Copyright Office, 1960 Fast Cars, Clean Bodies Kristin Ross, 1996-02-28 Fast Cars Clean Bodies examines the crucial decade from Dien Bien Phu to the mid 1960s when France shifted rapidly from an agrarian insular and empire oriented society to a decolonized Americanized and fully industrial one In this analysis of a startling cultural transformation Kristin Ross finds the contradictions of the period embedded in its various commodities and cultural artifacts automobiles washing machines women's magazines film popular fiction even structuralism as well as in the practices that shape determine and delimit their uses In each of the book's four chapters a central object of mythical image is refracted across a range of discursive and material spaces social and private textual and cinematic national and international The automobile the new cult of cleanliness in the capital and the colonies the waning of Sartre and de Beauvoir as the couple of national attention and the emergence of reshaped functionalist masculinities revolutionary corporate and structural become the key elements in this prehistory of postmodernism in France Modernization ideology Ross argues offered the promise of limitless even timeless development By situating the rise of end of history ideologies within the context of France's transition into mass culture and consumption Ross returns the touted timelessness of modernization to history She shows how the realist fiction and film of the period as well as the work of social theorists such as Barthes Lefebvre and Morin who began at the time to conceptualize everyday life laid bare the disruptions and the social costs of events And she argues that the logic of the racism prevalent in France today focused on the figure of the immigrant worker is itself the outcome of the French state's embrace of capitalist modernization ideology in the 1950s and 1960s

waning of the classical world the world of Late Antiquity This was a world about to perish characterised by the decline of the Roman Empire and its legal system and the tensions between the philosophy and paganism of Antiquity and Christianity The medieval and our contemporary world are based on the works of Late Antiquity This book discusses the disappearance of the foundation of philosophy the knowledge and use of the Greek language the birth of time as being merely temporary the fall of the flesh the role of women in the period and the growing awareness of the approach of death The boundaries of being become more emphatic and closer
