As Alan Rosenthal states in the preface to this new edition of his acclaimed resource for filmmakers Writing Directing and Producing Documentary Films and Videos is a book about storytelling how to tell great and moving stories about fascinating people whether they be villains or heroes In response to technological advances and the growth of the documentary hybrid in the past five years Rosenthal reconsiders how one approaches documentary filmmaking in the twenty first century Simply and clearly he explains how to tackle day to day problems from initial concept through distribution He demonstrates his ideas throughout the book with examples from key filmmakers work New aspects of this fourth edition include a vital new chapter titled Making Your First Film and a considerable enlargement of the section for producers Staying Alive which includes an extensive discussion of financing marketing festivals and distribution This new edition offers a revised chapter on nonlinear editing more examples of precise and exacting proposals and the addition of a complex budget example with explanation of the budgeting process Discussion of documentary hybrids with suggestions for mastering changes and challenges has also been expanded while the Family Films chapter includes updated information that addresses rapid expansion in this genre

Anglo-Saxon Farms and Farming Debby Banham, Rosamond Faith, 2014

Farming was the basis of the wealth that made England worth invading twice in the eleventh century while trade and manufacturing were insignificant by modern standards In Anglo Saxon Farms and Farming the authors employ a wide range of evidence to investigate how Anglo Saxon farmers produced the food and other agricultural products that sustained English economy society and culture before the Norman Conquest The first part of the volume draws on written and pictorial sources archaeology place names and the history of the English language to discover what crops and livestock people raised and what tools and techniques were used to produce them In part two using a series of landscape studies place names maps and the landscape itself the authors explore how these techniques might have been combined into working agricultural regimes in different parts of the country A picture emerges of an agriculture that changed from an essentially prehistoric state in the sub Roman period to what was recognisably the beginning of a tradition that only ended with the Second World War Anglo Saxon farming was not only sustainable but infinitely adaptable to different soils and geology and to a climate changing as unpredictably as it is today
