Generational Curse Or Generational Ignorance? Trina Houseton, 2012-04-08 A Generational Curse is never a good thing Conversely it is an ideology that is often synonymous with African Americans The author expresses personal views experiences and research to address topics that are increasingly affecting African Americans such as broken Family homes Crimes Education Priorities and a disconnect from God The book also includes Scriptural themes a Self Check Guide and Suggested Readings Excerpt from Introduction With the election of U S President Barack Obama and as the recent recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize I felt compelled to challenge or at least dismiss the notion of a Generational Curse How is this possible when each generation is presumed to do better than the last At what point or generation is it no longer a Curse but rather shameless Ignorance Are some African Americans using a Curse as an ongoing Excuse Atlanta ,2004-03

straightforward advance dignity promote well being minimize suffering Sounds simple right Actually acting ethically when it really matters is rarely straightforward If someone engaged in change oriented work sets out to do good how should we prioritize and evaluate whose good counts And how ought we act once we have decided whose good counts Practitioners frequently confront dilemmas where dire situations may demand some form of response but each of the options may have undesirable consequences of one form or another Dilemmas are not merely ordinary problems they are wicked problems that is to say they are defined by circumstances that only allow for suboptimal outcomes and are based on profound and sometimes troubling trade offs Wicked Problems argues that the field of peacebuilding and conflict transformation needs a stronger and more practical sense of its ethical obligations For example it argues against posing false binaries between domestic and international issues and against viewing violence and conflict as equivalents It holds strategic nonviolence up to critical scrutiny and shows that do no harm approaches may in fact do harm The contributors include scholars scholar practitioners in the field and activists on the streets and the chapters cover the role of violence in conflict conflict and violence prevention and resolution humanitarianism community organizing and racial justice social movements human rights advocacy transitional justice political reconciliation and peace education and pedagogy among other topics Drawing on the lived experiences and expertise of activists educators and researchers Wicked Problems equips readers to ask and answer difficult questions about social change work Ebony, 1993-05 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine

Baldwin, Vicki L. Crawford, 2019 Reclaiming the Great World House in the 21st Century Cross Disciplinary Explorations of the Vision of Martin Luther King Jr does just that Established and emerging scholars explore Martin Luther King Jr's global vision and his lasting relevance to a globalized rights culture The editors further explain that this edited collection looks at King afresh in his own historical context while also refocusing his legacy of ideas and social praxis in broader directions for today and tomorrow Employing King's metaphor of the great world house with major attention to racism poverty and war or what he called the evil triumvirate the focus is on King s appraisal of and approach to the global human struggle in the 1950s and 60s and on the extent to which his social witness and praxis takes on new hues and pertinence not only in the ongoing struggles against racism poverty and economic injustice and violence and human destruction but also in the mounting efforts to eliminate problems such sexism homophobia and religious bigotry and intolerance from the global landscape The conclusion is that King s ideas and models of social protest are not only alive but also growing in vitality and popularity in the 21st century especially as humans worldwide are struggling daily with the lingering antiquated thinking and behavior around race and ethnicity the widening gap between the haves and the have nots the mounting cycles of violence torture and terrorism and the frustrating and growing chasms resulting from religious pluralism and the subordination and marginalization of certain sectors of the human family based on gender and sexuality Annual Report Prepared for the President of the United States and the United States Congress United States.
