Agricultural Technology Policy Issues For The International Community:

Governance in International Livestock Research Lindsay Falvey, 2021-10-31 Governance of organizations is less studied than management yet is a key determinant of strategic vision and direction oversight and values An organization's Board selects appoints and monitors Management with which it must maintain a productive interaction with both parties understanding their different roles International research institutions funded by variable contributions from wealthy national governments and philanthropic bodies have specific governance requirements Neither governmental nor UN style bodies offer prescriptions for the expertise and complexity of such legally constituted specialist organizations In the case of such organizations as the International Livestock Research Institute within the CGIAR association governance has been shared across different persons bodies and forces The sharing of such critical responsibilities worked productively when trust was high and funding was approximately aligned to the influence of the sharing parties but otherwise it risked anomalies of imbalance between authority and responsibilities that prejudiced impact The book traces the governance systems of ILRI across five decades of international livestock research as a case study of historical interest that can inform future structures in the international research arena

Agricultural Technologies for Market-led Development Opportunities in the 1990s Shawki M. Barghouti, E. Cromwell, Anthony J. Pritchard, 1993-01-01 Argentina has reformed its public finance system and reversed years of economic decline and deficit spending This study recommends policy options to speed the already impressive progress These options would expand the ambitious reform program already under way This study shows how to sustain balanced public finances over the medium term It describes ways to sustain price stability and economic growth while providing a cushion against unexpected downturns Also examined are ways to improve social services while reducing the size of government Researchers discuss key reforms that could boost the fiscal surplus by as much as 1.4 percent of gross domestic product They look at ways to build tax revenues reduce provincial finances and make social security more equitable They review methods to cut defense spending and revive a moribund education system Additional policy options offered are reforms for housing and welfare programs and pension fund investments The study suggests ways to improve the legal framework for a stronger central bank Also reviewed are ways to eliminate unnecessary administrative agencies and to privatize public enterprises The government's new health insurance program is examined This program offers universal coverage It lets contributors choose providers and includes subsidies for those who can't pay It also requires a minimum package of health care at a set price

Biodiversity in Agroecosystems Wanda W. Collins, Calvin O. Qualset, 1998-08-14 between the diversity of plant and animal species and host dependent agricultural systems Biodiversity in Agroecosystems shows how biodiversity can be thought of not only as the rich make up of a great number of related and competing species within an ecologically defined community but also as the robust behavior and resilience of those species over time and as the endurance of their eco community This book brings to the fore new research on biodiversity in agricultural ecosystems at both micro and macro levels heretofore available only in journals and proceedings papers Agricultural Development in Asia and Africa Jonna P. Estudillo, Yoko Kijima, Tetsushi Sonobe, 2022-12-01 This Open Access book explores the multifaceted nature of agricultural and rural development in Asia and examines the extent to which the Asian experience is being replicated in contemporary Africa This volume compiles the works of top scholars who provided analyses and evidences from household level surveys collected for many years in several parts of Asia and Africa The most important finding presented in this book is that African agricultural development has evolved following the pathways of Asian agricultural development The common pathways are borrowed technology from abroad and adaptive research in rice farming secured property rights on natural resources adoption of ICTs investments in human capital including training and launching of the high value agriculture In both continents agricultural development started in the crop sector which had a strong tendency to induce the dynamic development of other sectors in rural areas Shifting Cultivation Policies Malcolm Cairns, 2017-11-13 Shifting cultivation supports around 200 million people in the Asia Pacific region alone It is often regarded as a primitive and inefficient form of agriculture that destroys forests causes soil erosion and robs lowland areas of water These misconceptions and their policy implications need to be challenged Swidden farming could support carbon sequestration and conservation of land biodiversity and cultural heritage This comprehensive analysis of past and present policy highlights successes and failures and emphasizes the importance of getting it right for the future This book is enhanced with supplementary resources The addendum chapters can be found at www.cabi.org/openresources/91797 The Doubly Green Revolution Gordon Conway, 2019-01-24 Today more than three quarters of a billion people go hungry in a world where food is plentiful A distinguished scientist here sets out an agenda for addressing this situation Initially published in 1997 in the United Kingdom the book is now available in the first edition produced for the Western hemisphere In it the author has updated information to reflect current economic indicators This volume includes a foreword written for the previous edition by Ismail Serageldin of the World Bank The original Green Revolution produced new technologies for farmers creating food abundance A second transformation of agriculture is now required specifically Gordon Conway argues a doubly green revolution that stresses conservation as well as productivity He calls for researchers and farmers to forge genuine partnerships in an effort to design better plants and animals He also urges them to develop or rediscover alternatives to inorganic fertilizers and pesticides improve soil and water management and enhance earning opportunities for the poor especially women Cropping Systems Anil Shrestha, 2004-02-13 Learn the fundamentals as well as in depth details of agricultural cropping systems from around the globe Cropping Systems Trends and Advances is a comprehensive review of past and present research efforts in North America and other parts of the world It brings together biological economic sociological and technical aspects of cropping systems in a single source to provide a reference unlike any other on the subject that is available today This valuable book also points to future directions that cropping systems research needs to take in order to increase sustainable agriculture and feed the growing world population Charts tables and illustrations make the information easy to access and understand An ideal textbook for graduate and undergraduate courses in agronomy as well as a comprehensive reference for professionals involved in cropping systems research Cropping Systems Trends and Advances is a book you ll refer to again and again Topics covered in this well referenced and thoughtfully indexed book include emerging trends in cropping systems research designing resource efficient cropping systems soil quality and fertility tillage root dynamics water quality concerns nitrogen use efficiency precision agriculture agricultural biotechnology weed biology and management integrated pest management the important role that cover crops can play key indicators for assessing nitrogen use efficiency in cereal based agroecosystems the implications of elevated carbon dioxide induced changes in agroecosystem productivity and a great deal more

