The Cybernetics

Moment Ronald R. Kline, 2015-07-15 Choice Outstanding Academic Title Cybernetics the science of communication and control as it applies to machines and to humans originates from efforts during World War II to build automatic antiaircraft systems Following the war this science extended beyond military needs to examine all systems that rely on information and feedback from the level of the cell to that of society In The Cybernetics Moment Ronald R Kline a senior historian of technology examines the intellectual and cultural history of cybernetics and information theory whose language of information feedback and control transformed the idiom of the sciences hastened the development of information technologies and laid the conceptual foundation for what we now call the Information Age Kline argues that for about twenty years after 1950 the growth of cybernetics and information theory and ever more powerful computers produced a utopian information narrative an enthusiasm for information science that influenced natural scientists social scientists engineers humanists policymakers public intellectuals and journalists all of whom struggled to come to grips with new relationships between humans and intelligent machines Kline traces the relationship between the invention of computers and communication systems and the rise decline and transformation of cybernetics by analyzing the lives and work of such notables as Norbert Wiener Claude Shannon Warren McCulloch Margaret Mead Gregory Bateson and Herbert Simon Ultimately he reveals the crucial role played by the cybernetics moment when cybernetics and information theory were seen as universal sciences in setting the stage for our current preoccupation with information technologies Nowhere in the burgeoning secondary literature on cybernetics in the last two decades is there a concise history of cybernetics the science of communication and control that helped usher in the current information age in America Nowhere that is until now Readers have in The Cybernetics Moment the first authoritative history of American cybernetics Information Culture A n extremely interesting and stimulating history of the concepts of cybernetics This is a book for everyone to read relish and think about Choice As a whole the book presents a comprehensive in depth retrospective analysis of the contribution of the American scientific school to the making formation and development of cybernetics and information theory An unquestionable advantage of the book is the skillful use of numerous bibliographic sources by the author that reflect the scientific engineering and social significance of the questions being considered competition of ideas and developments and also interrelations between scientists Cybernetics and System Analysis Dr Kline is perhaps uniquely situated to take on so large and complicated a topic as cybernetics Readers unfamiliar with Wiener and his work are well advised to start with this well written and thorough book Those who are already familiar will still find much that is new and informative in the thorough research and reasoned interpretations IEEE History Center The most comprehensive intellectual history of cybernetics in Cold War America Journal of American History The book will be most valuable as historical background for the large number of disciplines that were involved in the cybernetics moment computer science communications engineering information theory and the social sciences of sociology and anthropology IEEE Technology and Society Magazine Ronald Kline's chronicle of cybernetics certainly does what an excellent history of science should do It takes you there to the golden age of a new exciting field You will almost smell that cigar Second Order Cybernetics Kline's The Cybernetics Moment tracks the rise and fall of the cybernetics movement in more detail than any historical account to date Los Angeles Review of Books Current Topics in Cybernetics and Systems J. Rose, 2012-12-06 This book is a record of the contents of the papers accepted by the Congress Committee for presentation at the Fourth International Congress of Cybernetics and Systems Amsterdam The Netherlands 21-25 August 1978 Two hundred and forty five papers from authors from thirty three countries of all the five continents are included The papers are presented in an abridged form in order to highlight the main themes and produce a book that is both readable and relatively inexpensive It was felt that after the publication of the weighty and rather costly form of the Proceedings of the Third International Congress of Cybernetics and Systems held in Bucharest Romania in 1975 Modern Trends in Cybernetics and Systems eds Rose and Bilciu W O G S c and Springer Verlag 1977 3 volumes about 3500 pages 150 an abridged but comprehensive version would be more acceptable to readers It is worth noting that the full names and addresses of authors are given for each paper and requests to authors for more information and even full scale papers would produce a positive response As a matter of interest each paper carries in addition brief summaries The papers are arranged in each section or symposium in the alphabetical order of authors names this is not necessarily the order of presentation at the Congress *Cybernetics and the Management of Large Systems; Proceedings of the Second Annual Symposium. Novikov, 2022-08-30 Important world institutions such as the United Nations UN the World Health Organization WHO the International Energy Agency IEA and the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development OECD have publicly recognizing the highly interconnected nature of our world and therefore the relevance of systemic thinking and cybernetics as leading knowledge foundations to deal with the complexity of economic social and environmental issues This recognition was the driving force of the Internet discussions held by participants