Creation in Space: Architectonics Jonathan Block Friedman,1989      Analysing Architecture Simon Unwin,2013-12-17 Now in its fourth edition Analysing Architecture has become internationally established as the best introduction to architecture Aimed primarily at those wishing to become professional architects it also offers those in disciplines related to architecture from archaeology to stage design garden design to installation art a clear and accessible insight into the workings of this rich and fascinating subject With copious illustrations from his own notebooks the author dissects examples from around the world and all periods of history to explain underlying strategies in architectural design and show how drawing may be used as a medium for analysis This new edition of Analysing Architecture is revised and expanded Notably the chapter on Basic Elements of Architecture has been enlarged to discuss the powers various architectural elements offer the architect Three new chapters have been added to the section on Themes in Spatial Organisation covering Occupying the In between Inhabited Wall and Refuge and Prospect Two new examples a Mud House from Kerala India and the Mongyo tei a tea house from Kyoto Japan have been added to the Case Studies at the end of the book The Select Bibliography has been expanded and the Index revised Works of architecture are instruments for managing orchestrating modifying our relationship with the world around us They frame just about everything we do Architecture is complex subtle frustrating but ultimately extremely rewarding It can be a difficult discipline to get to grips with nothing in school quite prepares anyone for the particular demands of an architecture course But this book will help Analysing Architecture is the foundation volume of a series of books by Simon Unwin exploring the workings of architecture Other books in the series include Twenty Buildings Every Architect Should Understand and Exercises in Architecture      Urban Design Ron Kasprisin,2011-06-09 Ron Kasprisin s skills as both an artist and Professor of Urban Design and Planning are combined to guide students in how to use illustrations and graphics to elevate their projects beyond the everyday Sketches and plans from basic design elements to complex projects show the methods and skills students can use in forging their own design paths A must for all those on planning and urban design courses both in the design studio and out      Princeton Alumni Weekly Jesse Lynch Williams,Edwin Mark Norris,1988      Creation in Space: Architectonics Jonathan Block Friedman,1989      Architectural Publications Index ,2002      Creation in Space Jonathan Block Friedman,1989

Architectural Theory, Volume 2 Harry Francis Mallgrave,Christina Contandriopoulos,2008-08-11 This second volume of the landmark Architectural Theory anthology surveys the development of architectural theory from the Franco Prussian war of 1871 until the end of the twentieth century The entire two volume anthology follows the full range of architectural literature from classical times to present transformations An ambitious anthology bringing together over 300 classic and contemporary essays that survey the key developments and trends in architecture Spans the period from 1871 to 2005 from John Ruskin and the arts and crafts movement in Great Britain through to the development of Lingang New City and the creation of a metropolis in the East China sea Organized thematically featuring general and section introductions and headnotes to each essay written by a renowned expert on architectural theory Places the work of starchitects like Koolhaas Eisenman and Lyn alongside the work of prominent architectural critics offering a balanced perspective on current debates Includes many hard to find texts and works never previously translated into English Alongside Volume I An Anthology from Vitruvius to 1870 creates a stunning overview of architectural theory from early antiquity to the twenty first century

Architectonics of Poiēsis Simina Anamaria Lörincz, 2024-06-10 This volume explores the meaning of the architectural creative act following the dynamics of the relationship between creator creative act creation and the way in which architecture is defined over time as a creative act both material and symbolic Two protagonists Antonio Averlino Filarete and Christopher Alexander are singled out under the guiding concepts of po sis and poeta faber The book initiates a dialogue over time between their works and concepts engaging two cultures the Renaissance and the contemporary symbolically chosen for their importance in redefining the profession through the prism of its relation to the architectural creative act The core idea revolves around rediscovering the humanistic approach to architecture in and for the contemporary context and using it in order to better understand architectural creation This text appeals to students and researchers working in the history and theory of architecture product industrial design and semiotics

