Ahadada Reader I:

Ahadada Reader I John Byrum, Alan Halsey, Geraldine Monk, 2004 Poetry The AHADADA READER I combines the lively challenging work of three experimental poets Alan Halsey John Byrum and Geraldine Monk Halsey's group of poems resurrects past versions of English turning with peculiar spellings and striking frictions of their grammar Byrum's work entitled Approximations is a shifting visual text work mainly utilizing the text block pointing to the form of a word as art itself The final selection of Monk's work rounds out the book with her varying forms and sharply constructed lines At that Skip Fox, 2005 Poetry Skip Fox with the concern of an entomologist presents passages sprawling and pinned in a shadow box of observations and odd lots Framed under double glass the mounting board of AT THAT writhes with a cast of freaks Ezekiel in the streets a kitty bomb squad sadists on steroids the shadow of Cadmus kingfishers omen clad apertures of evening with cicada wings heart attacks of clouds rolling in off the Gulf a city mouse spastic proctologists and so forth all projecting their goods in spate smatterings obsolete creeds mordacious stumps furious opinions exaggerations fabrications neo prophetic stylings verbal molestations elegiac mumblings the silence above a shallow grave etc Currently serving what appears to be a life sentence at the University of Louisiana at Lafayette Skip Fox has worked in woods warehouses shake and shingle mills lumber yards ketchup catfood factories mental hospitals and so on Obsession Carolyn Beard Whitlow, Marilyn Krysl, 2014-03-04 The sestina of medieval French origin is a complex poetic form of 39 lines six sestets and a three line envoy in which the six end words teleutons of the lines of the first sestet stanza are repeated in a specific order as teleutons in the five succeeding sestets In the envoy the six teleutons are again picked up one of them being buried in and one finishing each line Because of the complexity of the form the sestina fell out of favor with poets for several decades However a twenty first century revival of the form is underway This is the first anthology of sestinas that showcases both traditional and innovative examples of the form by modern and contemporary poets award winners and emerging writers alike Organized by such themes as Americana Art Love and Sex and Memory Contemplation Retrospection and Death the collection also includes sestinas with irregular teleutons and unconventional sestinas An evocative introduction by Marilyn Krysl acquaints readers with the form The volume concludes with useful indexes of first lines and teleutons increasing access to the poems beyond the poets names Secret, But Kept it Room Mike Gubser, 2005 Poetry SECRET BUT KEPT IT ROOM explores the development and stasis over time of self as image at once real and artificial subjective and perspectival engaged in the physical world and torn from it a self often disappearing into non self Mike Gubser treats the art of poetry as in some sense the art of experiment and problem solving by placing the notion of self in various contexts romance depression friendship travel memory isolation and poetic forms visual musical lyrical modernist numeric to see how it reacts Mike Gubser has published various chapbooks and a book on turn of the century Austria entitled Time's Visible Surface Alois Riegl and the Discourse on History and Temporality in fin de siecle Austria Presently he is a history professor at James Madison University in Virginia Before then he worked as a high school teacher a writer for an international development organization an instructor at San Quentin Penitentiary and an English teacher in Czechoslovakia China Notes & the Treasures of Dunhuang Jerome Rothenberg,2006 Poetry The China Notes come from a trip in 2002 that brought us out as far as the Gobi Desert allowed me to see some of the changes continuities throughout the country I was traveling with poet scholar Wai lim Yip had a chance to read poetry in five or six cities to observe things as part of an ongoing discourse with Wai lim others The ancient beauty of some of what we saw played out against the theme park quality of other simulacra of the past A sense of beckoning wilderness wildness in a landscape already cut into to serve the human need for power control So Jerome Rothenberg describes the events behind the poems in this small volume a continuation of his lifelong exploration of poetry and the search for a language to invoke the newness and strangeness both of what we observe and what we can imagine

~~~~~ Kikuko Otake,2007 Lives of the Poets Alan Halsey,2009 Poetry This new book by Alan Halsey comprises 191 poems of the lives of British poets Each Life is a poem distilled in a few highly concentrated lines and a life may be revealed in a tiny concatenation of phrase and fragment Pithy allusive and sympathetic the lives celebrate poets from Chaucer to Lionel Johnson The famous Wyatt W S Milton Pope two Coleridges two Brownings appear alongside the lesser known The result is a must read book by one of the best living British poets LIVES OF THE POETS is gorgeously produced by Five Seasons Halsey is the publisher of West House Books and the author of many books available from SPD the most recent of which is MARGINALIEN also by Five Seasons

Not Everything Remotely Alan Halsey,2006 Not Everything Remotely is the widest ranging gathering of Halsey s poems to date Some have not previously been published while many appeared in fugitive editions and collections now out of print It brings together poems which slowly developed into broadly related sequences such as the verse letters begun in 1979 as communiques from the Welsh border and continued into the 90s tracking the savageries of the Thatcher years It also collects his emblem poems in which traditional devices are reworked within the modernist perspective these and other short poems veer between political epigram and an Ars Poetica Of his recent work there is a selection from the sequence in progress A Looking Glass for Logoclasts Halsey s poems often draw on familiar forms of discourse such as the financial philosophical and journalistic set alongside the specialist and marginal vocabularies used in such studies as linguistics ufology and the paranormal they may or may not be a satire which is enacted in the absence of a validated hierarchy of discourse Tim Woods

