

BREAST CANCER

Coping with Breast Cancer Sharon L. Manne,Jamie S. Ostroff, Just Get Me Through This! , While Coping with Breast Cancer F. T. Hashem,2002-02-01 As I felt the black cloud of despair descending on me and I could no longer smile or feel any good feelings I knew I was in trouble I cared about nothing did nothing and even stopped eating I was slowly sinking to the point of no return as the tragic events surrounding me became too much to bear Then suddenly my survival instinct kicked in and I rose out of the nightmare long enough to realize that I was the only one that could bring myself out of the darkness and into the light So I began doing what I ve always loved to do Write and communicate I wanted to vent and let my anger out in a socially acceptable way I wanted to let other women know how I felt dealing with breast cancer and how I was coping with the diagnosis and with other tragedies as well It was perfect therapy What started as a journal evolved into a book

Coping With Breast Cancer Sarah Swan,2023-07 There is lots of information available regarding cancer and its treatment but little to help you cope with the emotional fall out

From Oncology Nursing to Coping with Breast Cancer Kate Hayward,2021-04-14 Many healthcare professionals that I ve encountered refer to a patient s cancer journey indeed I had an article published describing a patient s journey through biological therapy This particular case history described my involvement with a medical doctor s experience of renal cell carcinoma and self administration of immunotherapy He was very keen to share his experience to educate and inform other health professionals and I now find myself in a similar situation I have journeyed from nurse to patient when diagnosed with grade 3 breast cancer Of course I ve experienced various health problems before this time but I never spent a night in hospital unlike members of my family who have experienced serious illness and hospitalisation on several occasions Consequently I ve always regarded myself in the caring role amongst family members and over the years I ve used my nursing knowledge and skills to help them deal with both the physical and psychological issues of their various disease processes However being diagnosed with breast cancer has now changed me from nurse and carer into a vulnerable ill person with doubts and fears for my future To restore some sense of purpose while on sick leave and help me to get through each treatment stage I decided to keep a daily journal of my experience
