How I Remember It Phil Braithwaite, 2024-09-12 Phil Braithwaite's book takes the reader back to those more gentle times through his experiences and passions of the railways personal stories and his early attempts at photography and processing backed up by photographs tables logs and diagrams He explains the intricacies of the many different parts of the railways such as signal boxes turntables track work points and signals etc Described are the service depots coaling plants water columns and troughs Lovingly portrayed are the men and women who operated them in their everyday life the station staff engine drivers and firemen the guards and porters and of course the passengers Phil describes the demise of the steam engines its effects on the workforce and the public during those last days of steam on the railways in August 1968 This era although sad bringing a tear to his eye was in many ways an undeniably more romantic period in the history and memories of a great railway It is How he remembers it

A Privileged Journey David Maidment, 2015-06-30 A Privileged Journey Volume 1 1940 1962 is a personal and individual account of the author youthful enthusiasm for trains and the travels he undertook in Great Britain and on the European continent as a student and management trainee of British Railways It is illustrated by over 140 black and white photos mostly taken by the author himself as a boy and student The chapters cover the emergence of the young boy's interest in steam locomotives in particular through his trainspotting days to his numerous journeys in the late 1950s and early 1960s with many accounts of locomotive performance supported by an extensive appendix of train logs Some of the chapters are much extended narratives from articles serialised in the UK enthusiast magazine Steam World over the last decade and are also based on ten hours of verbal interviews recorded by the UK National Railway Museum at York as part of their Oral History archives supported by a UK National Lottery Grant The second volume to be published at a later date covering the period from 1962 to the current time will describe his continuing interest and records while pursuing his career as stationmaster area manager train planner Regional operating manager and finally Head of Safety before his retirement in 1996 and subsequent career as an international railway safety consultant
