Basic Mathematics Prindle Weber Schmidt Series In Mathematics:

Basic Mathematics Rosanne Proga,1991-01-01      Foundations and Fundamental Concepts of Mathematics Howard Eves,2012-04-10 Third edition of popular undergraduate level text offers historic overview readable treatment of mathematics before Euclid Euclid's Elements non Euclidean geometry algebraic structure formal axiomatics sets more Problems some with solutions Bibliography      Problem Solving ... a Basic Mathematics Goal Steven P. Meiring,1981      The Future of Post-Human Mathematical Logic Peter Baofu,2009-03-26 Why should mathematical logic be grounded on the basis of some formal requirements in the way that it has been developed since its classical emergence as a hybrid field of mathematics and logic in the 19th century or earlier Contrary to conventional wisdom the foundation of mathematic logic has been grounded on some false or dogmatic assumptions which have much impoverished the pursuit of knowledge This is not to say that mathematical logic has been useless Quite on the contrary it has been quite influential in shaping the way that reality is to be understood in numerous fields of knowledge by learning from the mathematical study of logic and its reverse the logical study of mathematics In the final analysis the future of mathematical logic will depend on how its foundational crisis is to be resolved and the contrastive theory of rationality in this book is to precisely show how and why it can be done by taking a contrastive turn subject to the constraints imposed upon by existential dialectic principles at the ontological level to avoid any reductionistic fallacy and other ones like the perspectives of culture society nature and the mind The contrastive theory of rationality thus shows a better way to ground mathematical logic beyond both classical and non classical logics for the future advancement of knowledge and if true will alter the way of how mathematical logic is to be understood with its enormous implications for the future of knowledge and its post human fate      Culturally Responsive Mathematics Education Brian Greer,Swapna Mukhopadhyay,Arthur B. Powell,Sharon Nelson-Barber,2009-05-20 This critical new collection presents mathematics education from a culturally responsive perspective and offers a broad perspective of mathematics as a significant liberating intellectual force in our society      Euler's Gem David S. Richeson,2019-07-23 How a simple equation reshaped mathematics Leonhard Euler's polyhedron formula describes the structure of many objects from soccer balls and gemstones to Buckminster Fuller's buildings and giant all carbon molecules Yet Euler's theorem is so simple it can be explained to a child From ancient Greek geometry to today's cutting edge research Euler's Gem celebrates the discovery of Euler's beloved polyhedron formula and its far reaching impact on topology the study of shapes Using wonderful examples and numerous illustrations David Richeson presents this mathematical idea's many elegant and unexpected applications such as showing why there is always some windless spot on earth how to measure the acreage of a tree farm by counting trees and how many crayons are needed to color any map Filled with a who's who of brilliant mathematicians who questioned refined and contributed to a remarkable theorem's development Euler's Gem will fascinate every mathematics enthusiast This paperback edition contains a new preface by the author      Hypermodels in Mathematical Finance

Siu-Ah Ng, 2003 At the beginning of the new millennium two unstoppable processes are taking place in the world 1 globalization of the economy 2 information revolution As a consequence there is greater participation of the world population in capital market investment such as bonds and stocks and their derivatives Hence there is a need for risk management and analytic theory explaining the market This leads to quantitative tools based on mathematical methods i e the theory of mathematical finance Ever since the pioneer work of Black Scholes and Merton in the 70 s there has been rapid growth in the study of mathematical finance involving ever more sophisticated mathematics However from the practitioner s point of view it is desirable to have simpler and more useful mathematical tools This book introduces research students and practitioners to the intuitive but rigorous hypermodel techniques in finance It is based on Robinson s infinitesimal analysis which is easily grasped by anyone with as little background as first year calculus It covers topics such as pricing derivative securities including the Black Scholes formula hedging term structure models of interest rates consumption and equilibrium The reader is introduced to mathematical tools needed for the aforementioned topics Mathematical proofs and details are given in an appendix Some programs in MATHEMATICA are also included Pi: A Source Book J.L. Berggren, Jonathan Borwein, Peter Borwein, 2014-01-13 This book documents the history of pi from the dawn of mathematical time to the present One of the beauties of the literature on pi is that it allows for the inclusion of very modern yet accessible mathematics The articles on pi collected herein include selections from the mathematical and computational literature over four millennia a variety of historical studies on the cultural significance of the number and an assortment of anecdotal fanciful and simply amusing pieces For this new edition the authors have updated the original material while adding new material of historical and cultural interest There is a substantial exposition of the recent history of the computation of digits of pi a discussion of the normality of the distribution of the digits new translations of works by Viete and Huygen as well as Kaplansky s never before published Song of Pi From the reviews of earlier editions Few mathematics books serve a wider potential readership than does a source book and this particular one is admirably designed to cater for a broad spectrum of tastes professional mathematicians with research interest in related subjects historians of mathematics teachers at all levels searching out material for individual talks and student projects and amateurs who will find much to amuse and inform them in this leafy tome The authors are to be congratulated on their good taste in preparing such a rich and varied banquet with which to celebrate pi Roger Webster for the Bulletin of the LMS The judicious representative selection makes this a useful addition to one s library as a reference book an enjoyable survey of developments and a source of elegant and deep mathematics of different eras Ed Barbeau for MathSciNet Full of useful formulas and ideas it is a vast source of inspiration to any mathematician A level and upwards a necessity in any maths library New Scientist Pi: A Source Book Jonathan M. Borwein, 2013-06-29 Our intention in this collection is to provide largely through original writings an extended account of pi from the dawn of mathematical time to the present The story of pi reflects the most seminal the most serious and sometimes the most whimsical aspects of mathematics A surprising amount of the most important mathematics and a significant number of the most important mathematicians have contributed to its unfolding directly or otherwise Pi is one of the few mathematical concepts whose mention evokes a response of recognition and interest in those not concerned professionally with the subject It has been a part of human culture and the educated imagination for more than twenty five hundred years The computation of pi is virtually the only topic from the most ancient stratum of mathematics that is still of serious interest to modern mathematical research To pursue this topic as it developed throughout the millennia is to follow a thread through the history of mathematics that winds through geometry analysis and special functions numerical analysis algebra and number theory It offers a subject that provides mathematicians with examples of many current mathematical techniques as well as a palpable sense of their historical development Why a Source Book Few books serve wider potential audiences than does a source book To our knowledge there is at present no easy access to the bulk of the material we have collected

Game, Set and Math Ian Stewart, 2013-02-04 Twelve essays take a playful approach to mathematics investigating the topology of a blanket the odds of beating a superior tennis player and how to distinguish between fact and fallacy
