printing of poetry in English Many fine poets were active during this period However because Irish eighteenth century verse in English has to a great extent escaped the scholar and the anthologist it is hardly known at all The most innovative aspect of this new anthology is the inclusion of many poetic voices entirely unknown to modern readers Although the anthology contains the work of well known figures such as John Toland Thomas Parnell Jonathan Swift Patrick Delany Laetitia Pilkington and Oliver Goldsmith there are many verses by lesser known writers and nearly eighty anonymous poems which come from the broadsheets manuscripts and chapbooks of the time What emerges is an entirely new perspective on life in eighteenth century Ireland We hear the voice of a hard working farmer s wife from county Derry of a rambling weaver from county Antrim and that of a woman dying from drink We learn about whale fishing in county Donegal about farming in county Kerry and bull baiting in Dublin In fact almost every aspect of life in eighteenth century Ireland is described vividly energetically with humor and feeling in the verse of this anthology Among the most moving poems are those by Irish speaking poets who use amhran or song meter and internal assonance both borrowed from Irish in their English verse Equally interesting is the work of the weaver poets of Ulster who wrote in vigorous and energetic Ulster Scots The anthology also includes political poems dating from the reign of James II to the Act of Union as well as a selection of lesser known nationalist and Orange songs Each poem is fully annotated and the book also contains a glossary of terms in Hiberno English and Ulster Scots

A Book of Irish Verse W. B. Yeats, 2015-07-15 Excerpt from A Book of Irish Verse Selected From Modern Writers They were losing with Gaelic and these methods which have shaped the literary thought of Ireland to our time could not be the same as the methods of a movement which so far as it is more than an instinctive expression of certain moods of the soul endeavours to create a reading class among the more leisured classes which will preoccupy itself with Ireland and the needs of Ireland The peasants in eastern counties have their Young Ireland poetry which is always good teaching and sometimes good poetry and the peasants of the western counties have beautiful poems and stories in Gaelic while our more leisured classes read little about any country and nothing about Ireland We cannot move these classes from an apathy come from their separation from the land they live in by writing about politics or about Gaelic but we may move them by becoming men of letters and expressing primary emotions and truths in ways appropriate to this country One carries on the traditions of Thomas Davis towards whom our eyes must always turn not less than the traditions of good literature which are the morality of the man of letters when one is content like A E With fewer readers that one may follow a more hidden beauty or when one About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are