Strengthening National Agricultural Research Systems Derek Byerlee,Gary E. Alex,1998-01-01 This report provides a brief review of recent trends and key policies in strengthening national agricultural research systems Chapters provide a brief overview of the recent evolution of national research systems and a synthesis of policy issues and good practices for developing these systems including the involvement of universities and the private sector They also focus on key policy and institutional reforms for strengthening public research institutions including funding research management and client orientation Finally they discuss implications for the World Bank in its ongoing efforts to strengthen national research systems

Adapting Social Science to the Changing Focus of International Agricultural Research Simeon Ehui,John K. Lynam,I. Okike,2004-01-01

Climate Change and World Food Security Thomas E. Downing,2013-06-29 In the last half decade since sustainable development became a serious objective what have we achieved Are livelihoods more secure Are nations wealthier and more resilient Is environmental quality being restored or maintained These are essential questions of development Their answers are many varied between communities and regions even between individuals Two years ago in the aftermath of the Earth Summit and ratification of the Framework Convention on Climate Change but before the first Conference of Parties I participated in a panel at the inaugural Oxford Environment Conference on Climate Change and World Food Security The panel vigorously reviewed issues of resilient development and food security This book is a product of the Oxford Environment Conference It takes the essential questions of sustainability as a starting point to focus on present food security and its future prospects in the face of climate change Why is this book important First I believe our goals to end hunger are under threat We know what to do in many respects but fail to generate the finances and political will to change the structures that thrive on poverty Second I believe concern about the environment has become dangerously separated from the fundamental issues of human deprivation Third I believe climate change is a serious threat and I am dismayed at the way nations dither over how to control greenhouse gas emissions and mechanisms to meet the challenge of adverse climate impacts

