Corinthian Conventionalizing Pottery:

Corinthian Conventionalizing Pottery Martha K. Risser, 2001 Corinthian Conventionalizing pottery is a fineware produced during the 6th 4th century BC consisting primarily of black and red bands patterns and floral motifs decorating the surface of the vessel The Corinthian Pottery Arcadia Kocybala, 1999 Corinth Harold North Fowler, American School of Classical Studies (Athēnai), 2001 The Red-figure Pottery Sharon Herbert, 1977 Inferior clays and glazes unsuited to the red figure style means that the indigenous production of red figure vases in Corinth was very limited However for about 75 years in the middle of the 5th century B C Corinthian potters tried to imitate the Athenian fashion and this book catalogues 186 pieces of their work The author discusses the reasons for the production of Corinthian red figure even in limited quantities Six painters are identified as responsible for at least half the known pieces Thirteen deposits provide chronological evidence to supplement that of the painting style The volume serves to bring forward a small but significant segment of the non Attic pottery industries and should stimulate interest in other unpublished unreported examples All items in the catalogue are illustrated in photographs line drawings are used to demonstrate details of technique Corinth, the Centenary, 1896-1996 Charles K. Williams, Nancy Bookidis, 2003 Twenty five papers presented at the December 1996 symposium held in Athens to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the American School of Classical Studies excavations at ancient Corinth The papers are intended to illustrate the range in subject matter of research currently being undertaken by scholars of ancient Corinth and their inclusion in one volume will serve as a useful reference work for nonspecialists Each of the topics which vary widely from Corinthian geology to religious practices to Byzantine pottery is presented by the acknowledged expert in that area The book includes a full general bibliography of articles and volumes concerning material excavated at Corinth As a summary of one hundred years research it will be useful to generations of scholars to come Late Classical Pottery from Ancient Corinth Ian McPhee, Elizabeth G. Pemberton, 2012-10-24 In 1971 in the southwestern area of the Roman Forum of Corinth a round bottomed drainage channel was discovered filled with the largest deposit of pottery of the 4th century ever found in the city some coins terracotta figurines and metal and stone objects This volume publishes the pottery and metal and stone objects and includes a re examination of the coins by Orestes Zervos Some of the cooking ware has been subjected to neutron activation analysis and a statistical analysis of all recovered pottery has been completed The contents of Drain 1971 1 are important for the function of the Classical buildings in this part of Corinth especially Buildings I and II and for the chronology of the renovation program that included the construction of the South Stoa which was probably not built before the last decade of the 4th century Corinthian Conventionalizing Pottery Martha Kay Risser, 1989 Archaic Corinthian Pottery and the Anaploga Well Darrell Arlynn Amyx, Patricia Lawrence, 1975 In the first section of this book Amyx catalogues and discusses more than 200 fragments of Archaic Corinthian pottery with figure decoration selected from those previously unpublished or inadequately published The authors have also given attention to vase painters of the Protocorinthian and Corinthian periods who were previously known chiefly from works exported in antiquity and have succeeded in establishing the importance of the Corinth Museum as a center for the study of the Corinthian Style In the second section Lawrence presents the contents of a well dug and filled in the Archaic period The material ranges from Early Protocorinthian to Late Corinthian and includes an important body of material from a potters dump here treated separately Shape development and chronology have been established especially for oinochoai and kotylai based on the long series of stratified examples Other material in the fill includes coarse ware and fragmentary fine ware The authors attribute a number of pieces to known and newly identified vase painters Hellenistic Pottery Sarah A.

James,2018-08-20 Using deposits recently excavated from the Panayia Field this volume substantially revises the absolute chronology of Corinthian Hellenistic pottery as established by G Roger Edwards in Corinth VII 3 1975 This new research based on quantitative analysis of over 50 deposits demonstrates that the date range for most fine ware shapes should be lowered by 50 100 years Contrary to previous assumptions it is now possible to argue that local ceramic production continued in Corinth during the interim period between the destruction of the city in 146 B C and when it was refounded as a Roman colony in 44 B C This volume includes detailed shape studies and a comprehensive catalogue With its presentation of this revised Panayia Field chronology Corinth VII 7 is a long awaited and much needed addition to the Corinth series

Potters at Work in Ancient Corinth Eleni Hasaki,2022-02-22 An unparalleled assemblage of Archaic black figure painted pinakes plaques was uncovered near Penteskouphia a village west of ancient Corinth over a century ago The pinakes represented by over 1 200 fragments and their depictions of gods warriors animals and the potters themselves provide a uniquely rich source of information about Greek art technology and society In this volume the findspot of the pinakes is identified in a contribution by Ioulia Tzonou and James Herbst and the assemblage as a whole is fully contextualized within the Archaic world Then by focusing specifically on the images of potters at work the author illuminates the relationship between Corinthian and Athenian art the technology used in ancient pottery production and religious anxiety in the 6th century B C The first comprehensive register of all known Penteskouphia pinakes complements the well illustrated discussion

The Regional Production of Red Figure Pottery Stine Schierup,Victoria Sabetai,2014-10-27 In the latter part of the fifth century BC regional red figure productions were established outside Attica in regional Greece and in the western Mediterranean propelled by the impact of the art of Attic vase painting This collection of papers addresses key issues posed by these production centres Why did they emerge To what degree was their inception prompted by the emigration of Attic craftsmen in the context of the weakened Attic pottery market at the onset of the Peloponnesian War How did Attic vase painting influence already existing traditions and what was selected adopted or adapted at the receiving end Who was using red figure in mainland Greece and Italy and what were its particular functions in the local cultures These and more questions are addressed here with the presentation not only of syntheses but also primary publication of much newly discovered material Regional production centres covered include those of Euboea Boeotia Corinth Laconia Macedonia Ambracia Lucania Apulia Sicily Locri and Etruria

