Consumer Value A Framework For Analysis And Research:

Consumer Value Morris B. Holbrook, 1999 Consumer Value is one of the few books that attempts to define and analyse exactly what consumers want By setting down a new and innovative framework for the concept of value it is as provocative as it is rigorous

Consumer Value Morris Holbrook, 2002-03-11 As shoppers what factors influence our decision to purchase an object or service Why do we chose one product over another How do we attribute value as part of the shopping experience The theme of serving the customer and customer satisfaction is central to every formulation of the marketing concept yet few books attempt to define and analyse exactly what it is that consumers want In this provocative collection of essays Morris Holbrook brings together a team of the top US and European scholars to discuss an issue of great importance to the study of marketing and consumer behaviour This ground breaking interdisciplinary book provides an innovative framework for the study of consumer value which is used to critically examine the nature and type of value that consumers derive from the consumption experience efficiency excellence status esteem play aesthetics ethics spirituality Guaranteed to provoke debate and controversy this is a courageous individualistic and idiosyncratic book which should appeal to students of marketing consumer behaviour cultural studies and consumption studies

The Routledge Companion to Arts Marketing Daragh O'Reilly, Ruth Rentschler, Theresa Kirchner, 2013-12-17 The relationship between the arts and marketing has been growing ever more complex as the proliferation of new technologies and social media has opened up new forms of communication This book covers the broad and involved relationship between the arts and marketing It frames arts marketing in the context of wider related issues such as the creative and cultural industries cultural policy and arts funding developments in the different art forms and the impact of environmental forces on arts business models and markets The Routledge Companion to Arts Marketing provides a comprehensive up to date reference guide that incorporates current analyses of arts marketing topics by leaders of academic research in the field As such it will be a key resource for the next generation of arts marketing scholars and teachers and will constitute the single most authoritative guide on the subject internationally

The Service-Dominant Logic of Marketing Robert F. Lusch, Stephen L. Vargo, 2014-12-18 Expanding on the editors award winning article Evolving to a New Dominant Logic for Marketing this book presents a challenging new paradigm for the marketing discipline This new paradigm is service oriented customer oriented relationship focused and knowledge based and places marketing once viewed as a support function central to overall business strategy Service dominant logic defines service as the application of competencies for the benefit of another entity and sees mutual service provision rather than the exchange of goods as the proper subject of marketing It moves the orientation of marketing from a market to philosophy where customers are promoted to targeted and captured to a market with philosophy where the customer and supply chain partners are collaborators in the entire marketing process The editors elaborate on this model through an historical analysis clarification and extension of service dominant logic and distinguished marketing thinkers then provide further insight and commentary The result is a more comprehensive and inclusive marketing theory that will challenge both current thinking and marketing practice

Research Handbook on Sustainable Co-operative Enterprise Tim Mazzarol, Sophie Reboud, Elena Mamouni Limnios, Delwyn Clark, 2014-02-28 Co operatives are found in all industry sectors and almost all countries around the world However despite their significant economic and social contributions the academic literature has largely ignored these important businesses This book is a detailed

