, 1981 Architecture Theory since 1968 K. Michael Hays, 2000-02-28 An anthology of the pivotal theoretical texts that have defined architecture culture in the late twentieth century In the discussion of architecture there is a prevailing sentiment that since 1968 cultural production in its traditional sense can no longer be understood to rise spontaneously as a matter of social course but must now be constructed through ever more self conscious theoretical procedures The development of interpretive modes of various stripes post structuralist Marxian phenomenological psychoanalytic as well as others dissenting or eccentric has given scholars a range of tools for rethinking architecture in relation to other fields and for reasserting architecture's general importance in intellectual discourse This anthology presents forty seven of the primary texts of architecture theory introducing each with an explication of the concepts and categories necessary for its understanding and evaluation It also presents twelve documents of projects or events that had major theoretical repercussions for the period Several of the essays appear here in English for the first time Contributors Diana Agrest Stanford Anderson Archizoom George Baird Jennifer Bloomer Massimo Cacciari Jean Louis Cohen Beatriz Colomina Alan Colquhoun Maurice Culot Jacques Derrida Ignasi de Sol Morales Peter Eisenman Robin Evans Michel Foucault Kenneth Frampton Mario Gandelsonas Frank Gehry Jürgen Habermas John Hejduk Denis Hollier Bernard Huet Catherine Ingraham Fredric Jameson Charles A Jencks Jeffrey Kipnis Fred Koetter Rem Koolhaas Leon Krier Sanford Kwinter Henri Lefebvre Daniel Libeskind Mary McLeod Alberto Prez Gómez Jos Quetglas Aldo Rossi Colin Rowe Massimo Scolari Denise Scott Brown Robert Segrest Jorge Silvetti Robert Somol Martin Steinmann Robert A M Stern James Stirling Manfredo Tafuri Georges Teyssot Bernard Tschumi Anthony Vidler Paul Virilio Mark Wigley Theorizing a New Agenda for Architecture: Kate Nesbitt, 1996-03 Theorizing a New Agenda for Architecture An Anthology of Architectural Theory collects in a single volume the most significant essays on architectural theory of the last thirty years A dynamic period of reexamination of the discipline the postmodern era produced widely divergent and radical viewpoints on issues of making meaning history and the city

Among the paradigms presented are architectural postmodernism phenomenology semiotics poststructuralism deconstruction and feminism By gathering these influential articles from a vast array of books and journals into a comprehensive anthology Kate Nesbitt has created a resource of great value Indispensable to professors and students of architecture and architectural theory Theorizing a New Agenda also serves practitioners and the general public as Nesbitt provides an overview a thematic structure and a critical introduction to each essay The list of authors in Theorizing a New Agenda reads like a Who's Who of contemporary architectural thought Tadao Ando Giulio Carlo Argan Alan Colquhoun Jacques Derrida Peter Eisenman Marco Frascari Kenneth Frampton Diane Ghirardo Vittorio Gregotti Karsten Harries Rem Koolhaas Christian Norberg Schulz Aldo Rossi Colin Rowe Thomas Schumacher Ignasi de Sol Morales Rubi Bernard Tschumi Robert Venturi and Denise Scott Brown and Anthony Vidler A bibliography and notes on all the contributors are also included 2000 Architects Aisha

Hasanovic, 2006 Doctor Haydock the resident GP of St Mary Mead hopes to cheer up Miss Marple as she recovers from the flu with a little story The tale revolves around the return of the prodigal son of Major Laxton the devilishly handsome Harry Laxton Harry after leading a life of childish indiscretions and falling head over heels for the village tobacconist's daughter has made good and returned to lay claim to his tumbling childhood home and introduce the village to his beautiful new wife But the villagers are prone to gossip about young Harry's past and one person in particular cannot forgive him for tearing down the old house Will Miss Marple's acumen be up to the task of solving the story The Architect Francesca

Hughes, 1996 The Architect Reconstructing Her Practice examines how the introduction of women to the main body of architecture might bring about a reconstruction of the orders that pervade architectural production and consumption At a moment when the architectural profession is beginning to shift from its traditionally male domination The Architect Reconstructing Her Practice examines how the introduction of women to the main body of architecture might bring about a reconstruction of the orders that pervade architectural production and consumption In a collection of autobiographical essays in which practice is both the site and the vehicle for change twelve American and European architects reflect on the nature of critical practice and its relation to architecture The contributors were chosen not only for the distinguished quality of their work but also for the range of architectural practices they collectively encompass from the intersection of theory and philosophy to the intersection of building process and industry Together they present a compelling and provocative critique of architectural culture All show a willingness to transgress the various mediums and territories of architecture to recover and reopen certain discussions lost in the architectural discourse they have inherited Drawings by Architects, 1983

