Ebony, 2004-09 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing. Founded in 1945 by John H. Johnson, it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine Job Hunting - The Right Way! Richard Smith, 2004-12 This book is devoted to a task which few of us undertake with relish yet must do at least once in our lifetimes: finding the right career position. Like it or not, we are all compelled by one force or another to work, earn wages and be productive. Some persons are fortunate in that they do not have to rely entirely on their vocation for financial support. Others are not compensated well enough to live without some sort of governmental or charitable assistance even though they work at a full-time job. For the sake of simplicity, the focus of this book will be on the majority of Americans who fall into neither of the categories listed above but rather the middle class and middle income wage earner. Make no mistake, there is no foolproof method which one can employ in the effort of locating an appropriate job. And there is indeed a wide range of books available on the subject: some factual and cold, others fanciful, and taking a Zen-like approach to the matter at hand. Yet there has seldom been a common sense guide to the art of job hunting if it can indeed be called that. It could more appropriately be called a craft since it is a talent which must be developed and cultivated and not an inherent gift. Hopefully, this book will change that sad circumstance The Woman's World ... Oscar Wilde, 1890 Powell and Pressburger Ellen Z. Whitton, 2025-11-10 This book offers a new perspective on the renowned filmmaking duo The Archers Michael Powell and Emeric Pressburger through its examination of their engagement with history and its representation on screen. Usually celebrated for their vibrant aesthetics and bold narratives, Powell and Pressburger have rarely been explored through the lens of realism or historiophoty. This study addresses this gap through the in-depth analysis of three of their war films: The Spy in Black 1939, The Life and Death of Colonel Blimp 1943, and The Battle of the River Plate 1956. It demonstrates that the pair were committed to fair historical representations and authenticity and should be considered as early filmmaker historians for their contribution to public understandings of the past. To interrogate this aspect of their partnership, this book introduces a new methodological framework grounded in the structuralist theories of Roland Barthes and Brian McFarlane while influenced by Hayden White and New Cinema History. It balances close textual analysis with investigations into production context and reception history, offering a more holistic approach to understanding how authenticity was constructed on screen and received by audiences Through these case studies the book highlights how The Archers employed research practices like archival work expert consultation and on location visits that mirror those of traditional historians In doing so they crafted historically rich films that shaped public memory demonstrating filmmaking practices that are now common among contemporary filmmakers in that genre Beyond reassessing this aspect of The Archers legacy this methodology offers a practical framework for analysing and creating historical authenticity on screen
