The Right to Be Punished Gabriel Hallevy, 2012-10-12 Does an offender have the right to be punished The right to be punished may sound like an oxymoron but it is not necessarily so With the emergence of modern criminal law the offender gained the right to be punished by rational criminal law rather than being lynched by an angry mob The present day offender may have the right to be punished by doctrinal sentencing rather than being subjected to verdicts based on vague unclear and uncertain principles In modern criminal law the imposition of criminal liability follows accurate and strict rules whereas there are no similar rules for the imposition of punishment The process of sentencing is vague and obscure as are the considerations used for the imposition of punishments The objective of the present book is to propose a comprehensive general and legally sophisticated theory of modern doctrinal sentencing The challenges of such a legal theory are plenty and complex In addition to increasing clarity and certainty modern doctrinal sentencing must deal with modern types of delinquency e g organized crime recidivism corporate offenders high tech offenses etc and modern principles of criminal law Modern doctrinal sentencing must serve to ensure optimal sentencing

Liability for Crimes Involving Artificial Intelligence Systems

Gabriel Hallevy, 2014-11-06 The book develops a general legal theory concerning the liability for offenses involving artificial intelligence systems The involvement of the artificial intelligence systems in these offenses may be as perpetrators accomplices or mere instruments The general legal theory proposed in this book is based on the current criminal law in most modern legal systems In most modern countries unmanned vehicles sophisticated surgical systems industrial computing systems trading algorithms and other artificial intelligence systems are commonly used for both industrial and personal purposes The question of legal liability arises when something goes wrong e g the unmanned vehicle is involved in a car accident the surgical system is involved in a surgical error or the trading algorithm is involved in fraud etc Who is to be held liable for these offenses the manufacturer the programmer the user or perhaps the artificial intelligence system itself The concept of liability for crimes involving artificial intelligence systems has not yet been widely researched Advanced technologies are forcing society to face new challenges both technical and legal The idea of liability in the specific context of artificial intelligence systems is one such challenge that should be thoroughly explored
