Cyberspace Cyberbodies Cyberpunk Vol 43 Cultures Of Technological Embodiment:

Sex in Cyberspace Sarah Earle, Keith Sharp, 2016-04-01 Sex in Cyberspace offers a bold and provocative yet sensitively written account of an under investigated area of sociological enquiry While there is a considerable amount of research documenting the experiences of sex workers very little data exists on their male clientele The first empirically based volume on the experiences of men who pay for sex this work presents a significant new source of data The book is based upon an extensive study of on line forums in which both the purchasers of sexual services and the workers themselves can exchange information and views information which is otherwise extremely difficult to obtain Sarah Earle and Keith Sharp argue that such sites represent a significant change in the social organization of sex work and those who seek and use the services of sex workers Shedding new light on men s sexual identity Sex in Cyberspace makes a major contribution to the study of sexuality

The Routledge Research Companion to Geographies of Sex and Sexualities Gavin Brown, Kath Browne, 2016-05-20 Comprehensive and authoritative this state of the art review both charts and develops the rich sub discipline geographies of sexualities exploring sex gender sexuality and sexual practices Emerging from the desire to examine differences and exclusions as a key aspect of human geographies these geographies have engaged with heterosexual and queer lesbian gay bi and trans lives Developing thinking in this area geographers and other social scientists have illustrated the centrality of place space and other spatial relationships in reconstituting sexual practices representations desires as well as sexed bodies and lives This book reviews the current state of the field and offers new insights from authors located on five continents In doing so the book seeks to draw on and influence core debates in this field as well as disrupt the Anglo American hegemony in studies of sexualities sexes and geographies This volume is the definitive collection in the area bringing together many international leaders in the field alongside scholars that are well established outside the Anglophone academy and many emerging talents who will lead the field in the decades to come

Identity, Institutions and Governance in an AI World Peter Bloom, 2020-01-10 The 21st century is on the verge of a possible total economic and political revolution Technological advances in robotics computing and digital communications have the potential to completely transform how people live and work Even more radically humans will soon be interacting with artificial intelligence A I as a normal and essential part of their daily existence What is needed now more than ever is to rethink social relations to meet the challenges of this soon to arrive smart world This book proposes an original theory of trans human relations for this coming future Drawing on insights from organisational studies critical theory psychology and futurism it will chart for readers the coming changes to identity institutions and governance in a world populated by intelligent human and non human actors alike It will be characterised by a fresh emphasis on infusing programming with values of social justice protecting the rights and views of all forms of consciousness and creating the structures and practices necessary for encouraging a culture of mutual intelligent design To do so means moving beyond our anthropocentric worldview of today and expanding our assumptions about the state of tomorrow's politics institutions laws and even everyday existence Critically such a profound shift demands transcending humanist paradigms of a world created for and by humans and instead opening ourselves to a new reality where non human intelligence and cyborgs are increasingly central Frontiers of Cyberspace,2012-01-01 The content of this volume reflects theoretical and practical discussions on cultural issues influenced by increased adoption of information and communication technologies The penetration of new forms of communication such as online social networking internet video casting and massive online multiplayer gaming the experience and exploration of virtual worlds and the massive adoption of ever emergent ICT technologies are all developments in desperate need of serious examination It is not surprising that these new realities and the questions and issues to which they give rise have drawn increasing attention from academics Those engaging these issues do so from a wide range of academic fields Accordingly the authors contributing to this volume represent an impressive array of academic disciplines and varied perspectives including philosophy sociology religion anthropology digital humanities literature studies film science new media studies and still others Thus the subsequent chapters offer the reader a multidimensional examination of this volume's unifying theme the ways and extent to which current and anticipated cybernetic environments have altered and will continue to shape our understandings of what it means to be human Korean Film and History Hyunseon Lee,2023-09-15 Cinema has become a battleground upon which history is made a major mass medium of the twentieth century dealing with history The re enactments of historical events in film straddle reality and fantasy documentary and fiction representation and performance entertainment and education This interdisciplinary book examines the relationship between film and history and the links between historical research and filmic representations of history with special reference to South Korean cinema As with all national film industries Korean cinema functions as a medium of inventing national history and identity and also establishing their legitimacy in both forgetting the past and remembering history Korean films also play a part in forging cultural collective memory Korea as a colonised and divided nation clearly adopted different approaches to the filmic depiction of history compared to colonial powers such as Western or Japanese cinema The Colonial Period 1910 1945 and Korean War 1950 1953 draw particular attention as they have been major topics shaping the narrative of nation in North and South Korean films Exploring the changing modes impacts and functions of screen images dealing with history in Korean cinema this book will be of huge interest to students and scholars of Korean history film media and cultural studies Screenplay Keri Facer,John Furlong,Ruth Furlong,Rosamund Sutherland,2003-12-16 What are young people really doing on computers at home Computers feature heavily in the lives of today's young people and this book sets out to question commonplace assumptions about the use of technology by children at home Bringing together research from the perspective of psychology sociology education and media studies the authors ask whether we are really witnessing the rise of a new digital generation Drawing upon the results of their in depth research project the authors filter and assess their findings accessibly offering fascinating reading on how computers are used in the home how parents and children negotiate access to and use of the computer what role the computer plays in the day to day lives of families This book makes use of illuminating case studies and highlights key issues of concern around issues of equality and access in a wider social context This truly interdisciplinary perspective will be instrumental in reshaping the understanding of teachers ICT advisors policy makers and all involved in ICT for children