The Greek Tile Works at Corinth Gloria S. Merker, 2006 A series of kilns at ancient Corinth known as the Tile Works are given final publication in this awaited book based on excavations conducted in 1939 and 1940 The book describes the kilns and their products with a discussion of fabrics and techniques of manufacture moving on to typology and dating

The Ancient Theatre at Kalydon in Aitolia Rune Frederiksen, Olympia Vikatou, 2023-08-24 The theatre at Kalydon in Aitolia known only since a few decades has already attracted a lot of attention due to its square orchestra and rectilinear benches for seating The Danish Greek collaborative project responsible for investigating the theatre presents in this two volume publication results of the excavation and documentation including all finds such as tile pottery metals and coins made during the excavations The traditional analysis of the building is supplemented by an archaeoacoustic analysis comparing acoustic advantages and disadvantages between the square and semicircular design

The Sanctuary of Demeter and Kore Nancy Bookidis, Elizabeth G. Pemberton, 2015-09-30 This volume continues the publication of excavations conducted by the American School of Classical Studies at Athens in the Sanctuary of Demeter and Kore on Acrocorinth It incorporates two bodies of material Greek lamps and offering trays The lamps include those made from the 7th through 2nd centuries B C together with a few Roman examples not included in Corinth XVIII 2 They served to provide light and to accompany the rites of sacrifice The offering trays differ from the liknon type offering trays published by A Brumfield they support a variety of vessels rather than types of food and had a symbolic function in the Sanctuary rituals They are extremely common in the Sanctuary and only rarely attested elsewhere

The Historical Greek Village Brice L. Erickson, 2018-10-22 This volume presents the Protogeometric through Hellenistic material ca 970 175 B C from ASCSA excavations conducted in the 1950s at Lerna in the Argolid one of the most important prehistoric sites in Greece The material derives from two main sources burials from a Geometric cemetery near the settlement and Late Archaic Classical and Hellenistic wells from the mound proper Although the material consists primarily of pottery and other ceramic finds it also includes human remains animal bones and shells coins inscriptions and bronze and stone objects Heather Graybehl provides a petrographic analysis Mark L Lawall discusses the transport amphoras and import patterns David S Reese presents the faunal material and David Scahill presents and catalogues two Doric capitals This study not only gives scholars greater insight into ceramic developments in the Argolid it brings much needed focus to the material culture of a historic settlement not known for strategic trading politics or military prowess Lerna VIII will greatly facilitate comparative studies with other modestly sized communities in ancient Greece

Tombs, Burials, and Commemoration in Corinth's Northern Cemetery Kathleen Warner Slane, 2017-05-31 Rescue excavations were carried out along the terrace north of Ancient Corinth by Henry Robinson the director of the Corinth Excavations and the American School of Classical Studies at Athens on behalf of the Greek Archaeological Service in 1961 and 1962 They revealed 70 tile graves limestone sarcophagi and cremation burials the last are rare in Corinth before the Julian colony and seven chamber tombs also rare before the Roman period The burials ranged in date from the 5th century B C to the 6th century A D and about 240 skeletons were preserved for study This volume publishes the results of these excavations and examines the evidence for changing burial practices in the Greek city Roman colony and Christian town Documented are single graves and deposits the Robinson Painted Tomb two more hypogea and four built chamber tombs Ethne Barnes describes the human skeletal remains and David Reese discusses the animal bones found in the North Terrace tombs The author further explores the architecture of the chamber tombs as well as cemeteries burial practices and funeral customs in ancient Corinth One appendix addresses a Roman chamber tomb at nearby Hexamilia excavated in 1937 the second by David Jordan the lead tablets from a chamber tomb and its well Concordances grave index numbers Corinth inventory numbers and indexes follow This study will be of interest to classicists historians of several periods and scholars studying early Christianity

The Sanctuary of Demeter and Kore Sonia Klinger, 2022-01-03 This volume presents the terracotta miscellaneous finds from the Sanctuary of Demeter and Kore at Acrocorinth The finds comprise 21 classes including protomes and masks altars plaques models of various personal and household items and loomweights and other textile tools the latter initially studied by Gloria S Merker and brought to publication by Nancy Bookidis In addition to providing a catalogue of the finds arranged according to their subjects the authors compare these finds with similar objects found elsewhere in Greece and refer to literary epigraphical and visual sources to understand their possible uses and meanings and the character of religious activity that may have triggered their dedication in the sanctuary This volume will greatly facilitate comparative studies of ancient Greek miscellaneous finds and will be an important reference for historians of Greek art as well as of Greek religion

The Sanctuary of Demeter and Kore Ronald S. Stroud, 2013-09-30 Excavations conducted by the American School of Classical Studies at Athens in the Sanctuary of Demeter and Kore on Acrocorinth 1961 1975 produced more than 170 inscribed objects of stone bronze bone lead weights pottery graffiti and dipinti clay pinakes magical lead tablets and in a mosaic In this new Corinth volume Ron Stroud presents all of these inscriptions and he relates them to an overall interpretation of the activities secular and religious attested in this shrine during its long period of use from the 7th century B C until the end of the 4th century A D Where possible Stroud also draws out their implications for and contribution to the history of ancient Corinth the worship of the goddesses Demeter and Kore and the practice of magic especially in the Roman period This is the final publication of the inscribed objects from the sanctuary excluding loomweights and stamped amphora handles which will be included in a later publication