The Social Imperative H. Koon Wee, 2021-07-21 This book contains multiple short critiques reflections and manifestos affording each contributing architect and intellectual the time and space to imagine new social paradigms in China Emerging from a tumultuous history of high culture and complex territorial conditions there is nothing straightforward about the social development of China The complexity of the social practices developed by architects and shapers of the built environment can be explained in part by the last three decades of an intensified adoption of the market economy by the Communist Party of China after an equally short three decades of closed door communist control. There is no political meltdown like the democratization of the former Communist Bloc but there is a constant managing of discontent and resistance across China. At the apex of the many creative and intellectual forces in China, architects harbor and give form to many tactics of resistance. Unfortunately, architects are also the instruments and minds complicit with profit mongering developers and governments pursuing unchecked urbanization, degradation of the environment, exploitation of the marginalized, and the creation of a very inequitable China. This book begins with an introduction that defines the forms and tendencies of China's society as it stands today and it positions the work of a small number of architects and intellectuals who are at the forefront of reforming, rethinking, and even revolutionizing the Chinese society. Beneath the veneer of a very successful China that the world readily acknowledges, a quiet revolution is taking place within the realms of architecture and the city. The social, architectural, and urban theories documented in this book are organized around the established canons of social actions: from mobilizing, laboring, resisting, and mediating to networking, controlling, rationalizing, and aestheticizing. This book aims to put the social agenda squarely back in the rapid development of the built environment in China. This publication is the culmination of a three-year study of social issues in the architecture and cities of China. It involved visits to sites undergoing massive change, discussions and debates among architects and critics, reflections by practitioners about their own work, and activists lobbying for social change. Supported by the non-profit AA Asia, the edition of the contents relied heavily on original input and exchanges between architects and theorists committed to China from Asia and beyond. Since the 1990s, AA Asia remains one of a few unique think tanks committed to the study of architecture and cities in Asia. As an advocacy with strong academic roots, it seeks to establish the differences across various postcolonial and Asian contexts and recalibrate the role of architecture in a technocratic era dominated by the global economy.

Cine-scapes Richard Koeck, 2013. Cine scapes ignites new ways of seeing, thinking, and debating the nature of architecture and urban spaces. Drawing on the author's extensive knowledge, it offers insight into architecture and urban debates through the eyes of a practitioner working in the fields of film and architectural design. It emphasizes how filmic, cinematic tendencies take place or find their way into urban practices and can be used as a tool for educators, students, and practitioners in architecture and urban design to communicate and discuss design.

issues with regard to contemporary architecture and cities Architect Knows Best Simon Richards, 2016-04-15 The idea that buildings could be used to reform human behaviour and improve society was fundamental to the modernist architecture and planning of people like Walter Gropius Le Corbusier and Jos Luis Sert in the first half of the 20th century Their proposals for functional zoning multi level transport high rise living and machine inspired aesthetics came under attack from the 1950s onwards and many alternative approaches to architecture and planning emerged It was thought that the environmental determinist strand of the discourse was killed off at this time as well This book argues that it was not but on the contrary that it has deepened and diversified Many of the most prominent architect planners continue to design with a view to improving the behaviour of individual people and of society at large By looking at and interviewing major figures and movements of recent years in Britain Europe and America including L on Krier Peter Eisenman Andr s Duany Jane Jacobs Robert Venturi and Denise Scott Brown it demonstrates the myriad ways that architect planners seek to shape human behaviour through buildings In doing so the book raises awareness of this strand within the discourse and examines its different purposes and manifestations It questions whether it is an ineradicable and beneficial part of architecture and planning or a regrettable throwback to a more authoritarian phase discusses why is it seldom acknowledged directly and whether it could be handled more responsibly and with greater understanding Richards does not provide any simple solutions but in conclusion is critical of architect planners who abuse the rhetoric of social reform simply to leverage their attempts to secure building commissions while being more sympathetic towards those who appear to have a sincere desire to improve society through their buildings Architectural Record , 2009 Des Moines Architecture & Design Jay Pridmore, 2015 Des Moines boasts a remarkable architectural portfolio rich in depth and quality The town drew wide attention in the nineteenth century with structures like the Iowa State Capitol and the Terrace Hill mansion Des Moines embraced the City Beautiful movement in the twentieth century and became home to well known work by Eliel and Eero Saarinen notably the city s innovative Art Center A contemporary architectural renaissance produced lauded landmarks like the Meredith Headquarters the Des Moines Public Library and the John and Mary Pappajohn Sculpture Park Author Jay Pridmore crafts an illustrated survey of the architecture and design of Iowa s largest city Digital Signifiers in an Architecture of Information Pablo Lorenzo-Eiroa, 2023-05-31 This book proposes a new critical relationship between computation and architecture developing a history and theory of representation in architecture to understand and unleash potential means to open up creativity in the field Historically architecture has led to spatial representation Today computation has established new representational paradigms that can be compared to spatial representations such as the revolution of perspective in the Renaissance Architects now use software robotics and fabrication tools with very little understanding and participation in how these tools influence revolutionize and determine both architecture and its construction today Why does the discipline of architecture not have a higher degree of authorship in the conception and development of computational technologies that define spatial representation This book critically explores the relationship between history theory and cultural criticism Lorenzo Eiroa positions new understandings through parallel historical sections and theories of many revolutionary representational architecture canons displaced by conventional spatial projection He identifies the architects artists mathematicians and philosophers that were able to revolutionize their disciplines through the development of new technologies new systems of representation and new lenses to understand reality This book frames the discussion by addressing new means to understand and expand architecture authorship in relation to the survey information representation higher dimensional space Big Data and Artificial Intelligence in the pursuit of activating an architecture of information This will be important reading for upper level students and researchers of architecture and architectural theory especially those with a keen interest in computational design and robotic fabrication