Handbook of Energy Management in Agriculture Amitava Rakshit,Asim Biswas,Deepranjan Sarkar,Vijay Singh Meena,Rahul Datta,2023-05-15 This handbook provides a holistic overview of different aspects of energy management in agriculture with an orientation to address the sustainable development goals. It covers possible applications not only from a technical point of view but also from economic, financial, social, regulatory, and political viewpoints. Agriculture is one of the most imperative sectors that contribute to the economy across different agro-ecologies of the universe with energy inputs in each stage of production from making and applying chemicals to fueling tractors that lay seeds and harvest crops to electricity for animal housing facilities. The majority of agricultural research has focused on the use of input production and productivity, whereas rational energy budgeting and use remain an overlooked and likely underestimated segment ignored so far while formulating an agro-ecosystem framework. Energy management study is a new frontier of agriculture and is challenging due to complex enterprises, spatial-temporal variability, exposure to pollution, and the predominant effect of the anthropogenic factor on ecology and environment. But it is worth taking the challenge considering the important prerequisite role of energy for sustainable development, which has been evidenced from increasing research in recent times. Of recent origin, there are critical in-depth studies around the globe assessing the capture and flow of energy in the ecosystem, which will help to develop a conceptual framework to incorporate this vital resource in the agriculture management template. This book is a state-of-the-art resource for a broad group of readers including a diversity of stakeholders and professionals in universities, public energy institutions, farmers, and farming industry, public health, and other relevant institutions and the broader public as well.

Fragile Lives in Fragile Ecosystems International Rice Research Institute, 1995. Fragile lives in fragile ecosystems. Feeding the world's poor from neglected rice ecosystems was the theme of the 1995 International Rice Research Conference. During the February meeting, participants assessed progress in rice research and identified new research approaches for reducing constraints and improving productivity and sustainability of less favored and fragile rice-producing areas: these are the upland rainfed, lowland, and flood-prone ecosystems.

Climate Change and Resilient Food Systems Vinaya Kumar Hebsale, Mallappa, Mahantesh Shirur, 2021-02-04. This book provides insights on innovative strategies to build resilient food systems in the wake of challenges posed by climate change. Providing food security to the growing population, especially in developing countries without exacerbating the environment, is a major challenge. Climate change is expected to reduce agricultural productivity, leading to a decline in overall food availability and significantly increasing the number of malnourished children in developing countries. Interventions for enhancing the adaptive capacity of farmers, especially of small holders, need immediate impetus. The policy formulation and development programs must reorient in the wake of the new expectations and deliverables. This book comprises sixteen chapters that discuss the trends in global agriculture development and food system. The book highlights different aspects of household food and nutritional security. The chapters covering diverse aspects address food system, rural and urban food chain factors affecting their sustainability, and short and long-term solutions to make them climate resilient. Important issues having significant implications on climate change, such as Waste management, Value chain, Agri-marketing, etc., are also covered. The book would be an important resource for researchers in food science environmental sciences and agriculture It would also be beneficial for students and future scientists working on sustainable agriculture and food security

Drought Adaptation in Cereals Jean-Marcel Ribaut, 2024-11-01 Learn how to best improve yield in cereal plants even in dry conditions The impact of drought on crop production can be economically devastating Drought Adaptation in Cereals provides a comprehensive review of the latest research on the tolerance of cereal crops to water limited conditions Renowned experts extensively describe basic concepts and cutting edge research results to clearly reveal all facets of drought adaptation in cereals More than simply a fine reference for plant biology and plant improvement under water limited conditions this book spotlights the most relevant biological approaches from plant phenotyping to functional genomics The need to understand plant response to the lack of water is integral to forming strategies to best manage crops Drought Adaptation in Cereals starts by offering an overview of the biological basis and defines the adaptive mechanisms found in plants under water limited conditions Different approaches are presented to provide understanding of plant genetics basics and plant breeding including phenotyping physiology and biotechnology The book details drought adaptation mechanisms at the cellular organ and entire plant levels focusing on plant metabolism and gene functions This resource is extensively referenced and contains tables charts and figures to clearly present data and enhance understanding After a foreword by J O Toole and a prologue by A Blum Drought Adaptation in Cereals presents a full spectrum of informative topics from other internationally respected scientists These include drought s economic impact P Heisey genotype by environment interactions M Cooper secondary traits for drought adaptation P Monneveux leaf growth F Tardieu carbon isotope discrimination T Condon drought adaptation in barley M Sorrells maize M Sawkins rice R Lafitte sorghum A Borrell and wheat M Reynolds carbohydrate metabolism A Tiessen the role of abscisic acid T Setter protection mechanisms and stress proteins L Mtwisha genetic basis of ion homeostasis and water deficit H Bohnert transcriptional factors K Yamaguchi Shinozaki resurrection plants D Bartels Drought Adaptation in Cereals is a unique vital reference for scientists educators and students in plant biology agronomy and natural resources management