to the World Organisation of Systems and Cybernetics 18th Congress which last September 27 to 29 WOSC 2021 More than ever we needed to debate and develop current ontological epistemological and methodological approaches to the understanding of the future of humanity WOSC organized this event in collaboration with the Russian Academy of Sciences RAS Scientists of this Academy together with scientists from all over the world made contributions to improving communications beyond particular nation states and regions toward the clarification of global issues like governance health education technology art and others Our aim in WOSC 2021 was bringing together scientists and researchers to collaborative debates at all levels from local communities to global societies At the end of the Congress scientists were invited to submit contributions to this Springer Nature book along the following four themes firstly philosophical and methodological foundations for the development of the systems approach and cybernetics secondly the cybernetics of society ecology and governance thirdly digital technologies and physical realities merging into a hybrid reality and fourthly the transdisciplinarity of systems sciences and cybernetics applied to the further development of knowledge areas such as education embodiment of social policies and the arts About 25 contributions were accepted for publication in this book We see this as one of WOSC s important contribution to the scientific community around the world

Cybernetics and Modelling and Simulation of Large Scale Systems Tuncer I. Ören,1978 Cybernetics and Management Stafford Beer,1964 Cybernetics and the management of large systems American Society for Cybernetics,1969 Systems Science and Cybernetics - Volume III Francisco Parra-Luna, The subject Systems sciences and cybernetics is the outcome of the convergence of a number of trends in a larger current of thought devoted to the growing complexity of primarily social objects and arising in response to the need for globalized treatment of such objects This has been magnified by the proliferation and publication of all manner of quantitative scientific data on such objects advances in the theories on their inter relations the enormous computational capacity provided by IT hardware and software and the critical revisiting of subject object interaction not to mention the urgent need to control the efficiency of complex systems where efficiency is understood to mean the ability to find a solution to many social problems including those posed on a planetary scale The result has been the forging of a new academically consolidated scientific trend going by the name of Systems Theory and Cybernetics with a comprehensive multi disciplinary focus and therefore apt for understanding realities still regarded to be inescapably chaotic This subject entry is subdivided into four sections The first an introduction to systemic theories addresses the historic development of the most commonly used systemic approaches from new concepts such as the so called geometry of thinking or the systemic treatment of non systemic identities to the taxonomic entropic axiological and ethical problems deriving from a general systemic cybernetic conceit Hence the focus in this section is on the historic and philosophical aspects of the subject Moreover it may be asserted today that beyond a shadow of a doubt problems in particular problems deriving from human interaction but in general any problem regardless of its nature must be posed from a systemic perspective for otherwise the obstacles to their solution are insurmountable Reaching such a perspective requires taking at least the following well known steps a statement of the problem from the determinant variables or phenomena b adoption of theoretical models showing the interrelationships among such variables c use of the maximum amount of wherever possible quantitative information available on each d placement of the set of variables in an environment that inevitably pre determines the problem That epistemology would explain the substantial development of the systemic cybernetic approach in recent decades The articles in the second section deal in particular with the different methodological approaches developed when confronting real problems from issues that affect humanity as a whole to minor but specific questions arising in human organizations Certain sub themes are discussed by the various authors always from a didactic vantage including problem discovery and diagnosis and development of the respective critical theory the design of ad hoc strategies and methodologies the implementation of both qualitative soft system methodologies and formal and quantitative such as the General System Problem Solver or the axiological operational perspective approaches cross disciplinary integration and suitable methods for broaching psychological cultural and socio political dynamisms The third section is devoted to cybernetics in the present dual meaning of the term on the one hand control of the effectiveness of communication and actions and on the other the processes of self production of knowledge through reflection and the relationship between the observing subject and the observed object when the latter is also observer and the former observed Known as second order cybernetics this provides an avenue for rethinking the validity of knowledge such as for instance when viewed through what is known as bipolar feedback processes through which interactions create novelty complexity and diversity Finally the fourth section centres around artificial and computational intelligence addressing sub themes such as neural networks the simulated annealing that ranges from statistical thermodynamics to combinatory problem solving such as in the explanation of the role of adaptive systems or when discussing the relationship between biological and computational intelligence
