Grief Is a Journey Kenneth J. Doka, 2017-04-18 Doka explores a new compassionate way to grieve as he explains that grief is not an illness to get over but an individual and ongoing journey He upends the dominant but incorrect view that grief proceeds by stages and helps us realize that our experiences following a death are far more individual and much less predictable than the conventional five stages model would have us believe

Doka also explains how to cope with disenfranchised grief not so readily recognized or supported by society such as the death of ex spouses the end of a friendship job loss or infertility The Essential Guide to Grief and Grieving Debra Holland, MS, PhD, 2014-11-06 Debra Holland a psychotherapist and specialist in grief counseling shares her indispensable knowledge in The Essential Guide to Grief and Grieving tackling the difficult questions about how men and women young and old cope with loss This accessible inspiring and insightful guide helps readers understand the various kinds and levels of grief how people are trained to experience grief the theories concerning the stages in the journey of grief and ways to get through the pain and achieve some level of comfort Includes solid concrete advice to help the healing process Features dozens of real life stories Helpful for those who counsel the grieving as well as those who ve experienced loss God is Enough M.E. Louis, 2017-12-03 Where do you go when life as you know it is turned completely upside down It happened to me The life I knew and loved vanished on August 7 2013 when my college sweetheart and husband of 33 years chose to end his life There are not words to describe my shock and devastation Though I was surrounded with wonderful loving people none of them could restore the half of me that died that day This was a God sized task This is my journey through shock grief mourning and healing It is the very personal and profound journey I took to ultimately discover that no matter how deep your pain God is always there and He is enough If you are grieving God Is Enough will give you hope I understand what you are going through and I am here to share my message of hope healing and faith Healing a Spouse's Grieving Heart Alan D. Wolfelt, 2003-11-01 Helping widows and widowers learn how to cope with the grief of losing their helpmate their lover and perhaps their financial provider this guide shows them how to find continued meaning in life when doing so seems difficult Bereaved spouses will find advice on when and how to dispose of their mate s belongings dealing with their children and redefining their role with friends and family Suggestions are provided for elderly mourners young widows and widowers unmarried lovers and same sex partners The information and comfort offered apply to individuals whose spouse died recently or long ago Lost My Partner - What'll I Do? , 1999 Your Spouse's Death Debbie J., 2012-03-02 ABOUT THE BOOK The bond between a husband and wife is one of the most intimate emotional and physical bonds of any human relationship Your spouse is the person you share your hopes and dreams with your partner friend co parent traveling companion and confidante all in one Regardless of how the roles are defined within the relationship a spouse is the person with whom you share your life It is therefore no surprise that losing a spouse in death is ranked by psychologists as the single most stressful life event followed only by divorce and separation Whether a spouse dies suddenly and unexpectedly or whether death comes over time and with some warning the surviving spouse must come to terms with the loss and eventually find a way to pick up the pieces and move on EXCERPT FROM THE BOOK When under such extreme and sustained stress emotional and physical symptoms follow Stress causes the body to go into a physiological fight or flight reaction and if stress is profound or prolonged the body remains in a constant state of alarm which can lead to vulnerability to disease and even death Stress impairs cognitive functioning leads to depression fear anxiety and anger and leaves the body susceptible to a whole host of physical issues Stress causes the immune system to be compromised and it becomes much harder to fight off even common illnesses like flu or a cold Ulcers asthma migraines and hypertension are common effects associated with stress Development of more serious issues such as coronary heart disease and cancer is also facilitated by stress Stress brought on by the death of a spouse commonly brings on depression sleeping too much insomnia and disturbing dreams just to mention a few problems Buy a copy to keep reading When Your Spouse Dies Othniel J.
