Encyclopedia of Optimization Christodoulos A. Floudas, Panos M. Pardalos, 2008-09-04 The goal of the Encyclopedia of Optimization is to introduce the reader to a complete set of topics that show the spectrum of research the richness of ideas and the breadth of applications that has come from this field The second edition builds on the success of the former edition with more than 150 completely new entries designed to ensure that the reference addresses recent areas where optimization theories and techniques have advanced Particularly heavy attention resulted in health science and transportation with entries such as Algorithms for Genomics Optimization and Radiotherapy Treatment Design and Crew Scheduling

Optimizing the Delivery of Multiple Ecosystem Goods and Services in Agricultural Systems Maria A.

Tsiafouli, Evangelia G. Drakou, Alberto Orgiazzi, Katarina Hedlund, Karl Ritz, 2017-10-18 Agricultural land is subjected to a variety of societal pressures as demands for food animal feed and biomass production increase with an added requirement to simultaneously maintain natural areas and mitigate climatic and environmental impacts The biotic elements of agricultural systems interact with the abiotic environment to generate a number of ecosystem functions that offer services benefiting humans across many scales of time and space The intensification of agriculture generally reduces biodiversity including that within soil and impacts negatively upon a number of regulating and supporting ecosystem services There is a global need toward achieving sustainable agricultural systems as also highlighted in the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals There is hence a need for management regimes that enhance both agricultural production and the associated provision of multiple ecosystem services The articles of this Research Topic enhance our knowledge of how management practices applied to agricultural systems affect the delivery of multiple ecosystem services and how trade offs between provisioning regulating and supporting services can be handled both above and below ground They also show the diversity of topics that need to be considered within the framework of ecosystem services delivered by agricultural systems from knowledge on basic concepts and newly proposed frameworks to a focus on specific ecosystem types such as grasslands and high nature value farmlands pollinator habitats and soil habitats This diversity of topics indicates the need for broader scope research integrated with targeted scientific research to promote sustainable agricultural practices and to ensure food security

Optimizing, Innovating, and Capitalizing on Information Systems for Operations Wang, John, 2013-02-28 Adapting the development of information systems for operations management is essential for the effectiveness of an organization s business strategy Optimizing Innovating and Capitalizing on Information Systems for Operations presents research on the applications of information systems and its influence on business and operations management Highlighting case studies frameworks and methodologies this book aims to be useful for practitioners and academics in the fields of decision management and social sciences

Routledge Handbook of Water Economics and Institutions Kimberly

Burnett, Richard Howitt, James A. Roumasset, Christopher A. Wada, 2014-12-05 Growing scarcity of freshwater worldwide

brings to light the need for sound water resource modeling and policy analysis While a solid foundation has been established for many specific water management problems combining those methods and principles in a unified framework remains an ongoing challenge This Handbook aims to expand the scope of efficient water use to include allocation of sources and quantities across uses and time as well as integrating demand management with supply side substitutes Socially efficient water use does not generally coincide with private decisions in the real world however Examples of mechanisms designed to incentivize efficient behavior are drawn from agricultural water use municipal water regulation and externalities linked to water resources Water management is further complicated when information is costly and or imperfect Standard optimization frameworks are extended to allow for coordination costs games and cooperation and risk allocation When operating efficiently water markets are often viewed as a desirable means of allocation because a market price incentivizes users to move resources from low to high value activities However early attempts at water trading have run into many obstacles Case studies from the United States Australia Europe and Canada highlight the successes and remaining challenges of establishing efficient water markets

Neutrosophic Sets and Systems, vol. 69/2024 {Special Issue on Neutrosophy and Plithogeny: Fundamentals and Applications} Florentin Smarandache, Mohamed Abdel-Basset, Maikel Leyva-Vázquez, Said Broumi, 2024-07-01 A special issue of the International Journal in Information Science and Engineering Neutrosophic Sets and Systems vol 69 2024 is dedicated to the Neutrosophic approaches in research on the occasion of the international and multidisciplinary conference held at the Universidad César Vallejo in Lima Peru on July 8 and 9 This event marks a significant milestone as it is the first time that the Andean region and Latin America host scholars and researchers dedicated to studying various theoretical and applicative issues in the expansive and diverse field of Neutrosophic approaches Since its conception Neutrosophic theory has proven to be an interdisciplinary and innovative field notably growing with the introduction of several generalizations of Neutrosophic Sets such as Plithogenic Sets Hypersoft Sets IndetermSoft Sets SuperHyperSoft Sets and MultiAlism These advanced conceptualizations have further expanded the versatility and application range of Neutrosophic theory allowing its adoption in an ever increasing spectrum of disciplines The conference with its international and multidisciplinary character has brought together experts and scholars from various fields providing a unique platform for the discussion and exchange of ideas on the multiple applications of Neutrosophic approaches This special issue also addresses how scientific production in Neutrosophy focuses on social issues specific to Latin American philosophy In the regional context of Latin America it is possible to state that Neutrosophic tools and knowledge are used for the identification analysis and resolution of social problems offering unique approaches or distinctive contributions to the field of Neutrosophy influenced by its cultural and philosophical context Neutrosophic science in Latin America shows a clear pattern of how scientific production addresses social problems standing out for its innovative approaches that reflect the cultural and philosophical particularities of the region This approach has allowed Neutrosophy

not only to advance in theoretical terms but also to provide practical and contextually relevant solutions to social challenges This special issue compiles works presented at the conference reflecting the richness and diversity of current research in this field We hope that these articles not only contribute to the advancement of knowledge in Neutrosophic theory but also inspire new research and applications in multiple disciplines Selected Water Resources Abstracts ,1991

Environmental Protection Agency, 2000-10 Energy and the New Reality 1 Danny Harvey, 2010-08-12 Reducing and managing humanity's demand for energy is a fundamental part of the effort to mitigate climate change. In this the most comprehensive textbook ever written on the subject, L. D. Danny Harvey lays out the theory and practice of how things must change if we are to meet our energy needs sustainably. The book begins with a succinct summary of the scientific basis for concern over global warming, then outlines energy basics and current patterns and trends in energy use. This is followed by a discussion of current and advanced technologies for the generation of electricity from fossil fuels. The book then considers in detail how energy is used and how this use can be dramatically reduced in the following end use sectors: buildings, transportation, industry, food, and agriculture, municipal services. The findings from these sector-by-sector assessments are then applied to generate scenarios of how global energy demand could evolve over the coming decades with full implementation of the identified and economically feasible energy saving potential. The book ends with a brief discussion of policies that can be used to reduce energy demand but also addresses the limits of technologically based improvements in efficiency in moderating demand and of the need to re-think some of our underlying assumptions. The book ends with a brief discussion of what we really need. Along with its companion volume on C-free energy supply and accompanied by extensive supplementary online material, this is an essential resource for students and practitioners in engineering, architecture, environment, and energy-related fields. Online material includes Excel-based computational exercises, teaching slides for each chapter, links to free software tools. Achieving sustainable cultivation of wheat Volume 2 Prof. Peter Langridge, 2017-07-31 Reviews advances in cultivation practice such as seed establishment and more efficient irrigation techniques.
