Coping With Crisis And Handicap:

Coping with Crisis and Handicap Aubrey Milunsky, 2012-12-06 For over 20 years I have accepted the challenge and had the privilege of caring for sick children agonizing with their parents during periods of serious illness which were sometimes fatal Because of my particular interest in and concern about birth defects and genetic disease many of these children had severe disabling handicaps which were often genetic and included mental retardation Hence care of these children and their families was often complicated by the presence of serious or profound genetic defects The initial realization of the nature of the disorder invariably led to emotional difficulties and inevitably later spawned chronic distress For some children inexorable deterioration led to untimely deaths while the parents agonized over their handicapped chronically ill or defective but nevertheless loved

Practical Concerns about Siblings Frances Fuchs Schachter, Richard K. Stone, 1987 Focusing on practical concerns and on current research this new volume examines common sibling problems The research findings some published for the first time in this book reveal the diverse ways that the sibling relationship contributes to the harmony or disharmony of the family and to the pattern of individual children's development within the family This comprehensive volume will prove valuable to a broad range of professionals working with children and families as well as to parents The contributors attempt to bridge the gap between research and the practices of parents therapists and educators Common problems are examined such as favoritism and the effects of a new sister or brother on a sibling The concerns of children in special sibling relations children in one parent families siblings of the mentally ill and disabled and children facing the imminent death of a sibling are also explored Coping with Crisis and Handicap Dr Aubrey Milunsky, M.D.,1981-06-01 Coping with Failure Norbert Greinacher,Norbert Mette,1990 Irreplaceable as a reference to where Catholic theology is at any given moment Concilium maps the state of the most pressing questions with solid contributions from leading theologians and cutting edge voices Each volume addresses major issues in dialogue with wider public discourses regularly engaging perspectives from the religions of the world For volumes of substance breadth and insight Concilium provides a most impressive response to the most important issues in theology today Jeannine Hill Fletcher Fordham University
