The Origin and Development of Humanistic Script B. L. Ullman, 1974 Female Agency in Manuscript Cultures Eike Grossmann, 2024-06-17 Manuscript cultures have frequently forgotten neglected or even erased women's contributions from memory Women's agency has also been a glaring blind spot in the scholarly pursuit of gender perspectives on the production of written artefacts This volume addresses these lacunae by highlighting manuscripts and inscriptions by and for women their active participation and enabling sponsorship and their role in the circulation and dissemination of written artefacts Seven papers present case studies from East Asian inscriptions to ancient cuneiform epigraphic Egyptian graffiti from late antiquity to individual specimen and large scale collections in medieval Europe focusing on how women participated in and contributed to those How did they assert their involvement their claims and their aspirations By what rationales and mechanisms were they excluded or their contribution marginalised How did they react to structures that discriminated against them eventually circumventing subverting and transforming them The present volume sheds light on new findings gives unique insights and discusses methodological considerations in the budding field of women's manuscript studies Books, Scribes and Learning in the Frankish Kingdoms, 6th-9th centuries Rosamond McKitterick, 2024-10-28 The focus of this volume is the book production of the Frankish regions of Western Europe in the early Middle Ages By means of a detailed scrutiny of individual manuscripts groups of manuscripts and categories of texts Dr McKitterick shows how they can be used to throw light on questions such as women and literacy the knowledge of canon and secular law and the English contribution to the religious culture of the Continent Some of the studies are more concerned with palaeography and the achievements of particular scriptoria studies others look primarily at the fact of production the dissemination of the texts and their implications for intellectual and cultural history Au centre de ce volume se trouve la production du livre dans les régions franques d'Europe occidentale au début du Moyen Âge Au travers d'un examen approfondi de manuscrits individuels de groupes de manuscrits et de catégories de textes le docteur McKitterick démontre l'utilisation qui peut en être faite afin de clarifier un certain nombre de questions dont les femmes et l'alphabetisation la connaissance du droit canon et scolaire ainsi que la contribution anglaise la culture religieuse de continent Certaines des études s'attachent plus spécifiquement à la paléographie et aux résultats de certains scriptoria d'autres examinent avant tout le fait même de la production la dissémination des textes et leurs implications quant à l'histoire intellectuelle et culturelle Bookrolls and Scribes in Oxyrhynchus William

Allen Johnson,2004-01-01 Close analysis of formal and conventional features of the bookrolls not only provides detailed information on the bookroll industry but also in turn suggests some intriguing questions and provisional answers about the ways in which the use and function of the bookroll among ancient readers may differ from modern or medieval practice

Collaborative Learning Frank Fischer,Ingo Kollar,Heinz Mandl,Jörg M. Haake,2007-04-08 Research on Computer Supported Collaborative Learning CSCL is a multidisciplinary field located at the intersection of cognitive psychology computer science and education Yet the different epistemological and theoretical backgrounds of these disciplines often make fruitful exchange between them difficult CSCL urgently needs to develop and use boundary concepts that can bring these fields closer together to improve cumulative research and development of computer supported learning environments Scripting Computer Supported Collaborative Learning focuses on one term with the potential to become a real boundary concept in CSCL scripting Scripting Computer Supported Collaborative Learning which has collected advanced script approaches demonstrates the opportunities for using synergy to apply the script concept between perspectives and interdisciplinary CSCL approaches to scripting This volume represents the state of the art of research on scripting computer supported collaborative learning and provides a starting point for the development of a common understanding of scripting in CSCL Research on collaboration scripts has an extraordinary potential for advancing the multidisciplinary endeavor of CSCL research and this book provides a rich basis for further exploring and realizing this potential As such it will be a valuable resource for research development and teaching Literary Papyri from the Bodleian Library and Other Collections (P.Lit.Var.) Lucio Del Corso ,Raffaele Luiselli,2025-04-16 This volume collects 20 Greek and Latin literary papyri mostly unpublished which are housed in several collections some belong to the Bodleian Library Oxford others are kept in Institutions scattered all around the world the Biblioteca Medicea Laurenziana Florence the Biblioth que de Geneve the Library of Columbia University New York and finally the IFAO Cairo The variety of the institutions holding the papyri is matched by the rich diversity of contents book formats and scripts The contained texts range from prose to poetry from erudition to astrology and divination Moreover they come from a wide geographical area in the Egyptian chora and range in date from the early Ptolemaic period to Late Antiquity

The Bible as Book Paul Henry Saenger, Kimberly Van Kampen, 1999 This second volume in the series deals with the effects of early printing on the text format and use of the Bible and investigates the unique features of various editions of 15th century printed Bible as well as the social political and technological circumstances under which they were produced

Forms of the "medieval" in the "Renaissance" George Hugo Tucker, 2000

The Middle English Book Michael Johnston, 2023-07-25 The monograph series Oxford Studies in Medieval Literature and Culture showcases the plurilingual and multicultural quality of medieval literature and actively seeks to promote research that not only focuses on the array of subjects medievalists now pursue in literature theology and philosophy in social political jurisprudential and intellectual history the history of art and the history of science but also that combines these subjects productively It offers innovative studies on topics that may include but are not limited to manuscript and book history languages and literatures of the global Middle Ages race and the post colonial the digital humanities media and performance music medicine the history of affect and the emotions the literature and practices of devotion the theory and history of gender and sexuality ecocriticism and the environment theories of aesthetics medievalism The Middle English Book addresses a series of questions about the copying and circulation of literature in late medieval England How do we make sense of the variety of manuscripts surviving from this period Who copied and disseminated these diverse manuscripts Who read the literary texts that they transmit And what was the relationship between those copying literature and those reading it To answer these questions this book examines 202 literary manuscripts from the period 1350 to 1500 First this study suggests that most surviving manuscripts fall into four categories depending on the proximity and relationship of that manuscript s scribes and readers But beyond proposing these new categories this book also looks at the history of writing practices and demonstrates the ubiquity of bureaucracies within late medieval England As a result The Middle English Book argues that literary production was a decentered affair one that took place within these numerous modest yet complex bureaucracies But this book also argues that because literary production arose in such scattered bureaucracies manuscripts were local products produced within the cultural and economic milieu of their users Manuscripts thus form a fundamentally different sort of cultural artefact than the printed books with which we are familiar a form of centralized urbanized and commercialized textual production that was just over the historical horizon in late medieval England
