Canons and Values Larry Silver, Kevin Terraciano, 2019-08-27 A critical rethinking of the way canons are defined constructed dismantled and revised A century ago all art was evaluated through the lens of European classicism and its tradition This volume explores and questions the foundations of the European canon offers a critical rethinking of ancient and classical art and interrogates the canons of cultures and regions that have often been left at the margins of art history It underscores the historical and geographical diversity of canons and the local values underlying them Twelve international scholars consider how canons are constructed and contested focusing on the relationship between canonical objects and the value systems that shape their hierarchies Deploying an array of methodologies including archaeological investigations visual analysis and literary critique the authors examine canon formation throughout the world including Africa India East Asia Mesoamerica South America ancient Egypt classical Greece and Europe Global studies of art which are dismantling the traditionally Eurocentric canon promise to make art history more inclusive But enduring canons cannot be dismissed This volume raises new questions about the importance of canons including those from outside Europe for the wider discipline of art history

Bamboo in old Japan : art and culture on the threshold to modernity : the Hans Spörry collection in the Ethnographic Museum of Zürich University Martin Brauen, Patrizia Jirka-Schmitz, 2003 Hans Aporry a resident of Yokohama from 1890 until 1896 lavished time and resources on amassing an incomparable collection of objects made of or referring to bamboo This work celebrates the collection with photographs both old and new

The Shape of Craft Ezra Shales, 2017-10-15 Today when we hear the word craft a whole host of things come immediately to mind microbreweries artisanal cheeses and an array of handmade objects Craft has become so overused that it can grate on our ears as pretentious and strain our credulity But its overuse also reveals just how compelling craft has become in modern life In The Shape of Craft Ezra Shales explores some of the key questions of craft who makes it what do we mean when we think about a crafted object where and when crafted objects are made and what this all means to our understanding of craft He argues that beyond the cliché s craft still adds texture to sterile modern homes and it provides many people with a livelihood not just a hobby Along the way Shales upends our definition of what is handcrafted or authentic revealing the contradictions in our expectations of craft Craft is and isn't what we think

Beyond the Legacy Thomas Lawton, Thomas W. Lentz, 1998 Together the Freer Gallery of Art and the Arthur M Sackler Gallery at the Smithsonian Institution form the national museum of Asian art for the U S Featuring those gift and purchases honoring the 10th anniversary of the Sackler and the 75th anniversary of the Freer this sumptuously illustrated volume traces not only the evolution of this country's perception of Asia

but also the evolution of the museum and its role Essays by Thomas Lawton former director of both galleries and Thomas W Lentz deputy director detail the separate but interrelated histories and directions of the two galleries
