Coping With Suicide:

Coping with Suicide Christine J. Howard, 2015 Coping With Suicide Christine J Howard, 2018-11-01 One million people commit suicide each year That s one death every 40 seconds International author speaker and life coach Christine Howard is a mother who lost her 20 year old daughter to suicide In this book she shares her first hand experience of how this tragedy unfolded and affected her family and friends Christine now coaches counsels and supports other people who have been touched by suicide or who are fearful that it may become a reality in their own life This book gives you practical tools and strategies to help yourself and others You ll discover Essential strategies to help cope with sudden loss and grief How to recognise potential warning signs and contributing factors for risk How to know what to say and what questions to ask What NOT to say to someone you believe to be considering suicide as an option Where to get help who to call and what to do How to dispel some of the myths surrounding suicide That grief has no time limit and that it s ok to cry This book will empower you to take control of your emotional physical and mental wellbeing Coping with Suicide Gerard Green, 1992 After Suicide Loss Bob Baugher, John R. Jordan, 2016 A guide for coping with suicide from the first few days through the first year and beyond Coping with Suicide Maggie Helen, 2002 Suicide has a devastating effect on friends and family left behind Each year more than one million people attempt suicide and many succeed in taking their own life But the bereaved are often left isolated in their grief Maggie Hadley addresses the emotional impact of suicide and attempted suicide with sensitivity and insight She will help you to understand the causes of suicide and cope with practical matters such as dealing with the police and organizing a funeral Understanding Suicide in the United States Meaghan Stacy, Jay Schulkin, 2023-10-26 By integrating sociological psychological and biological perspectives this book aims to demystify and destigmatize a challenging and taboo topic suicide It weaves current theories and statistics on suicide into a larger message of how suicide can affect almost anyone and how urgent prevention needs are Written in an accessible manner it assumes no pre existing knowledge of suicide The broad nontechnical overview will appeal to general readers and a wide range of disciplines including politics and policy biology psychology sociology and psychiatry It concludes on a positive note focused on recovery resilience and hope It considers not only how these factors may play a role in suicide prevention but how despite persistent suicide rates we can proceed optimistically and take concrete action to support loved ones or promote suicide prevention efforts Suicide Across Cultures Meryam Schouler-Ocak, Murad Moosa Khan, 2024-09-04 Over 700 000 people globally take their own lives every year which equates to one death by suicide every 40 seconds Among teenagers and young adults suicide is the second most common cause of death after road traffic accidents Overall almost three times as many men than women die by suicide There are however significant variations in the patterns of suicide across cultures gender age geographic locations and personal history due to the complex relationship of how these factors converge One thing that remains consistent is that every death is a tragedy for family friends and all colleagues Traditions of suicidal behaviour are deeply rooted in any given culture and so examining the cultural influences can be of paramount importance in the understanding and assessment of a suicidal crisis Suicide Across Cultures offers the opportunity to expand knowledge beyond majority groups and to look further than the dominant paradigm in suicide research treatment and prevention With the majority of global suicides taking place in non Western societies minority groups are an essential area in suicide research Written by experts from around the world this fascinating textbook includes topics and regions that are not usually covered in texts on suicide and self harm It provides a unique and important insight for academics and students in psychiatry as well as anyone from the wider public with an interest in the psychiatry of suicide across cultures

Dealing with Dying, Death, and Grief during Adolescence David E. Balk,2014-02-18 For some life s introduction to death and grief comes early and when it does it can take many forms Not only does Dealing with Dying Death and Grief during Adolescence tackle them all it does so with David Balk s remarkable sensitivity to and deep knowledge of the pressures and opportunities adolescents face in their transition from childhood to adulthood In seamless jargon free language Balk brings readers up to date with what we know about adolescent development because over time such changes form the backstory we need to comprehend the impact of death and bereavement in an adolescent s life The book s later chapters break down the recent findings in the study of life threatening illness and bereavement during adolescence And crucially these chapters also examine interventions that assist adolescents coping with these difficulties Clinicians will come away from this book with both a grounded understanding of adolescent development and the adolescent experience of death and they ll also gain specific tools for helping adolescents cope with death and grief on their own terms For any clinician committed to supporting adolescents facing some of life s most difficult experiences this integrated up to date and deeply insightful text is simply the book to have David E Balk is professor in the department of health and nutrition sciences at Brooklyn College CUNY where he directs the graduate program in thanatology He is the author of Adolescent Development Early Through Late Adolescence Helping the Bereaved College Student and several other books on death and bereavement He is also co editor of the 2nd edition of the Handbook of Thanatology Routledge 2013

Evaluating and Treating Adolescent Suicide Attempters Anthony Spirito, James C. Overholser, 2003-01-05 Evaluating and Treating Adolescent Suicide Attempters provides a comprehensive overview of the emotional behavioral and cognitive characteristics of adolescents who have attempted suicide Each chapter opens with a case study vignette from the author's extensive clinical files followed by a summary of the empirical literature Assessment and treatment practices close each chapter While suicide is the third largest killer of adolescents most suicide attempts do not result in death Therefore the treatment of the suicide attempter following the attempt becomes a significant part of the clinician's work with these adolescents Moreover the precursors and behavioral markers for a suicide attempt become important signals for the school counselor youth worker or therapist This book also includes assessment measures to use when evaluating an adolescent who has attempted suicide Includes an outline form of an assessment battery for adolescents who have attempted suicide Analyzes and discusses treatment and case studies Presents detailed descriptions of specific therapy techniques useful with adolescents who attempt suicide Includes succinct reviews of the literature ways to measure relevant factors related to suicidal behavior tips for clinicians and reviews of pertinent assessment measures

Reducing Suicide Institute of Medicine, Board on Neuroscience and Behavioral Health, Committee on Pathophysiology and Prevention of Adolescent and Adult Suicide, 2002-11-01 Every year about 30 000 people die by suicide in the U S and some 650 000 receive emergency treatment after a suicide attempt Often those most at risk are the least able to access professional help Reducing Suicide provides a blueprint for addressing this tragic and costly problem how we can build an appropriate infrastructure conduct needed research and improve our ability to recognize suicide risk and effectively intervene Rich in data the book also strikes an intensely personal chord featuring compelling quotes about people's experience with suicide The book explores the factors that raise a person's risk of suicide psychological and biological factors including substance abuse the link between childhood trauma and later suicide and the impact of family life economic status religion and other social and cultural conditions The authors review the effectiveness of existing interventions including mental health practitioners' ability to assess suicide risk among patients They present lessons learned from the Air Force suicide prevention program and other prevention initiatives And they identify barriers to effective research and treatment This new volume will be of special interest to policy makers administrators researchers practitioners and journalists working in the field of mental health
