Aharon Appelfeld:

Aharon Appelfeld Yig'al Shyarts, 2001 A compelling study of the entire oeuvre of a widely published Israeli writer now available in English Aharon Appelfeld's Fiction Emily Miller Budick, 2005-01-17 How can a fictional text adequately or meaningfully represent the events of the Holocaust Drawing on philosopher Stanley Cavell's ideas about acknowledgment as a respectful attentiveness to the world Emily Miller Budick develops a penetrating philosophical analysis of major works by internationally prominent Israeli writer Aharon Appelfeld Through sensitive discussions of the novels Badenheim 1939 The Iron Tracks The Age of Wonders and Tzili and the autobiographical work The Story of My Life Budick reveals the compelling art with which Appelfeld renders the sights sensations and experiences of European Jewish life preceding during and after the Second World War She argues that it is through acknowledging the incompleteness of our knowledge and understanding of the catastrophe that Appelfeld's fiction produces not only its stunning aesthetic power but its affirmation and faith in both the human and the divine This beautifully written book provides a moving introduction to the work of an important and powerful writer and an enlightening meditation on how fictional texts deepen our understanding of historical events Jewish Literature and Culture Alvin H Rosenfeld editor For Every Sin Aharon Appelfeld, 1996 By one of Israel's preeminent authors For Every Sin is a haunting story of a Holocaust survivor's odyssey across Europe and his struggle to find redemption in the aftermath of his experience Encounter with Aharon Appelfeld Aharon Appelfeld, 2003 Aharon Appelfeld is one of the undisputed giants of contemporary Israeli literature This volume brings together critical papers presented at an international symposium on the work of Aharon Appelfeld held at York University Toronto It also includes a number of original short stories by Aharon Appelfeld in English translation a long interview and for the first time a complete bibliography of Appelfeld's works as well as secondary sources on him The Age of Wonders Aharon Appelfeld, 1981

