Confessing The Faith Christian Theology In A North American Context:

Confessing the Faith Douglas John Hall, This bold work culminates Hall's three volume contextual theology the first to take the measure of Christian belief and doctrine explicitly in light of North American cultural and historical experience Hall is deeply critical of North American culture but also of sidelined Christian churches that struggle to gain dominance within it We must stop thinking of the reduction of Christendom as a tragedy he says The disestablishment that the churches reluctantly enjoy can enable them to develop genuine community uncompromised theology and honest engagement with the larger culture To a failed culture and a struggling church Hall shows the radical implications of a theology of the cross for the shape and practice of church preaching ministry ethics and eschatology Hall's frank and prophetic volume is the trilogy's most practical and the most sustained probe to date of Christian life in a post Christian context

Professing the Faith

Douglas John Hall, 1996-11-22 What does it mean to profess the faith as North American Christians at the end of the second millennium What is Christian theology as consciously crafted in light of the distinctive history culture and experience of North America Hall marshalls doctrinal resources for a critical creative response that stresses God's necessary involvement in an unfinished dynamic suffering world

Thinking the Faith Douglas John Hall, 1991-01-01 As the Christian movement nears the end of its second millennium it faces a crisis that could not have been anticipated at the close of the first thousand years or indeed by most of our own great grandparents Since the most conspicuous dimensions of the waning of Christendom have to do with material decline the decline in church membership and active attendance of Sunday services the decline in financial and physical prosperity the decline of influence in high places such analyses as there are usually belabor the obvious something drastic is happening to the churches Throughout most of its long history Christianity has not required of its adherents that they should think the faith The historical accident of its political and cultural establishment 15 centuries ago ensured that a thinking faith would be purely optional for members of the church But thought less faith which has always been a contradiction in terms is today a stage on the road to the extinction not only of Christianity itself but of whatever the architects of our civilization meant by Humanity Only a thinking faith can survive Only a thinking faith can help the world survive From the Preface

Confessing the Faith Today Allan Janssen, 2016-11-30 With the understanding that confession is a witness to the gospel Confessing the Faith Today investigates how a sixteenth century Reformation confession the Belgic Confession can assist contemporary Christians testify to the truth of God's gracious turn toward creation and do so in the context of the twenty first century's competing claims A close examination of the internal coherence of the Belgic Confession along with an exploration of how that confession might engage contemporary life offers fresh insight into how Christians might articulate what is at stake in the gospel Janssen encourages the church to enter a conversation with the forebears of the faith acknowledging the historical nature of not only the confession but of God's involvement in all creation

from a teenage congregant sums up the conviction that motivated Christian Theology for a Secular Society In these dying days of Christendom the reality that most Western Christians face is living out their faith as a minority in the midst of a culture that is at every level personal institutional and societal secular in nature While most living in Western societies still affirm belief in God and often other vaguely recognizable Christian beliefs these affirmations frequently have little to do with how daily life is lived The idea that the God best known to us in Jesus Christ is actually in charge of life is foreign For most Christianity simply does not form an overarching system of meaning that shapes life Instead life is lived largely without reference to God And to live any other way is often hard In this volume Mark McKim sets out to do theology in this context How does one explain the core historic Christian doctrines in a way that makes sense in a secular culture and in a way that will gain a hearing What does it mean to be the church in this new situation Throughout McKim asks the question so what as he relates Christian teachings to a secular society and to what is actually happening in the local church McKim s goal is to enable the singing of the Lord s song in the new and strange land of a secular society

Crossing the Divide Deanna A. Thompson, Over the last two decades traditional formulations of the idea of atonement have come under heavy attack from feminist theologians and others They argue that the traditional view valorizes suffering and encourages people to acquiesce in needless self sacrificing that it is unseemly to think of God as demanding suffering of his son and that the theology of the cross needs to be rethought in light of the whole life ministry and resurrection of Jesus Equally committed to the insights of the theology of the cross and feminist theology Deanna Thompson takes up these contentious issues here in a creative and nuanced way Her work emerges from direct engagement with Martin Luther and the Heidelberg Disputation as well as with the architects of reformist feminism She finds surprising common ground on issues of suffering abuse atonement reform ethics and the import of Jesus and her book culminates in a constructive and promising feminist theology of the cross

