Creating A Dialectical Social:

Creating a Dialectical Social Science I.I. Mitroff, R.O. Mason, 2012-12-06 The depth intensity and long standing nature of the disagreements between differing schools of social thought renders more critical than ever the treatment of dialectical reasoning and its relationship to the social sciences The nature of these disagreements are deeply rooted in fundamentally differing beliefs regarding among many things 1 the nature of man 2 the role of theory versus data in constructing social theories 3 the place and function of values versus facts in inquiry etc It has become more and more apparent that such fundamental differences cannot be resolved by surface appeals to rationality or to consensus Such for it is precisely the definitions of appeals are doomed to failure rationality and consensus that are at odds That is different schools not only have different definitions of rationality and consensus but different notions regarding their place and function within a total system of inquiry A dialectical treatment of conflicts is called for because such conflicts demand a method which is capable of recognizing first of all how deep they lie Secondly a method is demanded which is capable of appreciating that the various sides of the conflict fundamentally depend on one another for their very existence they depend in other words on one another not in spite of their opposition but precisely because of it

Creating a dialectical social science Ian L. Mitroff, Richard O. Mason, 1981 Creating a dialectical social science Ian I. Mitroff, Richard O. Mason, 1981 Dialectics of Class Struggle in the Global Economy Clark Everling, 2009-12-04 Much ink has been spilled in attempts to prove that humans are only animals and are like other species only aggressive Marx distinguishes both class and cooperative relations as inorganic humans create their subjectivity through their mutual social production They build upon their previous forms of social production and with capitalism become not only an opposition of classes but have the capacity for urban individualism and cooperation Dialectics of Class Struggle examines the historical development of classes from ancient times to present It analyses the development of ancient slavery into feudalism and the latter into capitalism It focuses on the laws and limits of capitalist development the contradictions inherent in the capitalist state revolutions in the twentieth century and the possibilities for human freedom that they revealed It concludes with an examination of class struggles in the global economy and shows the human deprivations as well as the human possibilities