Aharon Appelfeld Gilah Ramraz-Ra'ukh, 1994 The contemporary Hebrew novelist Aharon Appelfeld is one of the foremost chroniclers of the impact of the Holocaust on the human psyche His fiction weaves sensitive and disturbing tales about individuals in the pre and post Holocaust worlds In the first book devoted entirely to Appelfeld's work Gilah Ramras Rauch explores his life his shattered universe and the development of his unique esthetic A book by book analysis of his entire body of fiction short stories novellas and novels from the early 1960s to the early 1990s including such works as Smoke Tzili The Story of a Life Badenheim 1939 and Katerina provides a perceptive guide to Appelfeld's enchanted yet terrifying fictional world Unto the Soul Aharon Appelfeld, 1994 In turn of the century Eastern Europe a brother and sister have been chosen to guard an ancient cemetery of Jewish martyrs situated on an isolated mountain The endless snows protect them from the pogroms and plagues that rage in the world below but that same protective blanket cuts them off from their people and tradition Escape from loneliness from wavering piety and from the burgeoning desire they feel for one another becomes impossible A parable for our times by the writer whom Irving Howe called one of the best novelists alive Unto the Soul lays bare the deepest stirrings of religious feeling and despair within the human soul From the Trade Paperback edition The Story of a Life Aharon Appelfeld,2024-08-15 An astonishing memoir of the Holocaust through the eyes of a child and an exquisite meditation on memory and trauma Aharon Appelfeld was the beloved only child of middle class Jewish parents living in what is now Ukraine at the outbreak of World War Two Their peaceful life is upended when soldiers invade their town His mother is shot dead in her own garden The then seven year old Aharon does not witness her murder but he does hear her scream Aharon and his father are sent to a concentration camp and separated Memory and trauma combine to create a patchwork of reminiscences Aharon is ten years old when he escapes from the camp into the forests of Ukraine and is overwhelmed by the sight of an apple tree laden with fruit Living off the land for two years before making the long journey south to Italy and eventually Israel and freedom Appelfeld finally found a home in which he could make a life for himself eventually becoming one of Israel s most acclaimed writers This is the extraordinary and painful memoir of his childhood and youth and a compelling account of a boy coming of age in a hostile world Truth and Lamentation Milton Teichman,Sharon Leder,1994 The stories and poems in Truth and Lamentation written during and after the Holocaust reveal the human faces hidden behind the all too familiar statistics of the event International in scope this volume brings together 20 short stories and 90 poems commenting on the essentially incomprehensible nature of the Holocaust Milton Teichman and Sharon Leder have drawn from a remarkably varied range of writers representing nine languages and including both Jews and Gentiles The contributors include the well known and the as yet unknown A critical introduction places the selections within two broad categories of literary response to the Holocaust truth-telling and lamentation The first reflects the desire of writers to transmit multiple truths the second expresses sorrow and loss Fragments of Hell Dvir Abramovich,2019-06-03 In this compelling and engaging book Dvir Abramovich introduces readers to several landmark novels poems and stories that have become classics in the Israeli Holocaust canon Discussed are iconic writers such as Aharon Appelfeld Dan Pagis Etgar Keret Yoram Kaniuk Uri Tzvi Greenberg and Ka Tzetnik and their attempts to come to terms with the unprecedented trauma and its aftereffects Scholarly yet deeply accessible to both students and to the public this illuminating volume offers a wide ranging introduction to the intersection between literature and the Shoah and the linguistic stylistic and ethical difficulties inherent in representing this catastrophe in fiction Exploring narratives by survivors and by those who wrote about the European genocide from a distance each chapter contains a compassionate and thoughtful analysis of the author s individual opus accompanied by a comprehensive exploration of their biography and the major themes that underpin their corpus The rich and sophisticated discussions and interpretations contained in this masterful set of essays are sure to become essential reading for those seeking to better understand the responses by Hebrew writers to the immense tragedy that befell their people The world of Aharon Appelfeld Risa Domb,Aharon Appelfeld,2005 Czernowitz at 100 Joshua A. Fogel,Keith Weiser,2010-04-02 Czernowitz at 100 represents a collection based on the proceedings of a 2008 international conference convened at York University in Toronto Each chapter looks back at a portion over a long century one marked with the mass migration of Ashkenazi Jews across the globe two world wars the Holocaust the birth of Israel and the rise and fall of the Soviet bloc They assess the achievements and fate of those who participated in the 1908 Yiddish Language Conference that was held at Czernowitz now known as Chernivtsi Ukraine Featuring contributions from a new generation of scholars re-examining eastern European Jewish life the successes and failures of the Yiddishist movement are examined The contributors discuss how Yiddishism a fascinating example of language based nationalism shaped the political and cultural landscape of territorially dispersed Jews across Eastern Europe and the world during the twentieth century The Age of Wonders Aharon Apelfeld, 1981 Describes the response of two generations of a Jewish family to the anti-Semitism of the Nazis in an Austrian town Between Witness and Testimony Michael Bernard-Donals, Richard Glejzer, 2001-10-19 Examines the ethical and pedagogical stakes of representing the Holocaust in books films and museum exhibits Admitting the Holocaust Lawrence L. Langer, 1996-06-20 In the face of the Holocaust writes Lawrence L. Langer our age clings to the stable relics of faded eras as if ideas like natural innocence innate dignity the inviolable spirit and the triumph of art over reality were immured in some kind of immortal shrine immune to the ravages of history and time But these ideas have been ravaged and in Admitting the Holocaust Langer presents a series of essays that represent his effort over nearly a decade to wrestle with this rupture in human values and to see the Holocaust as it really was His vision is necessarily dark but he does not see the Holocaust as a warrant for futility or as a witness to the death of hope It is a summons to reconsider our values and rethink what it means to be a human being These penetrating and often gripping essays cover a wide range of issues from the Holocaust's relation to time and memory to its portrayal in literature to its use and abuse by culture to its role in reshaping our sense of history's legacy In many Langer examines the ways in which accounts of the Holocaust in history literature film and theology have extended and sometimes limited our insight into an event that is often said to defy understanding itself He singles out Cynthia Ozick as one of the few American writers who can meet the challenge of imagining mass murder without flinching and who can distinguish between myth and truth On the other hand he finds Bernard Malamud's literary treatment of the Holocaust never entirely successful it seems to have been a threat to Malamud's vision of man's basic dignity and he argues that William Styron's portrayal of the commandant of Auschwitz in Sophie's Choice pushed Nazi violence to the periphery of the novel where it disturbed neither the author nor his readers He is especially acute in his discussion of the language used to describe the Holocaust arguing that much of it is used to console rather than to confront He notes that when we speak of the survivor instead of the victim of martyrdom instead of murder regard being gassed as dying with dignity or evoke the redemptive rather than grievous power of memory we draw on an arsenal of words that tends to build verbal fences between what we are mentally willing or able to face and the harrowing reality of the camps and ghettos A respected Holocaust scholar and author of Holocaust Testimonies: The Ruins of Memory winner of the 1991 National Book

