; Winter sun; The dumbfounding; Translations Margaret Avison, 2003 The three volumes of Always Now contain all of Margaret Avison's published books of poetry.