Ethnographies of the Videogame Dr Helen Thornham, 2013-01-28 Ethnographies of the Videogame uses the medium of the videogame to explore wider significant sociological issues around new media interaction identity performance memory and mediation Addressing questions of how we interpret mediate and use media texts particularly in the face of claims about the power of new media to continuously shift the parameters of lived experience gaming is employed as a tool through which we can understand the gendered and socio culturally constructed phenomenon of our everyday engagement with media The book is particularly concerned with issues of agency and power identifying strong correlations between perceptions of gaming and actual gaming practices as well as the reinforcement through gaming of established gendered sexed and classed power relationships within households As such it reveals the manner in which existing relations re emerge through engagement with new technology Offering an empirically grounded understanding of what goes on when we mediate technology and media in our everyday lives Ethnographies of the Videogame is more than a timely intervention into game studies It provides pertinent and reflexive commentary on the relationship between text and audience highlighting the relationships of gender and power in gaming practice As such it will appeal to scholars interested in media and new media gender and class and the sociology of leisure

Coming of Age in Second Life Tom Boellstorff, 2015-08-25 Millions of people around the world today spend portions of their lives in online virtual worlds Second Life is one of the largest of these virtual worlds The residents of Second Life create communities buy property and build homes go to concerts meet in bars attend weddings and religious services buy and sell virtual goods and services find friendship fall in love the possibilities are endless and all encountered through a computer screen At the time of its initial publication in 2008 Coming of Age in Second Life was the first book of anthropology to examine this thriving alternate universe Tom Boellstorff conducted more than two years of fieldwork in Second Life living among and observing its residents in exactly the same way anthropologists traditionally have done to learn about cultures and social groups in the so called real world He conducted his research as the avatar Tom Bukowski and applied the rigorous methods of anthropology to study many facets of this new frontier of human life including issues of gender race sex money conflict and antisocial behavior the construction of place and time and the interplay of self and group Coming of Age in Second Life shows how virtual worlds can change ideas about identity and society Bringing anthropology into territory never before studied this book demonstrates that in some ways humans have always been virtual and that virtual worlds in all their rich complexity build upon a human capacity for culture that is as old as humanity itself Now with a new preface in which the author places his book in light of the most recent transformations in online culture Coming of Age in Second Life remains the classic ethnography of virtual worlds

Cyberfeminism and Artificial Life Sarah Kember, 2003 Examining the construction manipulation and re definition of life in contemporary technoscientific culture this book aims to re focus concern on the ethics rather than on the nature of artificial life

Cyberspace/Cyberbodies/Cyberpunk Mike Featherstone, Roger Burrows, 1995 How can we interpret cyberspace What is the place of the embodied human agent in the virtual world This innovative collection examines the emerging arena of cyberspace and the challenges it presents for the social and cultural forms of the human body It shows how changing relations between body and technology offer new arenas for cultural representations At the same time the contributors examine the realities of human embodiment and the limits of virtual worlds Topics examined include technological body modifications replacements and prosthetics bodies in cyberspace virtual environments and cyborg culture cultural representations of technological embodiment in visual and literary productions and cyberpunk scienc