Critics Circle Award for criticism Langer offers a view of this catastrophe that is candid and disturbing and yet hopeful in its belief that the testimony of witnesses in diaries journals memoirs and on videotape and the unflinching imagination of literary artists can still offer us access to one of the darkest episodes in the twentieth century

How Young Holocaust Survivors Rebuilt Their Lives Françoise S. Ouzan, 2021-12-22 Shines light to the world through the individual stories of people who came through darkness a book of courage strength and inspiration The Jerusalem Report Drawing on testimonies memoirs and personal interviews of Holocaust survivors Fran oise S Ouzan reveals how the experience of Nazi persecution impacted their personal reconstruction rehabilitation and reintegration into a free society She sheds light on the life trajectories of various groups of Jews including displaced persons partisan fighters hidden children and refugees from Nazism Ouzan shows that personal success is not only a unifying factor among these survivors but is part of an ethos that unified ideas of homeland social justice togetherness and individual aspirations in the redemptive experience Exploring how Holocaust survivors rebuilt their lives after World War II Ouzan tells the story of how they coped with adversity and psychic trauma to contribute to the culture and society of their country of residence

But There Was Love Michal Govrin, Dana Freibach-Heifetz, Etty BenZaken, Raya Morag, 2025-04-21 But There Was Love Shaping the Memory of the Shoah proposes a new paradigm for Shoah remembrance in today s cultural and political reality It derives from the four year workings of a group of researchers and artists at The Van Leer Jerusalem Institute led by Michal Govrin The group positions the extraordinary Jewish and non Jewish human struggle in facing dehumanization and extermination as the essence of the Shoah challenging us with a profound ethical call

The Elsewhere Adam Zachary Newton, 2005-08-03 The Elsewhere Or midbar biblical Hebrew for both wilderness and speech A place of possession and dispossession loss and nostalgia But also a place that speaks Ingeniously using a Talmudic interpretive formula about the disposition of boundaries Newton explores narratives of place flight border and beyond The writers of The Elsewhere are a disparate company of twentieth century memoirists and fabulists from the Levant Palestine Israel Egypt and East Central Europe Together their texts cunningly paired so as to speak to one another in mutually revelatory ways narrate the paradox of the near distance

A Sense of the World John Gibson, Wolfgang Huemer, Luca Pocchi, 2012-11-12 A team of leading contributors from both philosophical and literary backgrounds have been brought together in this impressive book to examine how works of literary fiction can be a source of knowledge Together they analyze the important trends in this current popular debate The innovative feature of this volume is that it mixes work by literary theorists and scholars with work of analytic philosophers that combined together provide a comprehensive statement of the variety of ways in which works of fiction can engage questions of worldly interest It uses the problem of cognitive value to explore literature s contribution to ethical life literature s ability to engage in social and political critique the role narrative plays in opening up possibilities of moral aesthetic experience and selfhood This remarkable volume will attract the attention of both literature and philosophy scholars with its statement of the various ways that literature and life take an interest in one another