Analogical City Cameron McEwan, 2024-01-18 In Analogical City Cameron McEwan argues for architecture's status as a critical project McEwan revisits architect Aldo Rossi as a paradigmatic figure of the critical rational tradition studying a neglected aspect of his thought the analogical city to excavate its potential McEwan develops a grammar of the analogical city under the headings of Imagination Transformation City Multitude and Project McEwan argues that the analogical city is critical collective and emancipatory Analogical thought and understanding cities as analogical might open the conditions of possibility for rethinking the critical project in architecture At a time when the humanities and the sciences are threatened by irrational thought from climate denial to post truth narratives and when architecture has seemingly disavowed its critical capacity and political possibility through its commodification as an instrument of the neoliberal city McEwan offers critical strategies conceptual tools figures of thought and knowledge practices to articulate modes of thinking and acting differently within architectural criticism and practice Today knowledge is a common terrain of struggle and thought requires constant reinvention The task of architecture and critique more broadly must be to interpret the world in order to change it Consequently Analogical City proposes modes for imagining the city the subject and the world otherwise towards a more egalitarian and critical architecture of the city Ultimately the analogical city is not a fully developed theory nor is it only an intuitive poetic or purely formal practice as some critics propose McEwan argues that the analogical city is poetic and political it always refers beyond itself towards a collective and critical project of the city and yet it invites a series of formal spatial and graphic operations comprising erasure and negativity followed by substitution and remontage

New York Magazine, 1987-09-28 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Planning, 1991 IAUS, the Institute for Architecture and Urban Studies Suzanne Frank, Suzanne Shulof Frank, 2010 The book is a combined memoir and impressionistic history of the Institute for Architecture and Urban Studies At first affiliated with New York's Museum of Modern Art and Cornell University the Institute housed architects artists and historians who worked on creative design and intellectual projects and would become world renown Its creation and direction was in the hands of its able leader Peter Eisenman Besides a documentary study of the work that went on there among an international clearing house the book is laced with impressions of the author's experience there It has been in the works for over 12 years and was originally financed by the Graham Foundation for the Study of the Fine Arts and has subsequently been aided by Dr Jenny Kaufmann The photographs of the Institute at the height of its activity are included and so does an original ground plan of its West 40th Street office done by Scott Brandi who also designed the book It ends with 27 interviews of prominent members of the Institute who comment on it and their experiences The book should appeal to architecture students and those interested in architecture and urbanism of the seventies when the government in the United States was more reasonable in economic and political equity

Architect's Drawings Kendra Schank Smith, 2006-08-11 The sketch is a window into the architect's mind As creative designers architects are interested in how other architects particularly successful ones think through the use of drawings to approach their work Historically designers have sought inspiration for their own work through an insight into the minds and workings of people they often regard as geniuses This collection of sketches aims to provide this insight Here for the first time a wide range of world famous architects sketches from the Renaissance to the present day can be seen in a single volume The sketches have been selected to represent the concepts or philosophies of the key movements in architecture in order to develop an overall picture of the role of the sketch in the development of architecture The book illustrates the work of designers as diverse as Andrea Palladio Erich Mendelsohn Sir Edwin Lutyens Gianlorenzo Bernini Le Corbusier Michelangelo Alvar Aalto Sir John Soane Francesco Borromini Walter Gropius and contemporary architects Tadao Ando Zaha Hadid and Frank Gehry to name but a few Each chronologically placed sketch is accompanied by text providing details about the architect's life a look at the sketch in context and the connection to specific buildings where appropriate Style media and meaning are also discussed developing an explanation of the architect's thinking and intentions As creative designers themselves architects are interested in how other architects particularly successful ones think and draw and approach their work Historically designers have sought inspiration for their own work through an insight into the minds and workings of people they often regard as geniuses This collection of sketches aims to provide this insight Listed chronologically each sketch will be accompanied by a text which provides A short synopsis history of the architect's life a look at the sketch in this context the connection to a specific building where appropriate techniques of the sketch style and media meaning what the sketch shows about the architect's thinking and intentions followed by a select bibliography for each section