Architectonics of Game Spaces Andri Gerber, Ulrich Götz, 2020-03-03 What consequences does the design of the virtual yield for architecture and to what extent can the nature of architecture be used productively to turn game worlds into sustainable places over here in reality This pioneering collection gives an overview of contemporary developments in designing video games and of the relationships such practices have established with the design of architecture Due to their often simulatory nature games reveal constructions of reality while positively impacting spatial ability and allowing for alternative avenues to complex topics and processes of negotiation Granting insight into the merging of the design of real and virtual environments this volume offers an invaluable platform for further debate

Hans van der Laan's Instruments of Thought Tiziana Proietti, Kees Biesen, 2024-07-26 The work of the Dutch Benedictine monk and architect Hans van der Laan 1904 1991 offers important insights into the ways in which artifacts address the complexity of human physical cognitive and social needs Van der Laan developed a number of powerful lines of thought three of which are introduced here the search for a theory of architecture the establishment of a three dimensional system of proportions named Plastic Number and analogy as the mainspring of human thinking This triad of deeply interconnected intellectual strategies represents his most important instruments of thought and is rooted in the careful observation of phenomena as they are presented to us rather than relying on conventional beliefs Van der Laan's instruments of thought lead us to reconsider the origins of human creation urging a deeper examination of our perceptual and cognitive response to the limitlessness of the surrounding environment On this basis Van der Laan develops a unique philosophy of culture and design that includes considerations on the relationship between nature culture and religious ritual

Although this book is informative its principal aim is to be formative On the basis of Van der Laan s instruments of thought the authors develop a methodology to explore the Plastic Number theory and the many ways in which we perceive and interpret proportion Reintroducing playful creativity and intellectual exploration into architectural pedagogy and design practice this book is a gateway for a deeper understanding of the effects of the built environment on human behavior and the various ways in which the human mind perceives and decodes artifacts

Domestic Architecture and the Use of Space Susan Kent,1993-06-25 Domestic Architecture and the Use of Space investigates the relationship between the built environment and the organisation of space The contributors are classical and prehistoric archaeologists anthropologists and architects who from their different backgrounds are able to provide some important and original insights into this relationship

The Architecture Annual 2005-2006. Delft University of Technology ,2007 Objects in Exile Robin Schuldenfrei,2024-01-23 An essential examination of how emigration and resettlement defined modernism In the fraught years leading up to World War II many modern artists and architects emigrated from continental Europe to the United States and Britain The experience of exile infused their modernist ideas with new urgency and forced them to use certain materials in place of others modify existing works and reconsider their approach to design itself In Objects in Exile Robin Schuldenfrei reveals how the process of migration was crucial to the development of modernism charting how modern art and architecture was shaped by the need to constantly face and transcend the materiality of things Taking readers from the prewar era to the 1960s Schuldenfrei explores the objects these migr s brought with them what they left behind and the new works they completed in exile She argues that modernism could only coalesce with the abandonment of national borders in a process of emigration and resettlement and brings to life the vibrant postwar period when avant garde ideas came together and emerged as mainstream modernism Examining works by Walter Gropius L szl Moholy Nagy Lucia Moholy Herbert Bayer Anni and Josef Albers and others Schuldenfrei demonstrates the social impact of art objects produced in exile Shedding critical light on how the pressures of dislocation irrevocably altered the course of modernism Objects in Exile shows how artists and designers forced into exile by circumstances beyond their control changed in unexpected ways to meet the needs and contexts of an uncertain world

Architects Draw Sue Ferguson Gussow,2013-07-02 Architects Draw offers a practical and invaluable way to help students and would be sketchers translate what they see onto the page not as an imitation of reality but as a comprehensive union of voids and solids light and shadows lines and shapes For nearly forty years revered Cooper Union professor and artist Sue Gussow has taught aspiring architects of varying abilities how to fully observe and perceive the spaces that make up our physical environment Gussow skillfully applies architectural language to twenty one drawing exercises that tackle a variety of forms from peas in a pod to monkeys skeletons dinosaur bones and the art of Giacometti and Mondrian She shows for example how cut fruit and paper bags reveal that the physical world is made up of planes dimensions and enclosed space