Poetry Project ,2002 The Richard Peabody Reader Richard Peabody,Michael Dirda,2015-04-01 Filling an important gap in the literary world The Richard Peabody Reader is a wide ranging selection of this great writer s poetry and prose As a publisher Peabody s steadfast dedication to that which is new challenging innovative and dynamic has won him a wide reputation among writers whose work he has championed This volume demonstrates those same values embodied in nearly four decades of fiercely smart sophisticated and often very funny writing From his first collection of poems I m in Love with the Morton Salt Girl to his most recent collection of short stories Blue Suburban Skies Peabody has established and developed a thoroughly unique voice both warm and piercing to deliver content that ranges from the hilarious as in the short story Flea Wars to the bittersweet as in the poem The Other Man is Always French to the elegiac as in the poem in Civil War Pieta to the absurd as in the rollicking farce of the short story Bad Day at Ikea Peabody's aesthetic is all embracing strands of punk beat experimental feminist and political protest literary influences blend with the purely romantic to create a body of work that is both profound and pleasing

Escafeld Hangings Geraldine Monk, 2005 Poetry Escafeld is the Anglo Saxon name for Sheffield in ESCAFELD HANGINGS Geraldine Monk trawls through this City of Eternal Construction concentrating mainly on the enigmatic figure of Mary Queen of Scots who was imprisoned there from 1570 until 1584 Without assuming personae ESCAFELD HANGINGS offers a psychological mapping of political imprisonment with its implications for our own time It also presents a Queen of Scots who escapes into the future and talks as freely of Ikea and the Robin Hood Airport as of stomachers and jesters In the final sequence Monk views our contemporary political landscape from the seclusion of her garden shed Includes a CD of a performances of Mary Through the Looking Glass by Geraldine Monk and Ligia Roque

The Routledge Global Haiku Reader James Shea, Grant Caldwell, 2023-06-30 The Routledge Global Haiku Reader provides a historical overview and comprehensive examination of haiku across the world in numerous languages poetic movements and cultural contexts Offering an extensive critical perspective this volume provides leading essays by poets and scholars who explore haiku's various global developments demonstrating the form's complex and sometimes contradictory manifestations from the twentieth century to the present The sixteen chapters are carefully organized into categories that reflect the salient areas of practice and study Haiku in Transit Haiku and Social Consciousness Haiku and Experimentation and The Future of Global Haiku An insightful introduction surveys haiku's influence beyond Japan and frames the collection historically and culturally questioning commonly held assumptions about haiku and laying the groundwork for new ways of seeing the form Haiku's elusiveness its resistance to definition is partly what keeps it so relevant today and this book traces the many ways in which this global verse form has evolved The Routledge Global Haiku Reader ushers haiku into the twenty first century in a critically minded and historically informed manner for a new generation of readers and writers and will appeal to students and researchers in Asian studies literary studies comparative literature creative writing and cultural studies

Masako's Story Kikuko Otake, 2011-12-28 On August 6 1945 when the world's first atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima the Furuta family was living one mile away from the hypocenter Five year old Kikuko her mother Masako and her two brothers barely escaped with their lives However their soldier father was not so fortunate Masako never talked about her family's experiences on that day and the grim days following the bombing Then one day Masako started to talk about what happened breaking a silence of nearly fifty years Written by Kikuko Furuta Otake now a retired assistant professor of Japanese in the United States Masako's story is a collection of prose poetry based on the true story of her family's tragedy It is written with an Objectivist lineation similar in its understated power to Charles Reznikoff's Testimony Kikuko Otake's Masako's Story is a powerful addition to the literature of the Atomic Bomb and yet more evidence that we should all work together to stop the Nuclear madness

The Narration of China (Part 1) Chen Zhi, 2025 Part 1 of the Festschrift in honor of William H Nienhauser's 80th birthday features ten academic papers that explore unearthed texts official historical records ancient documents and poems spanning from the pre Qin to Han eras

Ahadada Reader 3 Mary-Marcia Casoly, Katherine Hastings, Melanie Lynn Moro-huber, Jack Foley, 2011-03-01 Poetry AHADADA READER 3 is a compendium of four chapbooks Australia Dreaming by Mary Marcia Casoly Fog and Light by Katherine Hastings The Memory of Paper by Melanie L Moro Huber and A Disordered City by Jack Foley The poems in this collection despite the interestingly various voices of the four poets have one thing in common they do what poems are meant to do take you to places you've never been show you things you've never seen test the limits of what we've come complacently to accept as poetic language and take the risk of being honest to themselves How exciting to see four poets doing their own thing the real thing R H W Dillard

The Narration of China (Part 2) Chen Zhi, 2025 Part 2 of the Festschrift in honor of William H Nienhauser's 80th birthday features twelve papers that explore the fascinating world of poetry and fiction from the Tang era and beyond

Tradition, Translation, Trauma Jan Parker, Timothy Mathews, 2011-06-30 Tradition Trauma Translation is concerned with how Classic texts mainly Greek and Latin but also Arabic and Portuguese become present in later cultures and how they resonate in the modern A distinguished international team of contributors and responders examine the topic in different ways Some discuss singular encounters with the Classic those of Heaney Pope Fellini Freud Ibn Qutayba Cavafy and others and show how translations engage with the affective impact of texts over time and space Poet translator contributors draw on their own experience here Others offer images of translation as movement of a text over time space language and culture Some of these images are resistant even violent tradition as silencing translation as decapitation cannibalistic reception Others pose searching questions about the interaction of modernity with tradition what is entailed in The Price of the Modern Drawing as it does on Classical Modernist Translation Reception Comparative Literary and Intercultural Studies the volume has the potential to suggest critiques of practice in these disciplines but also concerns that are common to all these fields