In Quest of a Vital Protestant Center George Demetrios, 2014-10-06 In Quest of a Vital Protestant Center probes the relationship between Scripture and culture in twentieth century US theology and biblical studies It points to the necessity of turning to what Karl Barth has referred to as the strange new world within the Bible for any revitalization of mainline Protestantism in the tradition of the Protestant Reformers in critical dialogue with serious evangelical theology The study includes a historical overview underlying what Demetrios refers to as the fundamentalist modernist great divide which continues to resonate powerfully in contemporary US Protestant thought and culture Demetrios offers an in depth exploration of four representative twentieth century Protestant theologians and biblical scholars spanning from the conservative evangelical theology of J I Packer to the postliberal dialectical theology of Walter Brueggemann The book includes a chapter on the neo orthodox legacy as a mediating resource in bringing evangelical and postliberal theology into dialogue with the core issues of theology biblical hermeneutics and religious culture Demetrios concludes with a critically empathetic review of the postliberal dialectical theology of Douglas J Hall and the evangelical narrative theology of Richard Lints In linking evangelical postliberal and neo orthodox theology to a common search for a vital Protestant center this book will facilitate fruitful dialogue among divergent schools of Protestant thought and culture The Liberative Cross Hye Kyung Heo,2015-03-24 The Liberative Cross offers a theological grounding of the orthopraxy that calls North American Korean women to live as imago Dei mirroring the perichoretic fellowship of the triune God in contemporary social relations through living in imitatio crucis and imitatio relationis In so doing this book emphasizes three elements First an appropriate theology of the cross meets the challenges or concerns of developing reality Second it is a feminist theology in the sense that it seeks to retrieve a theology of the cross that is life giving and liberating for women Third it is a social trinitarian approach to the theology of the cross that can reveal the essence of God to be in relation mutuality and community in diversity The constructive work achieved in this book makes a great contribution to pastoral and ecclesial praxis and imagination What Christianity Is Not Douglas John Hall,2013-02-12 What really is Christianity If all the religious packaging in which it is wrapped were removed what would remain These were Bonhoeffer s questions and they must be ours today even more urgently For in many quarters Christianity is being so narrowly identified with some of its parts cultural associations and past ambitions that like all militant religion it represents a threat to the planetary future We may no longer speak clearly of the essence of Christianity as von Harnack and other nineteenth century thinkers did but perhaps we may still have a sufficiently shared sense of the kerygmatic core of this faith to be able in the face of these misrepresentations of it to say what Christianity is not Douglas John Hall David B. Lott,2013-07-26 Hall s work takes the measure of Christian belief and doctrine explicitly in light of North American cultural and historical experience Hall s theological insights challenge churches to embrace change and develop genuine community uncompromised theology and honest engagement with the larger culture To a failed culture and a struggling church Hall shows the radical implications of a theology of the cross for the shape and practice of church preaching ministry ethics and eschatology Doing Theology when God is Forgotten Philip Gordon Ziegler,2007 Wolf Kr tke is widely acknowledged to be the most important theologian to emerge from the struggle of the churches in the former East Germany Working creatively in the tradition of Karl Barth and Dietrich Bonhoeffer he reconsiders the contours of Christian faith in face of the challenges posed by the regnant atheism and cultural disestablishment that continue to shape the cultural landscape of Eastern Germany This book explores in detail Kr tke s contributions to contemporary reflection upon the identity of God humanity and the Christian church and in so doing sheds light upon questions of theological method important in any context Peace and Reconciliation Pauline Kollontai,2016-05-13 Establishing a shared identity is an important part of any process of peace and reconciliation This book discusses issues and theories of identity formation that can be implemented for peace and reconciliation from the perspectives of theology and religious studies whilst interacting with politics socio cultural studies and economics By focusing on the theme of peace and reconciliation and employing an interdisciplinary approach this volume will make a significant contribution to the discussion of the situation of the Korean peninsula and wider global contexts The volume explores theoretical issues such as political and economic implications of reconciliation interfaith and biblical perspectives and the role of religion in peace making Furthermore the contributors examine practical implications of the theme in the contexts of Germany Northern Ireland South Africa India East Asia Bosnia Herzegovina and the Korean peninsula The book offers invaluable insights for policy makers academics and lay leaders besides being an important tool for researchers and students of theology religion sociology politics and history

Bound and Free Douglas John Hall, In our largely secular postmodern environment theology perhaps appears quaint and archaic Yet Never has a thinking faith been more vital than today says Douglas John Hall when religious pluralism and fundamentalisms abound Precisely because we live in a post Christendom era he asserts serious religious reflection on the meaning and import of Christian faith is indispensable to renewing a sidelined church a disoriented society and ourselves as people of faith Hall shows how in his fifty years of theological journeying he himself has come to see in theology a personal quest or even compulsion to dive deeply into life s deepest ambiguities to take on the perplexity and disorientation of one s age and to struggle to find meaning in the hiddenness of God Christians around North America have come to depend on Douglas John Hall s writings to keep their faith honest and relevant Now in Bound and Free they will find a brief but earnest apology for the theological vocation as well as a personal testimony to a life of grappling with God as glimpsed in doubt question and quest