Maize Seed Industries in Developing Countries Michael L. Morris, 1998 Divided into four parts this volume first lays out the importance of maize seed industries and presents a conceptual framework The second section describes the key products and processes associated with maize seed industries including varietal development marketing and industrial regulation The third section offers nine country case studies while the fourth part discusses the likely future course of seed industry development and alternative organizational forms Paper edition unseen 29 95 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Cooperation for competition Gian Nicola Francesconi, 2023-08-28 Throughout history rural smallholders have formed various forms of associations to confront access barriers to the market It is estimated that 250 million farmers participate in agricultural cooperatives in developing countries Agricultural cooperatives are considered to be a fundamental pillar of rural development strategies as well as a core institution in the process of governance decentralization and agri business development In Ethiopia where agro ecological conditions are generally favourable 85 percent of the national population lives in rural areas under subsistence or semi subsistence regimes Agricultural cooperatives are advocated by the government as key market institutions to exploit Ethiopia s agricultural growth potential The scope of this study is to improve the understanding of the role played by cooperative organizations in linking Ethiopian smallholder farmers to emerging markets Through exploring the evolution of supermarkets integrated supply chains and global commodity exchange networks this study sheds light on the relationship between rural cooperation and farmers competitiveness Quantitative data that form the basis for this study were collected from the Highland regions of Ethiopia in the period between 2003 and 2006 Findings suggest that cooperatives are not a panacea to boost rural competitiveness Collective action assists smallholders in procuring state subsidy for production but does not necessarily lead to increased commercialization Only when collective action involves collective marketing do farmers become more commercial further improving production volumes and productivity However in the process of commercialization and production intensification quality management is often neglected in Ethiopian agricultural cooperatives This study reveals guidelines for public private partnerships so that cooperative farmers can maximize commercialization and optimize the balance between quality and productivity

Transforming Poor Economies Keijiro Otsuka,2024-12-09 Transforming Poor Economies expertly proposes effective strategies for the development of agriculture and industry within lower income countries in continents such as Africa and Asia using insightful case studies to illustrate key findings

Science for Agriculture Wallace E. Huffman,Robert E. Evenson,2008-02-28 Science for Agriculture was the first thorough quantitative and analytical treatment of the history of the U S agricultural research system and as such has served as the foundation for research over the 10 years since its publication The benefits from public and private investment in agricultural research are immense and should be understood by every student of the agricultural science system in the United States The second edition updates important landmarks components characteristics and trends of the U S system for developing and applying science to increase the productivity and advancements of agriculture Science for Agriculture 2e is essential reading for agriculture educators and researchers Land Grant administrators food and agri industry R D and all others who need to understand the factors that will influence future public agricultural research policy

Opportunities, use, and transfer of systems research methods in agriculture to developing countries Goldsworthy,2013-03-09 In December 1993 ISNAR in collaboration with International Consortium for Application of Systems Approaches organized a three day workshop on systems approaches and modelling for agricultural development Sponsored by the Dutch Ministry for Development Cooperation the workshop was attended by participants from 12 national agricultural research systems NARS nine international agricul tural research centers IARCs and five advanced research organizations AROs Although application of systems approaches in agricultural research and resource management is a rather new field there is already increasing demand for implementation of these approaches This will require a critical mass of specialists in the NARS and IARCs Before this critical mass can be obtained however the experience that has been gained in this area needs to be evaluated further possibilities need to be explored and new objectives and targets need to be set This book which contains the papers presented at the workshop assesses the state of the art of systems approaches in agricultural research resource management and rural planning It also gives an impression of the evolution of this interdisciplinary field and its use in national and international research centers Another less tangible outcome of the workshop was its contribution toward strengthening the network of NARS IARCs and AROs It gave participants and organizers a chance to develop contacts and provided an opportunity to make the first proposals for collaborative programs Special thanks are due to Peter Goldsworthy and Luc Boerboom for their crucial role in making the workshop a success in this regard
