Pemberton, 2012-10-24 In 1971 in the southwestern area of the Roman Forum of Corinth a round bottomed drainage channel was discovered filled with the largest deposit of pottery of the 4th century ever found in the city some coins terracotta figurines and metal and stone objects This volume publishes the pottery and metal and stone objects and includes a re examination of the coins by Orestes Zervos Some of the cooking ware has been subjected to neutron activation analysis and a statistical analysis of all recovered pottery has been completed The contents of Drain 1971 1 are important for the function of the Classical buildings in this part of Corinth especially Buildings I and II and for the chronology of the renovation program that included the construction of the South Stoa which was probably not built before the last decade of the 4th century Reading 1 Corinthians J. Brian Tucker, 2017-08-23 First Corinthians offers readers a window into the social life and setting of an early Christ movement congregation The Apostle Paul s practical guidance to the Corinthians living in a Roman colony overlaps with many contemporary concerns identity leadership sexuality gender diversity worship theology and economics All too often however the letter is read in an individualistic and supersessionistic way Furthermore parts of the letter are lifted out of their original context and applied in ways foreign to that setting This book reads the letter through the lens of social identity theory a leading social scientific method for understanding the New Testament This reading strategy is supported by a post supersessionist perspective in which the church is not thought to replace Israel as God s people The aim of this book is to introduce non specialists to this fascinating letter in a way that highlights the current research into the social context of Corinth It offers relevant discussion questions and an identity critical reading of 1 Corinthians that shows Paul s interest in three key themes identity ethics and ethos The Murder of Regilla Sarah B Pomeroy, 2009-06-30 Born to an illustrious Roman family in 125 BCE Regilla was married at the age of fifteen to Herodes a wealthy Greek Twenty years later and eight months pregnant with her sixth child Regilla died under mysterious circumstances after a blow to the abdomen delivered by Herodes s freedman Though Herodes was charged he was acquitted Pomeroy s investigation suggests that despite Herodes s erection of numerous monuments to his deceased wife he was in fact guilty of the crime The Educated Elite in 1 Corinthians Robert Dutch, 2005-06-20 This book examines the educated elite in 1 Corinthians through the development and application of an ancient education model The research reads Paul s text within the social world of early Christianity and uses social scientific criticism in reconstructing a model that is appropriate for first century Corinth Pauline scholars have used models to reconstruct elite education but this study highlights their oversight in recognising the relevancy of the Greek Gymnasium for education Topics are examined in 1 Corinthians to demonstrate where the model advances an understanding of Paul s interaction with the elite Corinthian Christians in the context of community conflict This study demonstrates the important contribution that this ancient education model makes in interpreting 1 Corinthians in a Graeco Roman context This is Volume 271 of JSNTS

Women Praying and Prophesying in Corinth Jill E. Marshall, 2017-09-15 In First Corinthians Paul makes two conflicting statements about women's speech He crafts a difficult argument about whether men and women should cover their heads while praying or prophesying 11:2-16 and instructs women to be silent in the assembly 14:34-35 These two statements bracket an extended discussion about inspired modes of speech prophecy and prayer in tongues From these exegetical observations Jill E Marshall argues that gender is a central issue throughout 1 Corinthians 11:14 and the religious speaking practices that prompted Paul's response She situates Paul's arguments about prayer and prophecy within their ancient Mediterranean cultural context using literary and archaeological evidence and examines the differences in how ancient writers described prophetic speech when voiced by a man or a woman
