Creating Community With Food And Drink In Merovingian Gaul:

Creating Community with Food and Drink in Merovingian Gaul B. Effros, 2019-07-24 Creating Community with Food and Drink in Merovingian Gaul exposes the manner in which feasting and fasting in other words ritualized actions not performed solely for the purpose of nourishment were central to social interaction in Gaul both prior and subsequent to Christianization of the mixed population of Franks and Gallo Romans In exploring these issues using a multidisciplinary methodology Effros suggests that scholars may assess historical manifestations of the use of food and drink to create and reinforce the social hierarchy Effros addresses the tensions between monastic and lay communities and focuses on patronage through food and drink as a source of informal power a subject too often overlooked in favour of institutional structures more familiar to twentieth century historians

Ethnic Identity and the Archaeology of the aduentus Saxonum James M. Harland, 2025-10-01 For centuries archaeologists have excavated the soils of Britain to uncover finds from the early medieval past These finds have been used to reconstruct the alleged communities migration patterns and expressions of identity of coherent groups who can be regarded as ethnic Anglo Saxons Even in the modern day when social constructionism has been largely accepted by scholars this paradigm still persists This book challenges the ethnic paradigm As the first historiographical study of approaches to ethnic identity in modern Anglo Saxon archaeology it reveals these approaches to be incompatible with current scholarly understandings of ethnicity Drawing upon post structuralist approaches to self and community it highlights the empirical difficulties the archaeology of ethnicity in early medieval Britain faces and proposes steps toward an alternative understanding of the role played by the communities of lowland Britain both migrants from across the North Sea and those already present in transforming the Roman world Shame and Guilt in Chaucer Anne McTaggart,2012-09-14 Explores the representation of emotions as psychological concepts and cultural constructs in Geoffrey Chaucer s narrative poetry McTaggart argues that Chaucer s main works including The Canterbury Tales are united thematically in their positive view of guilt and in their anxiety about the desire for sacrifice and vengeance that shame can provoke Women, Enjoyment, and the Defense of Virtue in Boccaccio's Decameron V. Ferme,2015-06-04 Providing new ways of reading Boccaccio s masterpiece Decameron Ferme analyzes the dynamics between the women who rule the first half of the story Peeling back the many narrative layers within and outside of the framework this book unearths the complications and trickery surrounding gender and death in Boccaccio s world and culture Women and Aristocratic Culture in the Carolingian World Valerie Garver,2012-04-20 Despite the wealth of scholarship in recent decades on medieval women we still know much less about the experiences of women in the early Middle Ages than we do about those in later centuries In Women and Aristocratic Culture in the Carolingian World Valerie L Garver offers a fresh appraisal of the cultural and social history of eighth and ninth century women Examining changes in women s lives and in the ways others perceived women during the early Middle Ages she shows that lay and religious women despite their legal and social constrictions played integral roles in Carolingian society Garver s innovative book employs an especially wide range of sources both textual and material which she uses to construct a more complex and nuanced impression of aristocratic women than we ve seen before She looks at the importance of female beauty and adornment the family and the construction of identities and collective memory education and moral exemplarity wealth hospitality and domestic management textile work and the lifecycle of elite Carolingian women Her interdisciplinary approach makes deft use of canons of church councils chronicles charters polyptychs capitularies letters poetry exegesis liturgy inventories hagiography memorial books artworks archaeological remains and textiles Ultimately Women and Aristocratic Culture in the Carolingian World underlines the centrality of the Carolingian era to the reshaping of antique ideas and the development of lasting social norms The Humblest Sparrow Michael Roberts,2009-04-29 In The Humblest Sparrow Michael Roberts illuminates the poetry of the sixth century bishop and poet Venantius Fortunatus Often regarded as an important transitional figure Fortunatus wrote poetry that is seen to bridge the late classical and earlier medieval periods Written in Latin his poems combined the influences of classical Latin poets with a medieval tone giving him a special place in literary history Yet while interest has been growing in the early Merovingian period and while the writing of Fortunatus patron Gregory of Tours has been well studied Fortunatus himself has often been neglected This neglect is remedied by this in depth study which will appeal to scholars of late antique early Christian and medieval Latin poetry Roberts divides Fortunatus poetry into three main groups poetry of praise hagiographical poetry and personal poetry In addition to providing a general survey Roberts discusses in detail many individual poems and proposes a number of theses on the nature function relation to social and linguistic context and survival of Fortunatus poetry as well as the image of the poet created by his work Jacket illustration L Alma Tadema Venantius Fortunatus Reading his Poems to Radegonda VI AD 555 Courtesy of Dordrecht Dordrechts Museum
