The book explores Verdi's professional and personal relationship with women who were exceptional within the traditional socio sexual structure of patria potest in the context of women's changing status in nineteenth century Italian society. It focusses on two women the singers Giuseppina Strepponi who supported and enhanced Verdi's creativity at the beginning of his professional life and Teresa Stolz who sustained his sense of self worth at its end. Each was an essential emotional benefactor without whom Verdi's career would not have been the same. The subject of the Strepponi-Verdi marriage and the impact of Strepponi's past deserve further detailed and nuanced discussion. This book demonstrates Verdi's shifting power balance with Strepponi as she sought to retain intellectual self respect while his success and control increased. The negative stereotypes concerning operatic divas do not withstand scrutiny when applied either to Strepponi or to Stolz. This book presents a revisionist appraisal of Stolz through close examination of her letters. Revealing Stolz's value to Verdi they also provide contemporary operatic criticism and behind the scenes comment some excerpts of which are published here in English for the first time.
