Courage To Lead A Whole School Development Approach:

The Courage to Lead Louise Sterling, Sue Davidoff, 2000 The introduction of outcomes based education has necessitated a change in the leadership structures within schools New education policies have been introduced that are intended to delegate far more authority and responsibility for leadership and management to school leaders than has been the case before This book draws on the Teacher In service Project s experience of working with school leaders who have been engaged in the process of making the adjustment It challenges school leaders to reflect critically on their own approaches to leadership The book offers a learning process rather than merely providing tips or describing facts It is a companion text to The Learning School as it offers a practical application of the theory and principles espoused in that text Education

Management in Early Childhood Development Corinne Meier, 2007 This title presents the management of Early Childhood Development ECD centres for children from birth to nine years old Education Management and

Leadership Anusha Naidu, Thandi Ngcobo, 2008 Education leadership and management have changed dramatically since 1994 with the changes in legislation governing schools The new policies involve the learners educators and parents to a larger extent in terms of managing schools This text looks at these changes and the practical implications of the policies It explores management skills such as communication understanding systems planning and accountability It gives detailed explanations of the new management systems by looking at different aspects of each piece of legislation as well as the way in which it relates to the numerous role players involved in managing a school This book has the advantage of taking into account all aspects of managing the whole school environment in a very practical manner Time is Tight Matt Meyer, 2007

School Level Leadership in Post-conflict Societies Simon R. P. Clarke, Thomas A. O'Donoghue, 2013-07-18 How do different contexts influence the nature and character of school leadership This book is predicated on the simple yet profound observation that school leadership can only be understood within the context in which it is exercised The observation is particularly valid in relation to post conflict societies especially when they have eventuated from new wars Schools in these contexts face highly complex circumstances and a level of environmental turbulence requiring different kinds of leadership from those operating in less complicated and relatively stable situations By assembling an impressive array of international experts this book investigates a much neglected area of research Each chapter highlights the importance of context for understanding the realities of school leadership and reveals the challenges and influences that school leaders face as well as the strategies they adopt to deal with the complexities of their work In particular valuable insights are provided into how intractable problems faced by schools can affect student professional and organizational learning agendas There are also important glimpses of the progression that can be made in schools by Enhancing the curriculum Energizing teaching capacity and Optimising leadership capacity Depictions of post new war environments include Angola Ghana Sri Lanka Rwanda Kenya Solomon Islands Lebanon Kosovo Timor Leste and Northern Ireland The book will be key reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students studying educational leadership comparative education and education policy Taylor's 7th Teaching and Learning Conference 2014 Proceedings