Brand, Label, and Product Intelligence Joseph Kaswengi, Aureo Ingarao, 2022-03-28 This book contains the latest and most up to date research results from the fields of brands labels and product presented at the international colloquium COBLI 2021 held in Orleans France It covers a wide range of topics from the fields of economics psychology information technology and social sciences In particular the book deals with various areas of application such as consumer behavior in the omnichannel the influence of the coronavirus pandemic on attitudes and customer behavior franchising origin labelling transparency in the agri food industry tourism and the triptych of brand label product The contributions are gathered under the following main topics Consumer behavior and decisions labeling strategy brand market trends branding of local brands territorial impact on brand label product theoretical and managerial research methods Olympic Marketing Alain Ferrand, Jean-Loup Chappelet, Benoit Seguin, 2012-07-26 The Olympic Games have become the definitive sports event with an unparalleled global reach and a remarkably diverse constituency of stakeholders from the IOC and International Federations to athletes sponsors and fans It has been estimated for example that 3.6 billion people about half of the world population watched at least one minute of the Beijing Games in 2008 on television The driving force behind the rise of the modern Olympics has been the Olympic marketing programme which has acted as a catalyst for cooperation between stakeholders and driven the promotion financial security and stability of the Olympic movement This book is the first to explain the principles of Olympic marketing and to demonstrate how they can be applied successfully in all other areas of sports marketing and management The book outlines a strategic and operational framework based on three types of co-productive relationships market network and informal and explains how this framework can guide professional marketing practice Containing case studies summaries insight boxes and examples of best practice in every chapter this book is important reading for all students and practitioners working in sports marketing sports management or Olympic studies Corporate reputation Ángel Alloza, Enrique Carreras, Ana Carreras, 2013-06 Reputation has become an essential strategic asset for companies Those businesses that enjoy a good reputation are able to differentiate themselves thus attracting investments and retaining customers and employees while at the same time stakeholders of such companies demonstrate higher levels of satisfaction and loyalty towards the companies products and brands Currently corporate reputation is one of the most popular non-financial indicators used by organizations both in the public and private sectors This book is an in-depth investigation of the psychosocial nature of corporate reputation and we invite the reader to join us on a journey of discovery When reputation first appeared as a concept it brought about promises and hopes It was viewed as a solution capable of reconciling the interests of different stakeholders and making the whole organization stronger However this giant soon turned out to have feet of clay as it was lacking in sufficient theoretical and methodological foundation Nonetheless when we step into the terra incognita of corporate intangible assets we will understand that the vague idea of reputation is gradually acquiring a scientific form thanks to the development of measurement tools and models that lay a foundation for the long sought after means of managing reputation Journal of China Marketing Volume 6 (2) Tiebing Shi, Adolphus Yee-Yin Wan, Robert Guang Tian, 2018-07-27 This journal has been discontinued Any issues are available to purchase separately Brand Fusion Terry Smith, Tom Williams, 2022-07-05 Finalist in the Business Marketing charities to technology companies retirement villages to aspiring high growth start-ups Brand Fusion Purpose-driven brand strategy is an in-depth analysis of the philosophy and practice behind creating a purposeful brand European Retail Research Peter Schnedlitz, Dirk Morschett, Thomas Rudolph, Hanna Schramm-Klein, Bernhard Swoboda, 2010-09-08 The discussion about Multi Channel Systems in retail business might not be new but it has gained momentum against the background of consolidations and mergers the development of information and communication technologies ICT and experiences of disillusionment with pure e-commerce players Dohmann et al 2002 Barth et al 2007 This is additionally evidenced by the increasing number of academic publications and the gain in importance of multi channel distribution in retail practice where many pure e players have augmented their structure of distribution with alternative channels Tang Xing 2001 Schigel et al 2004 Despite the lively discussions on the part of academic researchers and the growth of experience in practice there is still an unsatisfactorily low level of knowledge which might be the reason why companies often fail in the realization or achieve only suboptimal levels of channel integration even though the domination of multi channel companies in the B2C e-commerce sector with the exception of a few companies e.g. eBay or Amazon implies a great potential for success Hudetz Baal 2005 Emrich 2008 For this reason most authors seem to agree upon the potential as well as the relevance of multi channel distributors Hudetz Baal identify multi channel companies a good starting base to get even more dominant in the future Hudetz Baal 2005 p 136 Emrich agrees that multi channel strategies might become crucial to survive Emrich 2008 p 1 and Ahlert Hesse 2003 substantiate with empirical studies the preference that customers have for multi channel distributors Shopping Centre Marketing Piotr Krowicki, Grzegorz Maciejewski, 2024-02-26 There are almost 10 000 shopping centres in Europe and in the United States there are over 100 000 many of which have entered the end of life phase due to growing e-retail Therefore the issue of how customers perceive the value of these facilities and customer engagement in the relationship with the shopping centre is becoming increasingly important In this book the authors evaluate the relationship between the perceived value of a shopping centre and customer engagement by identifying consumer motives purchase behaviour and responsiveness to marketing strategies It offers an analysis of the conceptualisation and history of shopping centres and utilises both theoretical and empirical research presenting results from extensive studies and building a framework for value creation in retail spaces The book will find a wide audience among scholars interested in marketing and retail management The practical implications discussed will also provide further research opportunities and insights for astute practitioners Contemporary Tourist Experience Richard Sharpley, Philip Stone, 2014-06-23 This significant and timely volume aims to provide a focused analysis into tourist experiences that reflect their ever increasing diversity and complexity and their significance and meaning to tourists themselves Written by leading international scholars it offers new insight into emergent behaviours motivations and sought meanings on the part of tourists based on five contemporary themes determined by current research activity in tourism experience conceptualization of tourist experience dark tourism experiences the relationship between motivation and the contemporary tourist experience the manner in which tourist experience can be influenced and enhanced by place and how managers and suppliers can make a significant contribution to the tourist experience The book critically explores these experiences from multidisciplinary perspectives and includes case studies from wide range of geographical regions By analyzing these contemporary tourist experiences the book will provide further understanding of the consumption of tourism
