Anthropocentrism and Its Discontents Gary Steiner, 2005-11-06 Anthropocentrism and Its Discontents is the first ever comprehensive examination of views of animals in the history of Western philosophy from Homeric Greece to the twentieth century In recent decades increased interest in this area has been accompanied by scholars willingness to conceive of animal experience in terms of human mental capacities consciousness self awareness intention deliberation and in some instances at least limited moral agency This conception has been facilitated by a shift from behavioral to cognitive ethology the science of animal behavior and by attempts to affirm the essential similarities between the psychophysical makeup of human beings and animals Gary Steiner sketches the terms of the current debates about animals and relates these to their historical antecedents focusing on both the dominant anthropocentric voices and those recurring voices that instead assert a fundamental kinship relation between human beings and animals He concludes with a discussion of the problem of balancing the need to recognize a human indebtedness to animals and the natural world with the need to preserve a sense of the uniqueness and dignity of the human individual

The State of Creativity James Griffin, 2019 Creativity has been of central importance to the development of the modern State and yet creativity is something that has become increasingly sidelined This has been particularly apparent with the development of new machine technologies such as 3D printing This monograph argues that inner creativity combined with the zone of discourse has been endangered by the rise of administrative regulation Griffin investigates how the failure to incorporate creativity into that administrative regulation is adversely impacting the regulation of technologies such as 3D printing The State of Creativity proposes reforms to ensure that the regulation does take creativity into account

Fiction Without Humanity Lynn Festa, 2019-05-31 Although the Enlightenment is often associated with the emergence of human rights and humanitarian sensibility humanity is an elusive category in the literary philosophical scientific and political writings of the period Fiction Without Humanity offers a literary history of late seventeenth and early eighteenth century efforts to define the human Focusing on the shifting terms in which human difference from animals things and machines was expressed Lynn Festa argues that writers and artists treated humanity as an indefinite class which needed to be called into being through literature and the arts Drawing on an array of literary scientific artistic and philosophical devices the riddle the fable the microscope the novel and trompe l'oeil and still life painting Fiction Without Humanity focuses on experiments with the perspectives of nonhuman creatures and inanimate things Rather than deriving species membership from sympathetic identification or likeness to a fixed template early Enlightenment writers and artists grounded humanity in the enactment of capacities reason speech educability that distinguish humans from other creatures generating a performative model of humanity capacious enough to accommodate broader claims to human rights In addressing genres typically excluded from canonical literary histories Fiction Without Humanity offers an alternative account of the rise of the novel showing how these early experiments with nonhuman perspectives helped generate novelistic techniques for the representation of consciousness By placing the novel in a genealogy that embraces paintings riddles scientific plates and fables Festa shows realism to issue less from mimetic exactitude than from the tailoring of the represented world to a distinctively human point of view Indigenous Visions Ned Blackhawk,Isaiah Lorado Wilner,2018-04-24 A compelling study that charts the influence of Indigenous thinkers on Franz Boas the founder of modern anthropology In 1911 the publication of Franz Boas s The Mind of Primitive Man challenged widely held claims about race and intelligence that justified violence and inequality Now a group of leading scholars examines how this groundbreaking work hinged on relationships with a global circle of Indigenous thinkers who used Boasian anthropology as a medium for their ideas Contributors also examine how Boasian thought intersected with the work of major modernist figures demonstrating how ideas of diversity and identity sprang from colonization and empire The Cambridge History of Eighteenth-Century Political Thought Mark Goldie,Robert Wokler,2006-08-31 Publisher description In Babel's Shadow Tuska Benes,2008 A comprehensive cultural history of the language sciences in nineteenth century Germany In contrast to fields like anthropology the history of linguistics has received remarkably little attention outside of its own discipline despite the undeniable impact language study has had on the modern period In Babel s Shadow situates German language scholarship in relation to European nationalism nineteenth century notions of race and ethnicity the methodologies of humanistic inquiry and debates over the interpretation of scripture Author Tuska Benes investigates how the German nation came to be defined as a linguistic community and argues that the linguistic turn in today s social sciences and humanities can be traced to the late eighteenth century emerging within a German tradition of using language to critique the production of knowledge In this volume Benes suggests that nineteenth century philologists interpreted language as evidence of ethnic descent and created influential myths of cultural origin around the perceived starting points of their mother tongue She argues that the origin paradigm so prevalent in German linguistic thought reinforced the historical and ethnic focus of German nationhood with important implications for German theologians cultural critics philosophers and racial theorists In Babel s Shadow also contextualizes the importance of linguistics to modern cultural studies by arguing that the cultural significance attributed to language in twentieth century French philosophy dates to the late eighteenth century and has clear precedents in theology Benes links the German tradition of reflecting on the autonomous powers of language to the work of the fathers of structuralist and poststructuralist thought Ferdinand de Saussure and Friedrich Nietzsche In Babel s Shadow makes clear that comparative philology helped make language an important model and informing metaphor for other modes of thinking in the modern human sciences Cultural and intellectual historians scholars of German language and literature and linguists will enjoy this illuminating
