Aid to African Agriculture Uma J. Lele, 1989 Aid to African Agriculture Uma J. Lele, 1991 The findings of a comparative study of African aid programs in Cameroon Kenya Malawi Nigeria Senegal and Tanzania The study Managing Agricultural Development in Africa MADIA was carried out between 1984 and 1988 by the World Bank and donor agencies from seven countries

Aid to Africa Carol Lancaster, 1999-04-15 5 The United States

Handbook of Agricultural Economics Robert E. Evenson, Prabhu Pingali, 2009-10-20 Advances in agriculture offer many countries the best and only chance of reducing poverty Yet economic growth and population increases are driving higher demand for food and rising real prices What solutions have successfully promoted agriculture This volume examines national and international food agriculture policies and how they enhance agricultural productivity growth It provides unique historical reviews on policies and their effects and it clearly articulates both positive and negative lessons for promoting agriculture lead growth With chapters written by international authorities this book recognizes that agriculture is not just about providing food for today but about growing it in an environmentally sustainable way that can help people work their ways out of poverty Chapters cover international macro economic policies and trade farm structure in developing countries regional experiences in agriculture and regional studies on agricultural productivity policies

The Developmental Effectiveness of Aid to Africa Tony Killick, 1991 Aid to Sub Saharan Africa has been less effective in promoting economic development than has aid to other regions Policies in the recipient countries of Africa though certainly not the only factor play the most important role in determining aid s effectiveness At the heart of the problem is politics and the solution rests in the hands of the people of Africa

International Agricultural Development Carl K. Eicher, John M. Staatz, 1998-11-20 Other topics include market failures food insecurity rural poverty environmental degradation income and asset inequality fiscally sustainable organizations the changing roles of the public and private sector in research input delivery systems marketing and low rates of agricultural growth in much of sub Saharan Africa

Foreign Aid in Africa Jerker Carlsson, Gloria Somolekae, Nicolas Van de Walle, 1997 This volume reports on the findings of an international research project on aid effectiveness in Africa

