The Confederation Group of Canadian Poets, 1880-1897 D.M.R. Bentley, 2013-12-11 As one of the formative periods in Canadian history the late nineteenth century witnessed the birth of a nation a people and a literature In this study of Canada's first school of poets D M R Bentley combines archival work including extensive research in periodicals and newspapers with close readings of the work of Charles G D Roberts Archibald Lampman Bliss Carman William Wilfred Campbell Duncan Campbell Scott and Frederick George Scott Bentley chronicles the formation reception national and international successes and eventual disintegration after the 1895 War Among the Poets of the Confederation Group whose poetry forever changed the perception and direction of Canadian literature With the aid of biographical political and sociological analyses Bentley's literary history delineates the group's political aesthetic and thematic dispositions and characteristics and contextualizes them not only within Canadian history and politics but also within contemporary intellectual and literary currents including Romantic nationalism Canadianism and poetic formalism Bentley casts new light on the poets commonalities such as their debt to Young Ireland their commitment to careful workmanship and their participation in the American mind cure movement as well as on their most accomplished and anthologized poems from 1880 to 1897 In the process he presents a compelling case for the literary and historical importance of these six men and their poems in light of Canada's cultural and political past and defends their right to be known as Canada's first poetic fraternity at a time when Canada was striving to achieve literary and national distinction The Confederation Group of Canadian Poets 1880 1897 is an erudite and innovative work of literary history and critical interpretation that belongs on the bookshelf of every serious scholar of literary studies

Pioneer Woman Elizabeth Thompson, 1991-03-01 Elizabeth Thompson develops the idea of the pioneer woman as an archetypal character firmly entrenched in Canadian fiction and the Canadian consciousness Thompson's broad definition of the concept of pioneer can be seen to reflect the history of Canadian women starting with the pioneers of settlement and continuing through the pioneers of spiritual perfection and psychological liberation Various versions of the pioneer woman have appeared in English Canadian fiction since Traill's development of the character type Sara Jeannette Duncan's The Imperialist and Ralph Connor's The Man From Glengarry and Glengarry School Days feature pioneer women who cope not only with physical frontiers but also with those grounded in social and personal concerns More recently Margaret Laurence used this character type in The Stone Angel A Jest of God and The Diviners with characters who inhabit internal personal frontiers Thompson argues that the longevity of this character type in English Canadian fiction reveals an affinity between the pioneer woman and a common conception of the role of women in Canadian society She suggests that the role for women proposed by the early immigrants was an appropriate choice for the Canadian frontier regardless of the location and nature of that frontier

The Metaphor of Celebrity Joel Deshayes, 2013-01-01 The Metaphor of Celebrity is an exploration of the significance of literary celebrity in Canadian poetry It focuses on the lives and writing of four widely recognized authors who wrote about stardom Leonard Cohen Michael Ondaatje Irving Layton and Gwendolyn

MacEwen and the specific moments in Canadian history that affected the ways in which they were received by the broader public Joel Deshayes elucidates the relationship between literary celebrity and metaphor in the identity crises of celebrities who must try to balance their public and private selves in the face of considerable publicity He also examines the ways in which celebrity in Canadian poetry developed in a unique way in light of the significant cultural events of the decades between 1950 and 1980 including the Massey Commission the flourishing of Canadian publishing and the considerable interest in poetry in the 1960s and 1970s which was followed by a rapid fall from public grace as poetry was overwhelmed by greater popular interest in Canadian novels Publisher website Locations of the Sacred William Closson James,2006-01-01 Where do Canadians encounter religious meaning Not where they used to In ten lively and wide ranging essays William Closson James examines various derivations of the sacred in contemporary Canadian culture Most of the essays focus on the religious aspects of modern Canadian English fiction for example in essays on the fiction of Hugh MacLennan Morley Callaghan Margaret Atwood and Joy Kogawa But James also explores other non literary events and activities in which Canadians have found something transcendent or revelatory Each of the chapters in Locations of the Sacred can be read independently as a discrete analysis of its subject Taken as a whole the essays make up a powerful argument for a new way of looking at the religious in contemporary Canada not in the traditional ways of being religious but in activities and locations previously thought to be secular Thus the domains and modes of the religious are expanded not restricted Profiles in Canadian Literature Jeffrey M. Heath,1991-09-01 A series of essays on Canadian authors profiling the writers work providing insight into themes and giving a chronology of the authors life A Reference Guide for English Studies Michael J. Marcuse,2023-11-15 The Weather and the Words J.A. Weingarten,2025-06-17 The Weather and the Words The Selected Letters of John Newlove 1963 2003 gathers hundreds of never before seen letters from the poet John Newlove s archives and sheds light on an author who was to many Canadian writers a literary master Despite his stature during his lifetime Newlove has been largely forgotten and these letters remind readers of what an influential compelling and combative figure he was in Canadian literary history Newlove lived and wrote during a time when Canadian writers were well funded widely read and members of thriving literary communities By the time he died in 2003 that culturally prosperous era had ended Something else had changed too the practice of letter writing began to disappear as email replaced mailed correspondence Telling the story of Newlove s life The Weather and the Words pays tribute not just to this one remarkable poet but also to a remarkable era in Canadian history and the lost art of letter writing the medium through which writers politicians and other public figures fought collaborated conferred and philosophized about art and culture throughout the twentieth century In Newlove s correspondence readers will find a compelling story about the incredible difficulty of establishing a literary career and raising a family while struggling with poverty addiction and mental health issues Through colourful letters Newlove exchanged with Canadian writers such as Margaret Atwood Susan Musgrave Michael Ondaatje Al

Purdy and numerous others The Weather and the Words gives readers a ground level view of Newlove's life and era. The book includes a foreword by Lorna Crozier an introduction by editor J A Weingarten and an afterword by Laura Cameron.

Lifelines Christl Verduyn, 1995. Before her death in 1985 at the age of fifty one Marian Engel had published seven novels two collections of short stories and numerous essays and articles. Despite this impressive output and various literary honours including a Governor General's Award for her novel Bear Engel's writing has not received the critical attention it deserves. A comprehensive study of Engel's body of work Lifelines fills a major gap in Canadian literary criticism.
