Poverty and Charity in the Jewish Community of Medieval Egypt Mark R. Cohen, 2009-01-10 What was it like to be poor in the Middle Ages In the past the answer to this question came only from institutions and individuals who gave relief to the less fortunate This book by one of the top scholars in the field is the first comprehensive book to study poverty in a premodern Jewish community from the viewpoint of both the poor and those who provided for them Mark Cohen mines the richest body of documents available on the matter the papers of the Cairo Geniza These documents located in the Geniza a hidden chamber for discarded papers situated in a medieval synagogue in Old Cairo were preserved largely unharmed for more than nine centuries due to an ancient custom in Judaism that prohibited the destruction of pages of sacred writing Based on these papers the book provides abundant testimony about how one large and important medieval Jewish community dealt with the constant presence of poverty in its midst Building on S D Goitein's Mediterranean Society and inspired also by research on poverty and charity in medieval and early modern Europe it provides a clear window onto the daily lives of the poor It also illuminates private charity a subject that has long been elusive to the medieval historian In addition Cohen's work functions as a detailed case study of an important phenomenon in human history Cohen concludes that the relatively narrow gap between the poor and rich and the precariousness of wealth in general combined to make charity one of the major agglutinates of Jewish associational life during the medieval period

Iberian Jewish Literature Jonathan P. Decker, 2007-08-08 This stimulating and graceful book explores Iberian Jewish attitudes toward cultural transition during the 12th and 13th centuries when growing intolerance toward Jews in Islamic al Andalus and the southward expansion of the Christian Reconquista led to the relocation of Jews from Islamic to Christian domains By engaging literary topics such as imagery structure voice landscape and geography Jonathan P Decker traces attitudes toward transition that range from tenacious longing for the Islamic past to comfort in the Christian environment Through comparison with Arabic and European vernacular literatures Decter elucidates a medieval Hebrew poetics of estrangement and nostalgia poetic responses to catastrophe and the refraction of social issues in fictional narratives Published with the generous support of the Koret Foundation Jews, Christian Society, & Royal Power in Medieval Barcelona Elka Klein, 2006 Traces the development of the Jewish community in Barcelona from 1050 to 1300 and its interactions with greater Catalan society and its rulers Medieval Jewish Philosophy and Its Literary Forms Aaron W. Hughes, James T. Robinson, 2019-07-11 This well written accessible essay collection demonstrates a maturation in Jewish studies and medieval philosophy Choice Too often the study of philosophical texts is carried out in ways that do not pay significant attention to how the ideas contained within them are presented articulated and developed This was not always the case The contributors to this collected work consider Jewish philosophy in the medieval period when new genres and forms of written expression were flourishing in the wake of renewed interest in ancient philosophy Many medieval Jewish philosophers were highly accomplished poets for example and made conscious efforts to write in a poetic style This volume turns attention to the connections that medieval Jewish thinkers made between the literary the exegetical the philosophical and the mystical to shed light on the creativity and diversity of medieval thought As they broaden the scope of what counts as medieval Jewish philosophy the essays collected here consider questions about how an argument is formed how text is put into the service of philosophy and the social and intellectual environment in which philosophical texts were produced

Medieval Hebrew Poetry in Muslim Egypt Joachim J.M.S. Yeshaya, 2010-11-11 Moses ben Abraham Dar born in Alexandria into a family of Moroccan Jewish immigrants lived in Egypt in the middle of the twelfth century Though he visited Damascus and Jerusalem he spent most of his professional life as a physician and poet in the Karaite community of Fus Cairo This study offers an annotated edition of secular poems taken from the earliest manuscript NLR Evr I 802 dated to the fifteenth century The Hebrew text and Judaeo Arabic heading of each poem are provided in the original order attested in the manuscript The introduction to this edition seeks to evaluate Dar s poetry in the light of the Andalusian Hebrew poetical tradition and within the context of Hebrew literary activity in the Muslim East This learned book displays sound rigorous scholarship in the best tradition of the philological historical method It also provides solid ground for further work by scholars with different agendas different scholarly interests and different methodologies in the study of medieval Hebrew poetry On all accounts it is a welcome and most valuable addition to the field Esperanza Alfonso CCHS CSIC Yeshaya s work is an excellent contribution to the study of both medieval Hebrew poetry and Karaitica showing Dar to be a central representative of Hebrew poets writing in the Muslim East and most importantly a charming author whose Karaiteness only adds to the attraction Riikka Tuori A Comparative History of Literatures in the Iberian Peninsula Fernando Cabo Aseguinolaza, Anxo Abuín González, César Domínguez, 2010 A Comparative History of Literatures in the Iberian Peninsula is the second comparative history of a new subseries with a regional focus published by the Coordinating Committee of the International Comparative Literature Association As its predecessor for East Central Europe this two volume history distances itself from traditional histories built around periods and movements and explores from a comparative viewpoint a space considered to be a powerful symbol of inter literary relations Both the geographical pertinence and its symbolic condition are obviously discussed when not even contested Written by an international team of researchers who are specialists in the field this history is the first attempt at applying a comparative approach to the plurilingual and multicultural literatures in the Iberian Peninsula The aim of comprehensiveness is abandoned in favor of a diverse and extensive array of key issues for a comparative agenda A Comparative History of Literatures in the Iberian Peninsula undermines the primacy claimed for national and linguistic boundaries and provides a geo cultural account of literary inter systems which cannot otherwise be explained

Sanctuary in the Wilderness Alan Mintz, 2011-12-14 The effort to create a serious Hebrew literature in the United States in the years around World War I is one of the best kept secrets of American Jewish history Hebrew had been revived as a modern literary language in nineteenth century Russia and then taken to Palestine as part of the Zionist revolution But the overwhelming majority of Jewish emigrants from Eastern Europe settled in America and a passionate kernel among them believed that Hebrew provided the vehicle for modernizing the Jewish people while maintaining their connection to Zion These American Hebraists created schools journals newspapers and most of all a high literary culture focused on producing poetry Sanctuary in the Wilderness is a critical introduction to American Hebrew poetry focusing on a dozen key poets This secular poetry began with a preoccupation with the situation of the individual in a disenchanted world and then moved outward to engage American vistas and Jewish fate and hope in midcentury American Hebrew poets hoped to be read in both Palestine and America but were disappointed on both scores Several moved to Israel and connected with the vital literary scene there but most stayed and persisted in the cause of American Hebraism

The Talmud in Dispute During the High Middle Ages Fidora, Alexander, Hasselhoff, Görges, 2019-12-17 The Christian discovery of the Babylonian Talmud is a significant landmark in the long and complex history of anti Jewish polemic While the Talmudic corpus developed in the same period as early Christianity this post biblical text was largely unknown to the Christians Full awareness of the Talmud among Christian authors did not arise until the late 1230s when the Jewish convert Nicholas Donin presented a Latin translation of Talmudic fragments to Pope Gregory IX Though the Talmud was subsequently put on trial 1240 and burnt 1241 2 in Paris the controversy surrounding it continued over the following years as Pope Innocent IV called for a revision of its condemnation The textual basis for this revision is the Extractiones de Talmud
