Contemporary Asian America A Multidisciplinary Reader:

Contemporary Asian America Min Zhou, James V. Gatewood, 2007-01-01 How does one capture the delightful irony of Edith Wharton's prose or the spare lyricism of Kate Chopin's Kathleen Wheeler challenges the reader to experiment with a more imaginative method of literary criticism in order to comprehend more fully writers of the Modernist and late Realist period In examining the creative works of seven women writers from the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Wheeler never lets the mystery and magic of literature be overcome by dry critical analysis Modernist Women Writers and Narrative Art begins by evaluating how Edith Wharton Kate Chopin and Willa Cather all engaged in an ironic critique of realism They explored the inadequacies of this form in expressing human experience and revealed its hidden often contradictory assumptions Building on the foundation that Wharton Chopin and Cather established Jean Rhys Katherine Mansfield Stevie Smith and Jane Bowles brought literature into the era we now consider modernism Drawing on insights from feminist theory deconstructionism and revisions of new historicism Kathleen Wheeler reveals a literary tradition rich in narrative strategy and stylistic sophistication

Contemporary Asian America (third Edition) Min Zhou, Anthony Christian Ocampo, 2016-04-19 The third edition of the foundational volume in Asian American studies Who are Asian Americans Moving beyond popular stereotypes of the model minority or forever foreigner most Americans know surprisingly little of the nation's fastest growing minority population Since the 1960s when different Asian immigrant groups came together under the Asian American umbrella they have tirelessly carved out their presence in the labor market education politics and pop culture Many times they have done so in the face of racism discrimination sexism homophobia and socioeconomic disadvantage Today contemporary Asian America has emerged as an incredibly diverse population with each segment of the community facing its unique challenges When Contemporary Asian America was first published in 2000 it exposed its readers to the formation and development of Asian American studies as an academic field of study from its inception as part of the ethnic consciousness movement of the 1960s to the systematic inquiry into more contemporary theoretical and practical issues facing Asian America at the century's end It was the first volume to integrate a broad range of interdisciplinary research and approaches from a social science perspective to assess the effects of immigration community development and socialization on Asian American communities This updated third edition discusses the impact of September 11 on Asian American identity and citizenship the continued influence of globalization on past and present waves of immigration and the intersection of race gender sexuality and class on the experiences of Asian immigrants and their children The volume also provides study questions and recommended supplementary readings and documentary films This critical text offers a broad overview of Asian American studies and the current state of Asian America

Policing in the 21st Century Lee P. Brown, 2012 Dr Lee P Brown one of America's most significant and respected law enforcement practitioners has harnessed his thirty years of experiences in police work and authored Policing in the 21st Century Community Policing

Written for students members of the police community academicians elected officials and members of the public this work comes from the perspective of an individual who devoted his life to law enforcement Dr Brown began his career as a beat patrolmen who through hard work diligence and continued education became the senior law enforcement official in three of this nation s largest cities The book is about Community Policing the policing style for America in the Twenty First Century It not only describes the concept in great detail but it also illuminates how it evolved and how it is being implemented in various communities throughout America There is no other law enforcement official or academician who is as capable as Dr Brown of masterfully presenting the concept of Community Policing which he pioneered As a philosophy Community Policing encourages law enforcement officials and the people they are sworn to serve to cooperatively address issues such as crime community growth and societal development It calls for mutual respect and understanding between the police and the community The book is written from the perspective of someone whose peers identify as the father of Community Policing and who personally implemented it in Police Departments under his command It is a thoroughly amazing book that has been heralded as a must read for anyone who has an interest in law enforcement Elected officials academicians leaders of the nation s police agencies and members of the public will be captivated by Dr Brown s literary contribution

Levesque,2014-07-08 The Encyclopedia of Adolescence breaks new ground as an important central resource for the study of adolescence Comprehensive in breath and textbook in depth the Encyclopedia of Adolescence with entries presented in easy to access A to Z format serves as a reference repository of knowledge in the field as well as a frequently updated conduit of new knowledge long before such information trickles down from research to standard textbooks By making full use of Springer's print and online flexibility the Encyclopedia is at the forefront of efforts to advance the field by pushing and creating new boundaries and areas of study that further our understanding of adolescents and their place in society. Substantively the Encyclopedia draws from four major areas of research relating to adolescence. The first broad area includes research relating to Self Identity and Development in Adolescence. This area covers research relating to identity from early adolescence through emerging adulthood, basic aspects of development, e.g. biological, cognitive, social, and foundational developmental theories. In addition, this area focuses on various types of identity: gender, sexual, civic, moral, political, racial, spiritual, religious, and so forth. The second broad area centers on Adolescents' Social and Personal Relationships. This area of research examines the nature and influence of a variety of important relationships, including family, peer, friends, sexual, and romantic, as well as significant nonparental adults. The third area examines Adolescents in Social Institutions. This area of research centers on the influence and nature of important institutions that serve as the socializing contexts for adolescents. These major institutions include schools, religious groups, justice systems, medical fields, cultural contexts, media, legal systems, economic structures, and youth organizations. Adolescent Mental Health constitutes the last major area of research. This broad area of research focuses on the wide variety of human thoughts, actions, and behaviors relating to mental health, from psychopathology to thriving. Major topic examples include deviance, violence, crime, pathology, DSM, normalcy, risk, victimization, disabilities, flow, and positive youth development.

Migration, Transnationalism, and Faith in Missiological Perspective Kirsteen Kim, Alexia Salvatierra, 2022-04-04. Los Angeles is a global crossroads of migrating communities that presents a case study of migration, transnationalism, and interfaith engagement with significant implications for thinking and practice in other global hubs. This book weaves together contributions from internationally recognized scholars who were brought together for the 2020 Missiology Lectures at Fuller Theological Seminary. They examine historical waves of migration: European, Protestant, Asian, Latino, and Muslim into Southern California, and use sociological, missiological, and theological methods to understand the experience of migration and its effects both on those who move and those who are already there. The result shows how migrants are inspired and sustained by faith and spiritual resources, how migration challenges faith communities about their identity and attitudes to others, how faith communities in turn impact the migration landscape through immigrant integration and public advocacy, and how migration forges new transnational and global ways of being in community and innovative religious movements. The contributors put forward a mission theology of migration and suggest mission practices in response to the suffering caused by forced migration and the injustices of immigration systems.