Transforming Agrarian Economies Thomas P. Tomich, Peter Kilby, Bruce F. Johnston, 2018-05-31 The world s 58 poorest countries are diverse in many respects but they share the characteristic of a labor force overwhelmingly dependent on agriculture Challenging the assumption that mass poverty and chronic hunger are insoluble problems this book systematically explores the multiple aspects of economic development in these countries which are home to 60 percent of the world s population The authors offer a broad based development strategy to raise incomes through agricultural productivity growth and expanded rural employment They present rich new information on the rural informal sector and on agriculture industry interactions and they analyze the impact of macroeconomic and social policies on the rural economy Policy instruments aimed at bringing about broad based development are carefully assessed from fiscal policy to development of new seeds and farm implements The book includes detailed case studies of countries that have seized or missed development opportunities Comparison of the successful economic transformations of Japan and the United States shows how key ideas which the authors call strategic notions have enabled policymakers to act with foresight Analyses of strategic choices in China the Soviet Union Taiwan Mexico Kenya and Tanzania also show how development strategies that emerge from the real world political economy reflect a mix of individual interests and strategic notions The cocoa coast: The board-managed cocoa sector in Ghana Kolavalli, Shashidhara,Vigneri, Marcella,2018-02-07 After almost 20 years of declining cocoa production Ghana has been able in the last decade to increase the share of export prices going to producers and more than double production Contrary to Washington Consensus prescriptions these accomplishments were achieved through reforms that did not include market liberalization In The Cocoa Coast The Board Managed Cocoa Sector in Ghana the authors identify factors that have contributed to Ghana s success in cocoa production These include the accountability of the government for the sector s performance cocoa sector performance being seen as a key dimension of economic management its interest in maintaining the ability to raise funds globally as a reliable supplier of high quality cocoa and its policy of retaining a portion of producer revenues to promote the adoption of yield enhancing measures The authors also suggest how Ghana can improve the efficiency of the cocoa sector through measures such as increased transparency and curtailing services that would be better provided by the private sector The Cocoa Coast will be a valuable resource for policy makers development specialists and others interested in different national development paths Aid to African Agriculture ,1992 The book opens with an overview of the broad trends in donor assistance to the six countries under investigation and an analysis of country performance based on data from the records of governments and donors Discussions are organized around several topics 1 the policies donors adopted toward promoting agriculture 2 how recipients perceptions of their development needs and priorities influenced the amount and form of aid given 3 the context of assistance 4 how strategic commercial and humanitarian constituencies in donor countries influenced the level and content of assistance programs and 5 the comparative advantage of donors with respect to their ability to provide agricultural or other specific kinds of assistance The book does not cover livestock and forestry in any detail although both play an important role in alleviating poverty and in ensuring environmental sustainability The book ends with an assessment of the donors effect on country policies and performance and outlines the study s implications for future donor assistance World Bank Beyond Capitalism versus Socialism in Kenya and Tanzania Joel D. Barkan,1994 Trees, Crops, and Soil Fertility G. Schroth,Fergus L. Sinclair,2003-02-19 Annotation Successful agroforestry requires an understanding of the complex relationship between trees crops and soils This book provides a review of both economic and biophysical aspects of soil use and research in agroforestry with an emphasis on nutrient poor forest and savanna soils Key topics covered include the economics of soil fertility management cycling of water nutrients and organic matter soil structure and soil biological processes The book combines synthetic overviews of research results and a review of methods used in research From the foreword 2The book is written within a particular context soil fertility development under agroforestry At first this may seem very specific and thus limited in appeal and application But over the last decade or so agroforestry research has been one of the most influential in developing new insights into soil biology and fertility and thus provides a very suitable framework for review of progress Furthermore the influence of trees on soil is profound and of significance beyond agroforestry systems so the book is likely to be of interest in the wider spheres of agriculture forestry and ecological sciences 3 Mike Swift TSBF Nairobi Kenya The European Community and the Developing Countries Enzo R. Grilli,1993 The European Community has long been the largest trading bloc in the world It is also on the way to becoming the world s largest integrated economic zone Its trade aid and development cooperation policies are therefore of great importance to developing countries At the same time the developing countries have continued to be of interest to the Community both as outlets for its exports and capital investments and as sources of raw materials This 1993 book analyses and evaluates European Community trade aid and industrial policies towards developing countries their origin main features logic evolution and effectiveness in reaching the goals assigned to them The author sums up the state of Europe s development policies by describing them as regional in scope colonial in geographical emphasis discriminatory in their effects and lacking in overall cogency This incisive re evaluation illustrates the different strategies the EC countries might pursue in their relations with the outside world as they progress towards fuller economic integration World Bank Assistance to Agriculture in Sub-Saharan Africa ,2007-01-01 Sub Saharan Africa is a critical development priority it has some of the world s poorest countries and during the past two decades the number of poor in the Region has doubled to 300 million more than 40 percent of the Region s population Africa remains behind on most of the Millennium Development Goals MDGs and is unlikely to reach them by 2015 With some of the world s poorest countries Africa is a development priority for the donor community A major drag on Africa s development is the underperformance of the critical agriculture sector which has been neglected both by donors and governments over the past two decades The sector faces a variety of constraints that are particular to agriculture in Africa and make its development a complex challenge Poor governance and conflict in several countries further complicate matters IEG has assessed the development effectiveness of World Bank assistance in addressing constraints to agricultural development in Africa over the period of fiscal 1991 2006 World Bank Anne C. M. Salda,1995 Promoting Third-World Development and Food Security Luther G. Tweeten,Donald McClelland,1997-11-25 Experts evaluate the effectiveness of governmental intervention aimed at ensuring adequate agricultural production and food supplies in Third World nations A Different Vision Thomas D Boston,2002-01-04 This work brings together for the first time the ideas philosophies and interpretations of North America s leading African American economists demonstrating that racial inequality has had an immense impact on African Americans daily lives Agricultural Development in China and Africa Xiaoyun Li,2012 First Published in 2011