The Oxford Handbook of Material Culture Studies Dan Hicks, Mary C. Beaudry, 2010-09-02 Written by an international team of experts the Handbook makes accessible a full range of theoretical and applied approaches to the study of material culture and the place of materiality in social theory presenting current thinking about material culture from the fields of archaeology anthropology geography and science and technology studies Identity and Social Change Joseph E. Davis, 2011-12-31 Identity and Social Change examines the thorny problem of modern identity Trenchant critiques have come from identity politics focusing on the construction of difference and the solidarity of minorities and from academic deconstructions of modern subjectivity This volume places identity in a broader sociological context of destabilizing and reintegrating forces The contributors first explore identity in light of economic changes consumerism and globalization then focus on the question of identity dissolution Zygmunt Bauman examines the effects of consumerism and considers the constraints these place on the disadvantaged Drawing together discourses of the body and globalization David Harvey considers the growth of the wage labor system worldwide and its consequences for worker consciousness Mike Featherstone outlines a rethinking of citizenship and identity formation in light of the realities of globalization and new information technologies Part two opens with Robert Dunn s examination of cultural commodification and the attenuation of social relations He argues that the media and marketplace are part of a general destabilization of identity formation Kenneth Gergen maintains that proliferating communications technologies undermine the traditional conceptions of self and community and suggest the need for a new base for building the moral society In the final chapter Harvie Ferguson argues that despite the contemporary infatuation with irony the decline of the notion of the self as an inner depth effectively severs the long connection between irony and identity Academy & the Internet Helen Fay

Nissenbaum, Monroe E. Price, 2004 This book explores the impact of the Internet on scholarly research across and beyond the social sciences The contributors leading figures in a broad spectrum of disciplines explain how their fields of inquiry are being redefined and what issues of social change are salient as new information technologies increasingly become the subject of scholarly analysis They have rendered a conceptual photograph of how their disciplines are coping with the impact of information technology by covering policy approaches empirical research and theoretical questions Academy the Internet highlights significant zones of inquiry and provides a critical perspective on the direction each discipline is traveling

Imagining Cities Sallie Westwood, John M Williams, 2018-05-11 First published in 1997 Imagining Cities gives students access to the most exciting recent work on the city from within sociology cultural studies and cultural geography

Contributions are grouped around four major themes The theoretical imagination Ethnic diversity and the politics of difference Memory and nostalgia The city as narrative The book considers the interplay of past and present imagined and substantive and links present and future in examining the idea of the virtual city Here the world of cyberspace not only recasts views of space and communication but has a profound impact on the sociological imagination itself Alien

Constructions Patricia Melzer, 2006-06-01 Maps the intersection of feminism and science fiction through readings of science fiction literature by Octavia E Butler Richard Calder and Melissa Scott and the movies The Matrix and the Alien series This work analyzes how these authors and films represent debates and concepts in three areas of feminist thought Human Nature in an Age of Biotechnology Tamar Sharon, 2013-10-11 New biotechnologies have propelled the question of what it means to be human or posthuman to the forefront of societal and scientific consideration This volume provides an accessible critical overview of the main approaches in the debate on posthumanism and argues that they do not adequately address the question of what it means to be human in an age of biotechnology Not because they belong to rival political camps but because they are grounded in a humanist ontology that presupposes a radical separation between human subjects and technological objects The volume offers a comprehensive mapping of posthumanist discourse divided into four broad approaches two humanist based approaches dystopic and liberal posthumanism and two non humanist approaches radical and methodological posthumanism The author compares and contrasts these models via an exploration of key issues from human enhancement to eugenics to new configurations of biopower questioning what role technology plays in defining the boundaries of the human the subject and nature for each Building on the contributions and limitations of radical and methodological posthumanism the author develops a novel perspective mediated posthumanism that brings together insights in the philosophy of technology the sociology of biomedicine and Michel Foucault's work on ethical subject constitution In this framework technology is neither a neutral tool nor a force that alienates humanity from itself but something that is always already part of the experience of being human and subjectivity is viewed as an emergent property that is constantly being shaped and transformed by its engagements with biotechnologies Mediated posthumanism becomes a tool for identifying novel ethical modes of human experience that are richer and more multifaceted than current posthumanist perspectives allow for The book will be essential reading for students and scholars working on ethics and technology philosophy of technology poststructuralism technology and the body and medical ethics Gender, Citizenship, and Identity in the Indian Blogosphere Sumana Kasturi, 2019-08-28 This book examines the role of women bloggers in the Indian Blogosphere It explores how women use new media technologies to create online spaces that share knowledge raise awareness and build communities A unique work at the intersection of digital culture feminist theory and diaspora transnationalism studies this book brings to light layered and complex issues such as identity gender performativity presentation of self migration and citizenship This volume will be useful for scholars and researchers of cultural studies political studies gender studies women's studies sociology diaspora studies feminist theory media and communication studies