Reformed Theology Martha L. Moore-Keish, 2020-06-22 This research guide introduces scholars to the field of Reformed theology focusing on works of the twentieth and twenty first centuries in the English language After a brief introductory section on the debates about what counts as Reformed theology Martha Moore Keish explores twenty one major theological themes with attention to classical as well as current works The author demonstrates that this stream of Protestantism is both internally diverse and ecumenically interwoven with other Christian families not just a single clearly defined group set apart from others In addition this guide shows that contemporary Reformed theology has been rethinking the doctrines of God humanity and their relationship in significant ways that challenge old stereotypes and offer fresh wisdom for our world today

Exodus Church and Civil Society Scott R. Paeth, 2016-04-15 This book investigates the intersection of theology and social theory in the work of Jürgen Moltmann In particular it examines the way in which his concept of the Exodus Church can illuminate the importance of the idea of civil society for a Christian public theology The concept of civil society can aid in moving from the narrower category of political theology a term used frequently by Moltmann to emphasize the church s public commitment to a broader understanding of theology s public task which takes into account the plurality of ends and institutions within society The idea of the Exodus Church enables deeper understanding of Christian ethical participation within a complex modern society

Missional Church Lois Barrett, 1998-02-09 What would a theology of the Church look like that took seriously the fact that North America is now itself a mission field This question lies at the foundation of this volume written by an ecumenical team of six noted missiologists Lois Barrett Inagrace T Dietterich Darrell L Guder George R Hunsberger Alan J Roxburgh and Craig Van Gelder

 The result of a three year research project undertaken by The Gospel and Our Culture Network this book issues a firm challenge for the church to recover its missional call right here in North America while also offering the tools to help it do so The authors examine North America s secular culture and the church s loss of dominance in today s society They then present a biblically based theology that takes seriously the church s missional vocation and draw out the consequences of this theology for the structure and institutions of the church The Chinese Christology of T. C. Chao Yongtao Chen,2016-09-19 This volume offers a careful analysis of the contextual Christology of T C Chao one of the most important Chinese theologians and Chinese church leaders in the first half of twentieth century At the core of Chao s Christology is the encounter between Christianity and the Chinese people in particular the Chinese Christians In response to the rapid social changes in China between 1910 1950 he attempted to develop a relevant theology by focusing on the characteristics of Christianity and at the same time aiming to understand Christianity within its Chinese context Kierkegaard's Theology of Encounter David James Lappano,2017 This study considers the social and political aspects of Kierkegaard s authorship building upon work over the last couple of decades Dr Lappano focuses on Kierkegaard s writing between 1846 and 1852 the period of Kierkegaard s more explicitly politicized writing Mission as Penance Charles J. Fensham,2023-05-03 Mission as Penance explores the posture of Christian mission in Canada while also uncovering the theological roots that gave birth to the sense of cultural and religious superiority that led to profound harm to others and to God s creation The story begins by an examination of Johan Bavinck s famous 1954 claim that mission is thus the penance of the church which is ashamed before God and man By drawing on his work through forty years in theological education and pastoral ministry Fensham prescribes a pathway that liberates the church from power games numerical growth and preoccupation with programs and technology to focus instead on genuine listening solidarity and love in action True penance is never satisfied with passivity nor should it result in a state of paralysis For a posture of humble penance to be fruitful it must lead toward concerted action toward change advocacy for justice compassion for the marginalized and care for creation If mission in Canada is engaged in this way the Christian faith might cease to do harm and build a new life giving community of healing Christian Theology After Christendom Patricia G. Kirkpatrick,Pamela R. McCarroll,2020-11-24 Christian Theology after Christendom Engaging the Thought of Douglas John Hall brings together contemporary thinkers to engage and build upon Douglas John Hall s work and to take up his challenge to reclaim a contextual and decolonizing theology of the cross as a means to speak to the realities of life and faith today With a focus on contemporary issues this edited collection critically analyzes and deconstructs the centuries old colonial triumphalism of Christian theology and the church in the West This book seeks to frame present day crises in ways that honor a deeply rooted theologia crucis that does not colonize the other It explores constructive decolonizing possibilities for Christian theology at the end of Christendom
