

2 Alternative Ways to Settle Divorce

1 Mediation

Mediation brings in a third party to assist with conflict resolution and find a voluntary solution.

→ What is it?

A mediator helps both sides reach a compromise upon which all parties agree. They act as a neutral third party, listening to the concerns of everyone involved and working to find a solution. Mediation is much faster than a court hearing and generally less expensive. If either party is unhappy with the results or the proceedings, they can end mediation at any time.

→ Outcomes

A mediator has no power to decide anything. Instead, they work with the parties to create a voluntary agreement. For that reason, it is essential to have legal counsel present during mediation. A skilled attorney can help clarify the terms of the agreement and point out things you may not have considered.

2 Arbitration

Arbitration gives an outside party authority to make what is usually a binding decision.

→ What is it?

An arbitrator is essentially a private judge. They will listen to both sides and hear evidence and concerns. Parties may request documents and compliance is not optional. An extensive discovery process may precede the arbitration meeting. Arbitration is more expensive than mediation but often less costly than traditional litigation.

→ Outcomes

An arbitrator is a person who decides what is fair and reasonable to both parties. In binding arbitration, their decision is final and there is very little room for appeal. Some jurisdictions, including divorce courts in Utah, allow for non-binding arbitration. In that case, both sides can either accept the arbitrator's decision and turn it into a signed agreement or reject it and seek a trial.
